BILL GOES TO JFK

House Approves Hike In Postal Rates, U.S. Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed Friday a compromise bill to increase postal rates $600 million a year and at the same time raise salaries of government workers $1.05 billion a year in two steps.

House action, delayed earlier on a technicality, sent the measure to President Kennedy. He had asked both the postal rate increase and a sweeping revision of the federal salary structure.

The major provision affecting the general public will be an increase in letter mail rates next Jan. 7. First-class letters will require a five-cent stamp, airmail eight cents and post cards four cents—a one-cent increase in each instance. These will bring in an added $437.8 million a year.

OTHER INCREASES

Other rate increases for newspapers, magazines and advertising material would be spread over three years, starting in January.

Pay raises for 1.6 million government workers would become effective with the first pay period after Kennedy signs the bill. A second increase would take effect Jan. 1, 1964.

Amounts of the raises vary widely among different jobs, but they average about 10 per cent for a million executive and office workers and slightly over 11 per cent for 600,000 postal employes.

The bill also would authorize—subject to later appropriations—a 5 per cent increase in benefits of retired government workers effective next Jan. 1. This section was changed to an authorization rather than a firm increase to overcome an objection which blocked House passage Thursday.

The pay bill sets up a sweeping revision of the federal salary structure, including a provision designed to link federal salaries with those paid in private industry for comparable work.

This provides for an annual review of salaries in private industry, and machinery to keep government salaries in step.

The salary increases provided by the bill vary widely among the 38 job classifications, each with 13 steps, ranging from about 5 per cent to 21 per cent, and from about $400 a year to $3,500 a year.

MRS. ROBERT EWING JR.

Death Claims Mrs. Ewing; Rites Sunday

Mrs. Robert Ewing, Jr., wife of the chairman of the board of the Monroe Morning World and News-Star, died at her home in New Orleans at 1:20 p.m. Friday following a lengthy illness.

She was 54.

Her husband and daughter, Mrs. Patricia Ewing deBerardinis, Shreveport, were with her at her home at 5231 St. Charles Ave. at the time of her death.

Mrs. Ewing, the former Isabelle LaFonta, was born May 8, 1908, in New Orleans, the daughter of the late Lucie Avegno and Edward LaFonta. She was educated at secondary schools in New Orleans and attended Newcomb College.

SERVICES

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at Bultman Mortuary in New Orleans with the Rev. Murphy Ross, S. J., of the Holy Name of Jesus Catholic Church, officiating. Burial will follow in Metairie Cemetery in New Orleans.

Survivors in addition to her husband and daughter, include two aunts, Miss Germaine Avegno and Mrs. Harold LeJeune, both of New Orleans; three grandsons, Robert Ewing deBerardinis, Nicholas William deBerardinis Jr., and David Dow deBerardinis, all of Shreveport, and one cousin, Mrs. J. C. Jung, New Orleans.

Precinct Changes In Effect

Changes in voting precincts in Ouachita Parish involving wards one, two, three and 10 will be effective for the first time for the general election Nov. 6.

Ward 10 has been reduced from 15 to 12 precincts, and ward three from 12 to 10 precincts.

Ward three now has three precincts with the addition of one new precinct, while one precinct has been added in ward two which previously had only one precinct.

Mrs. Mae Lucky, parish registrar of voters, said the changes in precincts were made by the Parish Police Jury in an ordinance which becomes effective Nov. 1.

She pointed out that the changes have reduced the total number of precincts in the parish from 51 to 48.

"This is the first major change in our voting precincts in the parish in more than 10 years," Mrs. Lucky said.

She explained that the reduction in precincts in wards three and 10 came about because some of the precincts had less than the required 200 voters.

In ward three, precincts one, two and three have been combined and will be listed as precinct one. All voters in the new precinct will vote at the parish courthouse. Voters in precinct two formerly voted in the Civil Defense building, while those in precinct three voted at Bosely's

Bishop's Home Bomb Target

The device went off in a maid's quarters. There was no one in the room, which has a barred window facing Madison Avenue at the corner of 51st Street in mid-Manhattan.

The residence is on the grounds of St. Patrick's Cathedral, located between Fifth and Madison Avenues between 50th and 51st Streets.

Naval Clerk Indicted For Treason Acts

Accused Of Sale Of U.S. Defense Secrets To Reds

NEW YORK (AP) — Cornelius Drummond, a veteran of 16 years in the United States Navy, was indicted Friday on federal charges of selling a vast and varied store of the nation's defense secrets to the Soviet Union. He faces the death penalty if convicted.

Drummond was said by federal officials to have maintained a cloak-and-dagger pipeline to Moscow by means of at least four secretaries at the Soviet mission to the United Nations. He was arrested Sept. 28 with two of the Russians.

SECRETS SOLD

A grand jury indictment catalogued more than a dozen types of data which Drummond was accused of turning over to Soviet agents in return for American dollars. A government spokesman said subjects covered included naval weapons, submarine maintenance information, and electronics secrets.

U.S. Atty. Vincent L. Broderick said conspirators in the alleged plot used cufflinks with horsehead figurines as means of identification, and cloaked their real identities under code names and aliases.

As much as $6,000 changed hands at a time in the under-the-counter transactions. Despite a naval salary of only $120.95 a month, Drummond was described as a man with plenty of money to spend.

Named as coconspirators in the indictment were four secretaries of the Soviet mission to the United Nations, including two who were taken into custody with Drummond at a diner in Larchmont, N. Y.

Arms Use In Berlin Endorsed

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The House voted unanimously Friday to give President Kennedy full support in whatever steps are necessary to protect U.S. rights in Berlin, including the use of American fighting men. The vote was 311 to 0.

Rep. Walter H. Judd, R-Minn., said Democrats and Republicans were joining "in one voice" to warn Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that he "must not make the mistake of overreaching himself—because if he does—the United States will go to war."

The fight-if-we-must resolution was rushed to the Senate so that Congress could go on record before it goes home for the year.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., sponsor of the resolution—the first of its kind on Berlin—said the Russians have been stepping up their threats and won't be happy until the city is under their "complete subjugation."

"It is a bone sticking in Khrushchev's throat," he declared. "He wants to force the Allies out, but this resolution tells him and the world that America stands united in its determination to stay there."

Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said Americans "have to face the fact that the Soviets are likely to stir up a new crisis in Berlin before Congress comes back in January."

BOY WHIPPING CASE

2 Teachers Found Guilty Of Assault

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)— Two teachers, accused of whipping an 8-year-old boy, were convicted of assault Friday by a judge who sharply criticized the school's punishment policies.

Nancy Gregory, 19, and Sara E. Hose, 31, were found guilty of assault, after a four-hour trial before Judge D. Kenneth McLaughlin in Washington County Circuit Court. Sentencing was deferred, probably until next week.

The teachers were charged with paddling Allen Marshall Ruck of Hagerstown, a student at a church-operated Truth for Youth School, last June 22. The boy was admitted to Washington County Hospital, where he remained until July 12.

Dr. John Moran, who treated the first-grade pupil at the hospital, said the boy walked with a limp, and had a black eye, bruises on the right side of the jaw and neck, and massive contusions of both buttocks and the rear of both thighs.

"A school like this should not continue to exist under the present tenets and principles as to punishment," Judge McLaughlin said. "The State Board of Education should investigate the situation."

In Baltimore, Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr., state superintendent of schools, said, "If Judge McLaughlin will direct us to step in, we will be very happy to comply."

"I agree that statewide jurisdiction over such schools is long overdue. But, technically and legally we cannot investigate without a directive from a judge or the legislature."

Shot, Booes Break Calm At Ole Miss

No One Is Hurt; Meredith Leaves On Weekend Trip

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—A booing crowd of students and a report of gunshots shattered the mood of easing tensions on the University of Mississippi campus Friday.

Still, there were signs that federal officials, holding a tight grip on the situation, feel that crackling sense of danger is letting up.

LEAVES CAMPUS

The developments came near the end of Negro James H. Meredith's first week as a student at previously all-white Ole Miss.

The 29-year-old Meredith left the campus late Friday for the weekend—destination unannounced, but believed to be a meeting with his wife and perhaps their 2-year-old son.

Still under guard of federal marshals remembering the night of rioting that followed his appearance on the campus last Sunday, Meredith ate breakfast and lunch in the school cafeteria and went through his round of classes.

The report of shots fired at an Army vehicle carrying three or four soldiers came in just as the school day was nearing its end.

Nobody was hurt. FBI agents began an investigation.

First reports from soldiers said five shots were fired. But a later report said only one shot was heard.

The report of gunfire was the first since the rioting on the campus Sunday night and in the town square Monday.

Nine Are Killed In Train Wreck; Several Injured

DIJON, France (AP) — Nine persons were killed and about 25 injured late Friday in a train wreck near here. A potentially worse accident was averted when a third train was stopped just short of the wreckage.

The victims were on the fast, light diesel-electric train called the Cisalpin. It had stopped at Dijon and then proceeded on the run from Milan, Italy, to Paris.

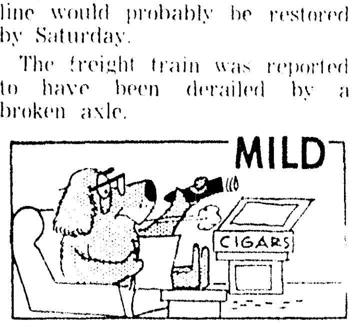
Just after passing through the station of Montbard, 35 miles northwest of Dijon and 120 miles southeast of Paris, the three-car train crashed into a tank car of a Dijon-bound freight that had derailed seconds earlier on parallel tracks.

Minutes later, another rapid passenger train called the Aquilon heading for Dijon on the same tracks as the freight, was able to stop just in time.

The smashup tore up some 200 yards of track and knocked down two electric power pylons, cutting traffic in both directions on the busy rail line.

Officials said the collision site was near the town of St. Remy only a few miles from Montbard, on the way from Dijon to Paris. They said traffic on at least one line would probably be restored by Saturday.

The freight train was reported to have been derailed by a broken axle.



The weatherman predicts another warm day today following Friday's "scorching" 92 - degree high mark. The high today is expected to range between 85 and 89 degrees under mostly clear skies.

The clear and mild weather is predicted to continue through tonight, running into Sunday when scattered showers are possible around the area.

Friday's low reading was 51 degrees and tonight's low is expected to be somewhere between 58 and 62.

Grads Gather At Northeast Homecoming

Observance of the event will begin this morning with a parade through Monroe and West Monroe and ends this evening with a dance in Gunby Dining Hall following the football game between the Indians and Northwestern in Brown Stadium.

In between, Monroe's college will show off the many new buildings on its campus, including the beautiful College Union Building opened yesterday; honor the classes of 1942, 1952 and 1962 as well as the first group to enter the school in 1931; and crown its homecoming queen, Miss Joelle Smith of DeRidder.

ELECTION

Alumni will elect new officers in a business meeting from 4:30 to 6 p.m. in the College Union auditorium on the second floor and hold their annual dinner at 6:15 in the dining hall.

Activities get started this morning at 9 when floats and cars in the parade leave the campus to line up along Riverside Drive. The parade will begin from Riverside at 10.

Open house will be observed at all dormitories from 3 to 4:30 this afternoon with the College Union Building also open for inspection.

The honor classes will meet in the College Union from 4 to 4:30 with the 1962 graduates in room 205, the 1952 class in 207, the 1942 class in 209 and the 1931 group in 210.

Pre - game activities will begin at 7:40 tonight in Brown Stadium with the arrival of the queen and her court. Members of Queen Joelle's court are Maid of Honor Judy Reagan of Monroe and Maids Charlotte Goodrum of West Monroe, Betsy McBride of

GIANTS SQUARE SERIES

Sanford Blanks Yanks On 3 Hits

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jack Sanford overpowered the New York Yankees with a three-hit, 2-0 shutout Friday as the San Francisco Giants squared the World Series with the New York Yankees at one game each.

The sturdy right-hander let only two Yankees reach second base, and one of them had to steal it, in blanking the defending world champs for the first time in Series play since Milwaukee's Warren Spahn did the job, Oct. 5, 1958.

A tremendous 450-foot home run in the seventh by Willie McCovey, playing first base in place of the slumping Orlando Cepeda, gave Sanford an insurance run to back up the run the Giants got off Ralph Terry in the first.

TOP WINNER

Sanford, the top winner on the weary Giant staff with a 24-7 record, actually had the only run he needed in the very first inning as his overhand fast ball kept the Yanks under control all the way.

Until McCovey slammed his towering drive over the right field fence, it appeared that the run would decide the game. Chuck Hiller, leading off for the Giants, drove a long fly ball to right field on Terry's second pitch. Roger Maris raced after the ball and got it in his glove but couldn't hold it as he rammed into the right field wall.

Hiller wound up on second base with a double. Felipe Alou moved Hiller to third with a sacrifice and Matty Alou, his kid brother, grounded to Bobby Richardson, Hiller scoring on the play.

This was a tremendous comeback for Sanford who had been taken out of the second playoff game Tuesday with a 5-0 lead and

Senator Says Barnett Had Right To Act

CHICAGO (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater said Friday Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett "had every right to do what he did" in the case of James Meredith and President Kennedy should not have used troops to force the Negro's admission to the University of Mississippi.

The Arizona Republican said Barnett was within his rights in resisting Meredith's attempts to integrate the old Southern school because the U. S. Supreme Court decision involved "is not the law of the land."

"I don't like what Governor Barnett did," Goldwater said at a news conference. "But he had every right to do it under the constitution."

Goldwater, in Chicago to address an Illinois Chamber of Commerce meeting, said Kennedy should not have massed troops in Oxford, Miss., to overpower segregationists opposed to Meredith's enrollment in "Ole Miss."

"The President promised never to use troops" in integration disputes, Goldwater said. "He's gone back on his word."

IN ACCIDENTAL FALL

Passman Suffers Broken Shoulder

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Otto Passman, who is spearheading a drive to trim the foreign aid appropriations bill, slipped in his office Friday and broke his left shoulder in three places.

The accident may keep the Louisiana Democrat from a special Saturday session of the House when the $3,928,900,000 measure is up for final consideration.

Attendants at Bethesda Naval Hospital said they doubted that Passman would be able to return to the Capitol Saturday, but he disagreed.

In a telephone interview, he said:

"Come hell or high water, I will be there at noon tomorrow. This is a good bill and I am going to defend every word of it. The doctor said I should not return to work tomorrow. I have over-ruled him."

The House had ordered an unusual Saturday session to dispose of the annual foreign aid appropriation measure.

House leaders feared that delaying action until next week might jeopardize the bill because of absenteeism.

Passman, the bill's manager, was prepared to defend a cut of more than half a billion dollars from the amount requested by the president.

The aid agreement was reached after the conferees worked on a compromise crackdown on help to certain Iron Curtain countries and nations trading with Communist-dominated Cuba. In effect, the bill would withhold military aid to such nations but let the President send them such nonstrategic items as food if he deemed it in the national interest.

100 Reds Die In Fighting Near Saigon

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — Communist guerrilla ground fire killed a U.S. Army helicopter crew chief in a battle 42 miles south of Saigon Friday. Two other Americans were wounded.

Vietnamese military officials claimed at least 100 Communist Viet Cong guerrillas were killed in the battle near Tan Hiep village on the fringe of the Plain of Reeds.

AIRLIFTING TROOPS

A U.S. military spokesman said the crew chief was killed as helicopters from the U.S. 57th Army Helicopter Company airlifted government troops into the battle.

The spokesman said another crew member was shot through the hand, and a U.S. Army captain, the pilot of a light observation plane, was hit in the leg by ground fire. The names of the three Americans were not released.

Two American helicopters were shot down in the action. One was repaired and returned to its base and the other awaited repairs in the field.

A combined air-ground operation, employing Vietnamese fighter bombers, hit the guerrillas. An infantry battalion and two helicopter-lifted ranger companies attacked the Viet Cong, as self-defense militia units moved to block the guerrillas' escape.

Eleven U.S. Army helicopters roared into the attack area at dawn, and were greeted by heavy ground fire even before reaching their objectives. American gunners in nearly all the battle-scarred H21s in the group blazed away with their 30-caliber machine guns, and tracer bullets churned the watery fields below into fountains.

Here and there running rebels fell and did not move again.

The government had received intelligence reports that several hundred Viet Cong regulars had moved into the area to reinforce

Tiny Isle Menaced By Daisy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fringe winds of Daisy, a 600-mile-wide mass of gales with a hard core center of winds of 100 mile an hour, socked the tiny Atlantic Ocean island of Bermuda on Friday night.

During the early evening the Weather Bureau said Daisy was bearing down on the little British possession at 10 miles an hour. At last report the eye of the storm was estimated to be near latitude 28.5 north, longitude 69.3 west.

Gale force winds blew 350 miles to the north and east of the center and 150 miles in all directions.

Forecasters predicted by Saturday Daisy would be moving at 17 miles per hour northeastward. Advance gales were lashing out 350 miles to the north and east and 85 miles to the southwest.

"This forecast track is in the direction of Bermuda," the Weather Bureau said. "It indicates that Hurricane Daisy offers no threat to the U.S. mainland.

"All interests in Bermuda should prepare for hurricane-force winds, rough seas, high tides and heavy rain Saturday with gales mainly in squalls beginning over the island Friday night."

A U.S. military spokesman said the crew chief was killed as helicopters from the U.S. 57th Army Helicopter Company airlifted government troops into the battle.

The spokesman said another crew member was shot through the hand, and a U.S. Army captain, the pilot of a light observation plane, was hit in the leg by ground fire. The names of the three Americans were not released.

Two American helicopters were shot down in the action. One was repaired and returned to its base and the other awaited repairs in the field.

A combined air-ground operation, employing Vietnamese fighter bombers, hit the guerrillas. An infantry battalion and two helicopter-lifted ranger companies attacked the Viet Cong, as self-defense militia units moved to block the guerrillas' escape.

Eleven U.S. Army helicopters roared into the attack area at dawn, and were greeted by heavy ground fire even before reaching their objectives. American gunners in nearly all the battle-scarred H21s in the group blazed away with their 30-caliber machine guns, and tracer bullets churned the watery fields below into fountains.

Here and there running rebels fell and did not move again.

The government had received intelligence reports that several hundred Viet Cong regulars had moved into the area to reinforce

Observance of the event will begin this morning with a parade through Monroe and West Monroe and ends this evening with a dance in Gunby Dining Hall following the football game between the Indians and Northwestern in Brown Stadium.

In between, Monroe's college will show off the many new buildings on its campus, including the beautiful College Union Building opened yesterday; honor the classes of 1942, 1952 and 1962 as well as the first group to enter the school in 1931; and crown its homecoming queen, Miss Joelle Smith of DeRidder.

ELECTION

Alumni will elect new officers in a business meeting from 4:30 to 6 p.m. in the College Union auditorium on the second floor and hold their annual dinner at 6:15 in the dining hall.

Activities get started this morning at 9 when floats and cars in the parade leave the campus to line up along Riverside Drive. The parade will begin from Riverside at 10.

Open house will be observed at all dormitories from 3 to 4:30 this afternoon with the College Union Building also open for inspection.

The honor classes will meet in the College Union from 4 to 4:30 with the 1962 graduates in room 205, the 1952 class in 207, the 1942 class in 209 and the 1931 group in 210.

Pre - game activities will begin at 7:40 tonight in Brown Stadium with the arrival of the queen and her court. Members of Queen Joelle's court are Maid of Honor Judy Reagan of Monroe and Maids Charlotte Goodrum of West Monroe, Betsy McBride of

Sanford Blanks Yanks On 3 Hits

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jack Sanford overpowered the New York Yankees with a three-hit, 2-0 shutout Friday as the San Francisco Giants squared the World Series with the New York Yankees at one game each.

The sturdy right-hander let only two Yankees reach second base, and one of them had to steal it, in blanking the defending world champs for the first time in Series play since Milwaukee's Warren Spahn did the job, Oct. 5, 1958.

A tremendous 450-foot home run in the seventh by Willie McCovey, playing first base in place of the slumping Orlando Cepeda, gave Sanford an insurance run to back up the run the Giants got off Ralph Terry in the first.

TOP WINNER

Sanford, the top winner on the weary Giant staff with a 24-7 record, actually had the only run he needed in the very first inning as his overhand fast ball kept the Yanks under control all the way.

Until McCovey slammed his towering drive over the right field fence, it appeared that the run would decide the game. Chuck Hiller, leading off for the Giants, drove a long fly ball to right field on Terry's second pitch. Roger Maris raced after the ball and got it in his glove but couldn't hold it as he rammed into the right field wall.

Hiller wound up on second base with a double. Felipe Alou moved Hiller to third with a sacrifice and Matty Alou, his kid brother, grounded to Bobby Richardson, Hiller scoring on the play.

This was a tremendous comeback for Sanford who had been taken out of the second playoff game Tuesday with a 5-0 lead and

Senator Says Barnett Had Right To Act

CHICAGO (UPI)—Sen. Barry Goldwater said Friday Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett "had every right to do what he did" in the case of James Meredith and President Kennedy should not have used troops to force the Negro's admission to the University of Mississippi.

The Arizona Republican said Barnett was within his rights in resisting Meredith's attempts to integrate the old Southern school because the U. S. Supreme Court decision involved "is not the law of the land."

"I don't like what Governor Barnett did," Goldwater said at a news conference. "But he had every right to do it under the constitution."

Goldwater, in Chicago to address an Illinois Chamber of Commerce meeting, said Kennedy should not have massed troops in Oxford, Miss., to overpower segregationists opposed to Meredith's enrollment in "Ole Miss."

"The President promised never to use troops" in integration disputes, Goldwater said. "He's gone back on his word."

IN ACCIDENTAL FALL

Passman Suffers Broken Shoulder

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Otto Passman, who is spearheading a drive to trim the foreign aid appropriations bill, slipped in his office Friday and broke his left shoulder in three places.

The accident may keep the Louisiana Democrat from a special Saturday session of the House when the $3,928,900,000 measure is up for final consideration.

Attendants at Bethesda Naval Hospital said they doubted that Passman would be able to return to the Capitol Saturday, but he disagreed.

In a telephone interview, he said:

"Come hell or high water, I will be there at noon tomorrow. This is a good bill and I am going to defend every word of it. The doctor said I should not return to work tomorrow. I have over-ruled him."

The House had ordered an unusual Saturday session to dispose of the annual foreign aid appropriation measure.

House leaders feared that delaying action until next week might jeopardize the bill because of absenteeism.

Passman, the bill's manager, was prepared to defend a cut of more than half a billion dollars from the amount requested by the president.

The aid agreement was reached after the conferees worked on a compromise crackdown on help to certain Iron Curtain countries and nations trading with Communist-dominated Cuba. In effect, the bill would withhold military aid to such nations but let the President send them such nonstrategic items as food if he deemed it in the national interest.

Senator Soaper Says

These magazine articles on the mood of the nation never make it clear whether they are measuring it on Monday morning or Saturday night.

Other living costs hold steady, but food goes up. This is a wonderful time to be alive if you don't eat.

Tilly studied Spanish in preparation for her long-time dream of spending a vacation in Cuba, and now she just doesn't feel like starting all over again to learn Russian.

America has so many beauty queens that it is as difficult to figure out who's in charge here as in some of our turbulent sister nations to the south.

Precinct Changes In Effect

Changes in voting precincts in Ouachita Parish involving wards one, two, three and 10 will be effective for the first time for the general election Nov. 6.

Ward 10 has been reduced from 15 to 12 precincts, and ward three from 12 to 10 precincts.

Ward three now has three precincts with the addition of one new precinct, while one precinct has been added in ward two which previously had only one precinct.

Mrs. Mae Lucky, parish registrar of voters, said the changes in precincts were made by the Parish Police Jury in an ordinance which becomes effective Nov. 1.

She pointed out that the changes have reduced the total number of precincts in the parish from 51 to 48.

"This is the first major change in our voting precincts in the parish in more than 10 years," Mrs. Lucky said.

She explained that the reduction in precincts in wards three and 10 came about because some of the precincts had less than the required 200 voters.

In ward three, precincts one, two and three have been combined and will be listed as precinct one. All voters in the new precinct will vote at the parish courthouse. Voters in precinct two formerly voted in the Civil Defense building, while those in precinct three voted at Bosely's

2 Teachers Found Guilty Of Assault

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Two teachers, accused of whipping an 8-year-old boy, were convicted of assault Friday by a judge who sharply criticized the school's punishment policies.

Nancy Gregory, 19, and Sara E. Hose, 31, were found guilty of assault, after a four-hour trial before Judge D. Kenneth McLaughlin in Washington County Circuit Court. Sentencing was deferred, probably until next week.

The teachers were charged with paddling Allen Marshall Ruck of Hagerstown, a student at a church-operated Truth for Youth School, last June 22. The boy was admitted to Washington County Hospital, where he remained until July 12.

Dr. John Moran, who treated the first-grade pupil at the hospital, said the boy walked with a limp, and had a black eye, bruises on the right side of the jaw and neck, and massive contusions of both buttocks and the rear of both thighs.

"A school like this should not continue to exist under the present tenets and principles as to punishment," Judge McLaughlin said. "The State Board of Education should investigate the situation."

In Baltimore, Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr, state superintendent of schools, said, "If Judge McLaughlin will direct us to step in, we will be very happy to comply."

"I agree that statewide jurisdiction over such schools is long overdue. But, technically and legally we cannot investigate without a directive from a judge or the legislature."

Bishop's Home Bomb Target

The device went off in a maid's quarters. There was no one in the room, which has a barred window facing Madison Avenue at the corner of 51st Street in mid-Manhattan.

The residence is on the grounds of St. Patrick's Cathedral, located between Fifth and Madison Avenues between 50th and 51st Streets.

Tiny Isle Menaced By Daisy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Fringe winds of Daisy, a 600-mile-wide mass of gales with a hard core center of winds of 100 mile an hour, socked the tiny Atlantic Ocean island of Bermuda on Friday night.

During the early evening the Weather Bureau said Daisy was bearing down on the little British possession at 10 miles an hour. At last report the eye of the storm was estimated to be near latitude 28.5 north, longitude 69.3 west.

Gale force winds blew 350 miles to the north and east of the center and 150 miles in all directions.

Forecasters predicted by Saturday Daisy would be moving at 17 miles per hour northeastward. Advance gales were lashing out 350 miles to the north and east and 85 miles to the southwest.

"This forecast track is in the direction of Bermuda," the Weather Bureau said. "It indicates that Hurricane Daisy offers no threat to the U.S. mainland.

"All interests in Bermuda should prepare for hurricane-force winds, rough seas, high tides and heavy rain Saturday with gales mainly in squalls beginning over the island Friday night."

Judge Given U.S. Report About Walker

WASHINGTON (AP) — The judge who ordered a psychiatric examination for Edwin A. Walker, former Army major general, had been told that Walker's medical history indicated "functional and psychosomatic disorders," it was learned Friday.

A government psychitrist also told the judge that news accounts of Walker's recent behavior reflected "sensitivity and essentially unpredictable and seemingly bizarre outbursts of the type often observed in individuals suffering with paranoid mental disorder."

These statements were contained in an affidavit signed by Dr. Charles E. Smith, medical director and chief psychiatrist of the Federal Bureau of Prisons.

James V. Bennett, director of the bureau, sent the affidavit to U.S. Dist. Judge Claude Clayton before the judge last Tuesday ordered a psychiatric examination for Walker.

Walker, arrested on insurrection and seditious conspiracy charges after Sunday night's racial riots at the University of Mississippi, is challenging the commitment order. His attorneys describe him as a political prisoner. The government has been given until Oct. 15 to show why the former general should not be released from the federal prison medical center at Springfield, Mo.

Seven pickets, protesting Walker's detention, paraded at the entrance to the medical center at Springfield on Friday. Three from Kansas City, said they were acting as individuals and carried signs with these legends: "Why persecute patriots?" "Walker was framed; are you next?"

Later four others joined the group, claiming they represented the Committee to End Racial Discrimination Against Fourth-class White Citizens. A man,who identified himself as Cal Mende was their leader. He said he was from Minnesota but would not identify his home city.

At a press conference, Mende said if Walker were a negro "he would have 14,000 federal troops and marshals at the medical center fighting for his release."

Smith's affidavit, entered into the federal court's record with the committment order at Oxford, Miss., said the psychiatrist based his conclusions on news accounts of Walker's recent behavior, as well as an examination of his medical history. The latter was understood to include Walker's Army medical records.

The committment order was issued upon the motion of the government.

Federal law requires a U.S. attorney to ask for such an order when he "has reasonable cause to believe that a person charged with an offense against the United States may be presently insane or otherwise so mentally incompetent as to be unable to understand the proceedings against him or properly to assist in his own defense."

Negro Student Loses Clemson Admission Bid

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—Immediate admission to Clemson College was denied Friday to a Negro student seeking court action for transfer to the all-white state institution in South Carolina.

Instead of granting Harvey B. Gantt, 19, immediate entrance, the United States 4th Circuit Court of Appeals, in effect, held up a decision. It said the case should be tried soon on its merits in a lower court.

The order was issued after Gantt appealed a U.S. District Court decision denying his move for a preliminary injunction to gain immediate admission. The injunction was denied by Judge C. C. Wyche of U.S. District Court for Eastern South Carolina.

Gantt now is a student in architecture at Iowa State University of Science and Technilogy at Ames.

The appeals court, in its order Friday, said it expects attorneys for Gantt and the college will cooperate in applying to the district court for a prompt trial, preferably within 15 days.

Bond Election Is Called

Improvement Plan To Go To People

Election has been scheduled Nov. 20 by the Monroe City Council on a $11,250,000 bond issue to finance a capital improvement program.

Date for the election was set Friday at a special meeting of the council.

Te bond issue, if approved, will be divided among five proposals in the program, including $2,750,000 for construction of a sewerage treatment plant, $4,650,000 for construction of a municipal auditorium and civic center, $650,000 for expansion of the fire department, $2,800,000 for construction of a new City Hall, jail and city court, and $400,000 for a new airport terminal building and other airport facilities.

Plans are for a two - mill tax to be levied in 1963 to finance the 30 - year bond program.

Mayor W. L. Howard pointed out that the projects, if the issue is approved, will be completed by late 1967 or early 1968.

In connection with calling the election, the council adopted a resolution asking the State Bond and Tax Board for authority to issue the bonds.

The council also issued the following statement in regard to the election and the capital improvement program:

"For the past three years the city council, working with the planning commission, architects, engineers, consultants and local citizens committees, has worked very hard to perfect a long rånge plan for major capital improvements.

"These studies were completed some three months ago and turned over to a citizens committee for their evaluation and recommendation. We have had many meetings with various groups throughout the city in an effort to obtain advice from as many people as possible regarding these projects and what course the city council should follow.

"The citizens committee, composed of many of our outstanding citizens, has recommended that the city move forward as rapidly as possible on these improvements. As a result of the recommendation of this committee along with other groups, with which we have met, we have decided to place these five major improvements before the property owners of Monroe.

"We want to assure every citizen that we have done our very best to gather every bit of information possible regarding this six year program and will make every effert to present results of theso studies to all of our citizens so that each individual property owner can make an intelligent decision before voting.

"Our bond attorneys and accountants, along with a group of local citizens have made a thorough study of our finances and have developed a plan whereby these projects can be financed and constructed with a two (2) mill increase in taxes in 1963 over 1962 rate and no other tax increase will be necessary after the two mill increase in 1963.

"We believe that our city has reached a point in its growth and development where we must provide these needed improvements if we are to maintain a healthy, growing community and attract new businesses to Monroe, thereby providing additional job opportunities for our citizens. Other cities have shown that by keeping in step with competing cities, by providing modern facilities, that they can expand and grow and provide new jobs and better their economy.

"With more than 10,000 boys and girls in our two school systems, we must put our best foot forward and plan for the future. These young people will very shortly be out of school and become a part of our labor force, seeking jobs. Many of them will want to make Monroe their home."

Speaker

Frank K. McDermott of the Louisiana Department of Agriculture in Monroe, was the banquet speaker for the National Agricultural Market News Association convention in New Orleans which ends today.

Ross Barnett Is Criticized By Council

CHICAGO (AP)—The American Council on Education criticized Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi Friday for what it called "the particularly shocking invasion into the affairs of the University of Mississippi."

The council, representing more than 1,000 U.S. colleges and universities, made no direct mention of James H. Meredith, Negro whose forced admission at Ole Miss sparked rioting.

It said, however, "the intolerance, the unruly violence, the need for military action by the federal government, the deaths which have occurred, and the harsh antagonisms created, all are cause for anguish."

The council's stand, one of the toughest it has taken in recent years on any subject, was embodied in a resolution passed unanimously at the organization's business meeting. An outbreak of applause followed the vote.

The University of Mississippi itself was not singled out for censure. Implied, however, was criticism of the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning, which also acts as Board of Trustees for each of Mississippi's eight state colleges and universities.

Sheriff Seeks Four Marshals With Warrants

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Sheriff Joe Ford attempted to serve warrants Friday on four U.S. marshals involved in an incident at Holly Springs Wednesday night but was told they were gone.

Ford said the four were charged with public drunkenness and two of them were charged with resisting arrest. The incident occurred when Marshall County Sheriff Sol Cox stopped five car loads of marshals on Highway 78 at Holly Springs and accused the four of drunkenness.

After the incident Cox said he turned the men, identified as border patrolmen deputized as U.S. marshals, over to the marshal in charge of the convoy.

Justice Department officials told Ford the men had been withdrawn from duty in the James H. Meredith case at the University of Mississippi. Deputy U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, at Oxford, denied the charges against the marshals.

A spokesman for the Justice Department said Wednesday night that their investigation indicated the men were not drinking.

Dist. Atty. Jesse L. Yancy Jr., of Bruce, said, "We are in the process of instituting extradition papers on them."

Alumni Officer Election Today

Election of officers for the 1962-63 term will be held by the Northeast Louisiana State College Alumni Association at its business session slated this afternoon from 4:30 until 6 in the College Union Building on campus.

New officers are selected at each Homecoming business session by a vote of those at the meeting. As usual, an opportunity will be given for nominations from the floor.

Nominated for vice - president are Marshall McDonald and Bob Oden.

Clarice Dickson Kenny, Caldwell Parish; Jo Buswell Edwards, Catahoula Parish; Doris Kirby Schuchs, Concordia Parish; Mildred G. Muirhead, East Carroll Parish; William B. McLemore, Franklin Parish; Billy A. Busbice, Jackson Parish; Lloyd Ray Duke Jr., LaSalle Parish; C. LaPrade Porter, Madison Parish; F. Woodrow Wilson, Morehouse Parish.

Gerald Arrant, Fran Guthrie, Marshall McDonald, Wamul R. Owens, John Earl Taylor, and Jerry Webster, six from Ouachita Parish; George B. Franklin, Richland Parish; William D. Hoover, Tensas Parish; Dale C. Meachum, Union Parish; Woody Boyles, West Carroll Parish; and Charles D. Weaver, Winn Parish.

240 Voters Put On Books

Approximately 240 new voters were added in Ouachita Parish before the books closed Friday.

Mrs. Mae Lucky, parish registrar of voters, said the books are now closed for the general election Nov. 6.

She also pointed out that the earliest date which the books can be opened again is Nov. 21 because of a bond election which has been called Nov. 20 by the City of Monroe.

An unofficial count Friday after the books closed at 5 p.m. showed 240 new registrations since the books opened Sept. 4 following the Democratic second primary. However, the final figure on total registration in the parish for the general election will not be available until next week.

Twenty new voters registered Friday on the final day the books were open.

Mrs. Lucky said that no changes in any records, including addresses, will be made while the books are closed.

"We will be unable to take any address or other changes because of work on the books involving precinct changes in wards one, two, three and 10," she explained.

It said, however, "the intolerance, the unruly violence, the need for military action by the federal government, the deaths which have occurred, and the harsh antagonisms created, all are cause for anguish."

The council's stand, one of the toughest it has taken in recent years on any subject, was embodied in a resolution passed unanimously at the organization's business meeting. An outbreak of applause followed the vote.

The University of Mississippi itself was not singled out for censure. Implied, however, was criticism of the Board of Trustees of State Institutions of Higher Learning, which also acts as Board of Trustees for each of Mississippi's eight state colleges and universities.

Sheriff Seeks Four Marshals With Warrants

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Sheriff Joe Ford attempted to serve warrants Friday on four U.S. marshals involved in an incident at Holly Springs Wednesday night but was told they were gone.

Ford said the four were charged with public drunkenness and two of them were charged with resisting arrest. The incident occurred when Marshall County Sheriff Sol Cox stopped five car loads of marshals on Highway 78 at Holly Springs and accused the four of drunkenness.

After the incident Cox said he turned the men, identified as border patrolmen deputized as U.S. marshals, over to the marshal in charge of the convoy.

Justice Department officials told Ford the men had been withdrawn from duty in the James H. Meredith case at the University of Mississippi. Deputy U.S. Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach, at Oxford, denied the charges against the marshals.

A spokesman for the Justice Department said Wednesday night that their investigation indicated the men were not drinking.

Dist. Atty. Jesse L. Yancy Jr., of Bruce, said, "We are in the process of instituting extradition papers on them."

Alumni Officer Election Today

Election of officers for the 1962-63 term will be held by the Northeast Louisiana State College Alumni Association at its business session slated this afternoon from 4:30 until 6 in the College Union Building on campus.

New officers are selected at each Homecoming business session by a vote of those at the meeting. As usual, an opportunity will be given for nominations from the floor.

Nominated for vice - president are Marshall McDonald and Bob Oden.

Gerald Arrant, Fran Guthrie, Marshall McDonald, Wamul R. Owens, John Earl Taylor, and Jerry Webster, six from Ouachita Parish; George B. Franklin, Richland Parish; William D. Hoover, Tensas Parish; Dale C. Meachum, Union Parish; Woody Boyles, West Carroll Parish; and Charles D. Weaver, Winn Parish.

240 Voters Put On Books

Approximately 240 new voters were added in Ouachita Parish before the books closed Friday.

Mrs. Mae Lucky, parish registrar of voters, said the books are now closed for the general election Nov. 6.

She also pointed out that the earliest date which the books can be opened again is Nov. 21 because of a bond election which has been called Nov. 20 by the City of Monroe.

An unofficial count Friday after the books closed at 5 p.m. showed 240 new registrations since the books opened Sept. 4 following the Democratic second primary. However, the final figure on total registration in the parish for the general election will not be available until next week.

Twenty new voters registered Friday on the final day the books were open.

Mrs. Lucky said that no changes in any records, including addresses, will be made while the books are closed.

"We will be unable to take any address or other changes because of work on the books involving precinct changes in wards one, two, three and 10," she explained.

U.S. STOCKPILE PROBE

Truman's Former Aide Defends Deal

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former Truman administration official said Friday the government's nickel deal with Hanna Mining Co. was "objectionable," but the best that could be made under the pressures of the Korean War.

Jess Larson, former administrator of the Defense Materials Procurement Agency, put it this way:

"The overriding and crucial need for additional nickel production left me no alternative except to pay a higher price to a producer outside the boundaries and outside the control of the United States."

The contract was signed Jan. 16, 1953. A few days later, Larson went out of office and Hanna's top executive, George M. Humphrey, became secretary of the Treasury in the new Eisenhower administration.

Larson told the Senate Stockpile Investigating subcommittee the Hanna company took a firm, unyielding position during the six months of negotiations.

The contract has been severely criticized by the comptroller general and subcommittee Chairman Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., said:

"These are the largest profits I have ever seen on a government contract."

Larson said the world demand for nickel at the time was such that it was bringing up to $3 a pound on the black market.

"Crash programs were obviously necessary and justified," he said. "No owner of a nickel deposit, either foreign or domestic, would dream of opening up or expanding his production without financial guarantees from the government of the United States."

He noted that the Hanna deal opened up the first nickel production in the United States, at a mine near Riddle, Ore.

Larson said the decision to sign came after a meeting of defense production officials where it was pointed out that "the Department of Defense was growing increasingly alarmed at the lack of movement toward a more rapid expansion of nickel production.

"We were told then that we should pay up to $2 a pound for nickel if necessary to get the owners of nickel deposits under contract and moving toward expanded production.

"We returned to our offices," he said, "and I issued on-the-spot instructions that we would immediately conclude the contracts with the Hanna Co."

Larson added "if I were faced by the same circumstances today which I faced in October of 1953, I would make the same decision I made at that time."

He said it is easy to criticize the contract now "without the responsibilities that faced me when I was forced to make my decision," adding: "The comptroller general has been critical of the contract. Understandably so. He was not charged with the responsibility to furnish strategic and critical materials in time of emergency."

Minor Charges Head Docket In West Monroe

Minor charges dominated the West Monroe city court docket Friday with Judge John McCormick hearing 15 cases against 12 persons.

Eight cases of disturbing the peace by appearing in public in an intoxicated condition were acted on with three persons forfeiting $40 bonds; two being fined $30 and costs or 30 days in jail; one sentenced to six months in jail; and another getting a 30-day sentence.

Robert M. Harmon, 79, 201 Ramus, West Monroe, forfeited $400 in bonds for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages, reckless driving and disturbing the peace.

Freddy C. Oliveaux, 24, of Rayville, forfeited a $25 bond for reckless driving.

regional Communist troops. Since a year ago, this part of Dinh Tuong Province, 50 miles southwest of Saigon, has been controlled by the Viet Cong.

The first wave of helicopters landed in inundated fields—water almost submerging fuselages—nearly on top of the target hamlet. The ill-fated ranger company, 90 men strong, leaped from the idling machines and ran toward the hamlet. A wall of fire, some of it from machine guns and other automatic weapons, hit the unit.

Within minutes, 13 rangers, including a platoon leader a radio man and an aid man, were killed. Thirty-four others were wounded, many of them seriously.

The helicopters roared away as soon as the rangers were off and running. But within several hundred yards after takeoff, withering Communist fire found its mark and two choppers went down.

Aboard one of them, a U.S. Army sergeant, crew chief and gunner for his craft, was dead. He was the first death suffered by the 57th Helicopter Co. since it came to Viet Nam last December. He was the 13th American to be killed in Viet Nam since that time.

On the other helicopter, struck within half a mile of the first, the gunner was hit in the hand. The pilot of an L19 reconnaissance plane was hit in the leg by ground fire while flying over the scene.

The names of the Americans were withheld pending notification of kin.

A wave of Vietnamese helicopters droned in to evacuate casualties. All of them made it, and for practical purposes, the ground battle was over. Then artillery and bombing planes went to work.

At the end of the day, the government claimed 100 rebels killed.

As the sun set and the last helicopters and fighters disappeared over the horizon, exhausted government troops trudged back to their bivouacs. The district was still as death, except for the chirping of evening birds.

Hawaii Set For Record Primary Vote

Barring bad weather, election officials expect the voting turnout to surpass the 188,206 record in the 1960 presidential election.

John A. Burns, former territorial delegate to Congress, is conceded an easy victory over attorney Hyman M. Greenstein for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The U.S. Senate race between Rep. Daniel K. Inouye, a Democrat, and Benjamin F. Dillingham, wealthy Republican businessman, has for the most part been fought over a distance of 5,000 miles. Inouye has remained in Washington, except for occasional trips home.

Inouye also has taken opposition in his Senate nomination bid from insurance executive Frank Troy.

The battle for the two House of Representatives seats has largely been a Democratic affair, where the problem is too many candidates.

Republicans seeking nominations are State Rep. Albert W. Evensen, attorney Richard Sutton and former State Rep. Alfred Apaka Sr. Evensen and Sutton are generally considered the favorites.

The race for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. House has four leading candidates—Frank F. Fasi, Thomas P. Gill, Herbert K. H. Lee, and Spark M. Matsunaga.

They are running in expectation that nomination means a sure job in Washington, since the Republican candidates are not rated high as vote-getters.

Hospital Says Mrs. Roosevelt Is Not Critical

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, 77, suffering from an infected lung condition, took a turn for the worse Friday but hospital officials said her condition was "not critical."

A source close to the physicians handling her case said her doctors regarded the situation as "a matter of concern" because of her age.

A medical bulletin issued by the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center said she has "a recurrence of a slight temperature...after several days of satisfactory progress.

"Treatment of the infection is continuing and she will remain in the hospital until the condition is cleared up," the hospital bulletin said.

The former First Lady entered the hospital on Sept. 26 for "observation and treatment." She spent several days at the medical center in August for medical tests because she felt run-down, but subsequently vacationed at Campobello Island New Brunswick, Canada.

Blooms

There must have been something in the air Friday night.

At any rate, it was rather a special night for Mrs. Nora King, 309 S. 1st St. at the corner of Texas Avenue. Her flower finally bloomed.

A cutting she took from a niece in Arkansas 10 years ago payed off at last. The plant, a relatively rare night blooming variety, the exact name of which we're not certain, turned out in a big white blossom.

That's the way with them, we understand— they bloom only once every 10 years, for one night only, then go back into "retirement."

Neighbors vowed they could smell the exquisite fragrance for blocks.

Garage on Jackson Street.

Changes in ward 10 include combining precincts six and seven to be listed now as precinct seven, and combining precincts eight and 10 to be listed now as precinct eight. Precinct 15 is now included in precinct two.

Mrs. Lucky explained that voters in old precinct seven, who formerly voted at the Twin City Glass Company building, will now vote at the Apex Supply Company. Voters in precincts eight and 10, now combined, will vote at Luffey's Grocery.

Voters in precinct two will vote at the Forsythe Avenue Fire Station. Mrs. Lucky emphasized that Deborah Drive residents are now included in this precinct.

The new precinct three in ward one comprises an area that includes the Town and Country addition, Raymond Drive, Fink's Hideway Drive, Bastrop Drive, and Monroe Drive. Voting site for this precinct will be the North Monroe Lumber Yard in Monroe Park Subdivision.

She said that ward one voters in precinct one will continue to vote at the Fairbanks clubhouse, while those in precinct two will vote at the fire department building in Sterlington.

In ward two, the new precinct two will include an area involving Bayou Shores, Bayou Oaks, Dillingham Drive, Roland Road, and Curve Drive. Voting site will be the St. Mark Methodist Church in the Bayou Shores Addition.

Ward two voters in precinct one will continue to vote at the Swartz School.

Mrs. Lucky said the voter registration books are in the process of being altered to comply with the precinct changes.

"Notification cards are being mailed to all registered voters in the precincts where changes have been made," she pointed out. "Some of the cards have not been mailed, but we hope to finish the job next week."

Davis Pledges Aid On State Beautification

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis said Friday he thinks beauty and industrial progress are compatible and promised beautification leaders to use his influence to keep Louisiana beautiful.

Speaking to a Keep America Beautiful Gulf States workshop here, Davis said he coul see no inconsistency between great manufacturing capacity and having it co-exist with nature.

"America can be beautiful with the beauty of industrial might and the signs of progress," he said, "while its natural beauty remains unscarred."

Where beauty and progress might be incompatible, he said, "welfare and economic well-being of our people must come first."

FOR BRIEF CEREMONIES

Schirra Will Fly To Hawaii Today

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE (UPI) — Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., will fly to Hawaii on Saturday and attend brief ceremonies during a three-hour stop before continuing by jet plane to the space administration center in Houston.

On Tuesday Schirra will go to Washington and meet President Kennedy at the White House.

Apparently in response to urgent appeals from Hawaii officials, plans for a 10 - minute plane change were revised Friday to allow Schirra to stay in the islands long enough to have lunch and be greeted by military and civic dignitaries.

Schirra's reaction to the switch was not immediately known. The outspoken astronaut has been critical of unnecessary outside activities which he said kept John Glenn away from the space program too long.

Col. John A. (Shorty) Powers, spokesman for the National Space and Aeronautics Administration (NASA), said three twin-engined planes would be catapulted from the carrier Kearsarge Saturday morning and will carry Schirra, fellow astronauts and Nasa staff men to Hickam Air Force Base near Honolulu.

Schirra will arrive at 10 a.m. HST (4 p.m. EDT) aboard the third of the planes.

He is scheduled to make a short speech and have lunch at Hickam.

His Military Air Transport Service (Mats) jet will depart from Hickam at 1 p.m. HST (7 p.m. EDT) and is due in Houston at 1 a.m. Sunday (3 a.m. EDT).

Powers said Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander in chief of U.S. Pacific forces, would be on hand to greet Schirra. It was expected also that Gov. William F. Quin of Hawaii and Honolulu's Mayor Neal Blaisdell would be present.

(It was reported from Honolulu that Quinn hoped to persuade Schirra and Nasa officials to allow the astronaut a brief tour of the city).

Schirra made a short talk over the Kearsarge public address system at noon Friday and thanked the officers and men for his reception.

"It's good to be back with the carrier Navy again," he said.

Auto Accident Major Event In Enforcement Day

An Atlanta, Ga., couple was admitted to a local hospital Friday after being injured in an automobile accident on Cypress Street in West Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dorminey of Atlanta were rushed to Glenwood Hospital in West Monroe by a Mulhearn Ambulance following a two - vehicle accident in the 3900 block of Cypress. They remained in the hospital overnight although their injuries were not thought serious.

A. B. Love, 32 - year - old Rayville resident, was charged by West Monroe police with reckless driving in the Cypress Street mishap.

Other Ouachita Parish law enforcement officials spent a busy day with minor routine activity, but no other major incidents were recorded.

CZECH ABORTION

VIENNA (UPI)—The German language Czech Communist newspaper Aufbau Und Frieden demanded Friday that authorities impose restrictions on legal abortions because "there are more abortions than births" in many Czech cities. It said 53,804 Czech women applied for abortion permits during the first half of 1962.

Traffic Cases Lead Docket In Monroe Activity

Traffic violations dominated Monroe city court Friday as Judge W. M. Harper heard 35 cases.

Action was taken on five theft cases. Porter Reed 40-year-old Negro, 216 Moy St., was fined $350 and costs or seven months in jail and Mary Theus, 22-year-old Negro, 2012 Conover, was fined $100 and costs or 60 days. Three other simple theft cases were nolle prossed.

Five cases of reckless driving were also handled. Lucille Jones, Negro, 917 Calypso, was fined $5 and costs or five days in jail while the other four persons forfeited $25 bonds. They were J. T. Rogers, Negro, 3412 White; Young Lawrence, Negro, 3101 Owl; Arlie Robertson, Dumas, Ark.; and Benjamine Smith, 1710 S 8th, Monroe.

Seven speeding cases were handled, with all seven persons forfeiting bonds. Bonds were as follows: $25 each by Susan Thompson, 116 N. Charmingdale, and G. C. Weems, 130 Violet, West Monroe; $10 by Charles Middleton, Negro, 108 Debra, West Monroe; $8 each by Phyllis Bruscato, P. O. Box 786, Monroe, Daniel Doughty, 201 Erin; and H. P. Moore, 403 Georgia; and $5 by Elizabeth Loftin, 902 College.

Remaining cases were minor traffic violations.

Minor Charges Head Docket In West Monroe

Eight cases of disturbing the peace by appearing in public in an intoxicated condition were acted on with three persons forfeiting $40 bonds; two being fined $30 and costs or 30 days in jail; one sentenced to six months in jail; and another getting a 30-day sentence.

Robert M. Harmon, 79, 201 Ramus, West Monroe, forfeited $400 in bonds for driving while under the influence of intoxicating beverages, reckless driving and disturbing the peace.

Freddy C. Oliveaux, 24, of Rayville, forfeited a $25 bond for reckless driving.

100 Reds Die In Fighting Near Saigon

regional Communist troops. Since a year ago, this part of Dinh Tuong Province, 50 miles southwest of Saigon, has been controlled by the Viet Cong.

The first wave of helicopters landed in inundated fields—water almost submerging fuselages—nearly on top of the target hamlet. The ill-fated ranger company, 90 men strong, leaped from the idling machines and ran toward the hamlet. A wall of fire, some of it from machine guns and other automatic weapons, hit the unit.

Within minutes, 13 rangers, including a platoon leader a radio man and an aid man, were killed. Thirty-four others were wounded, many of them seriously.

The helicopters roared away as soon as the rangers were off and running. But within several hundred yards after takeoff, withering Communist fire found its mark and two choppers went down.

Aboard one of them, a U.S. Army sergeant, crew chief and gunner for his craft, was dead. He was the first death suffered by the 57th Helicopter Co. since it came to Viet Nam last December. He was the 13th American to be killed in Viet Nam since that time.

On the other helicopter, struck within half a mile of the first, the gunner was hit in the hand. The pilot of an L19 reconnaissance plane was hit in the leg by ground fire while flying over the scene.

The names of the Americans were withheld pending notification of kin.

A wave of Vietnamese helicopters droned in to evacuate casualties. All of them made it, and for practical purposes, the ground battle was over. Then artillery and bombing planes went to work.

At the end of the day, the government claimed 100 rebels killed.

As the sun set and the last helicopters and fighters disappeared over the horizon, exhausted government troops trudged back to their bivouacs. The district was still as death, except for the chirping of evening birds.

Hawaii Set For Record Primary Vote

Barring bad weather, election officials expect the voting turnout to surpass the 188,206 record in the 1960 presidential election.

John A. Burns, former territorial delegate to Congress, is conceded an easy victory over attorney Hyman M. Greenstein for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The U.S. Senate race between Rep. Daniel K. Inouye, a Democrat, and Benjamin F. Dillingham, wealthy Republican businessman, has for the most part been fought over a distance of 5,000 miles. Inouye has remained in Washington, except for occasional trips home.

Inouye also has taken opposition in his Senate nomination bid from insurance executive Frank Troy.

The battle for the two House of Representatives seats has largely been a Democratic affair, where the problem is too many candidates.

Republicans seeking nominations are State Rep. Albert W. Evensen, attorney Richard Sutton and former State Rep. Alfred Apaka Sr. Evensen and Sutton are generally considered the favorites.

The race for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. House has four leading candidates—Frank F. Fasi, Thomas P. Gill, Herbert K. H. Lee, and Spark M. Matsunaga.

They are running in expectation that nomination means a sure job in Washington, since the Republican candidates are not rated high as vote-getters.

Hospital Says Mrs. Roosevelt Is Not Critical

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, 77, suffering from an infected lung condition, took a turn for the worse Friday but hospital officials said her condition was "not critical."

A source close to the physicians handling her case said her doctors regarded the situation as "a matter of concern" because of her age.

A medical bulletin issued by the Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center said she has "a recurrence of a slight temperature. . .after several days of satisfactory progress.

"Treatment of the infection is continuing and she will remain in the hospital until the condition is cleared up," the hospital bulletin said.

The former First Lady entered the hospital on Sept. 26 for "observation and treatment." She spent several days at the medical center in August for medical tests because she felt run-down, but subsequently vacationed at Campobello Island New Brunswick, Canada.

Blooms

There must have been something in the air Friday night.

At any rate, it was rather a special night for Mrs. Nora King, 309 S. 1st St. at the corner of Texas Avenue. Her flower finally bloomed.

A cutting she took from a niece in Arkansas 10 years ago payed off at last. The plant, a relatively rare night blooming variety, the exact name of which we're not certain, turned out in a big white blossom.

That's the way with them, we understand— they bloom only once every 10 years, for one night only, then go back into "retirement."

Neighbors vowed they could smell the exquisite fragrance for blocks.

Davis Pledges Aid On State Beautification

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Gov. Jimmie H. Davis said Friday he thinks beauty and industrial progress are compatible and promised beautification leaders to use his influence to keep Louisiana beautiful.

Speaking to a Keep America Beautiful Gulf States workshop here, Davis said he coul see no inconsistency between great manufacturing capacity and having it co-exist with nature.

"America can be beautiful with the beauty of industrial might and the signs of progress," he said, "while its natural beauty remains unscarred."

Where beauty and progress might be incompatible, he said, "welfare and economic well-being of our people must come first."

Garage on Jackson Street.

Changes in ward 10 include combining precincts six and seven to be listed now as precinct seven, and combining precincts eight and 10 to be listed now as precinct eight. Precinct 15 is now included in precinct two.

Mrs. Lucky explained that voters in old precinct seven, who formerly voted at the Twin City Glass Company building, will now vote at the Apex Supply Company. Voters in precincts eight and 10, now combined, will vote at Luffey's Grocery.

Voters in precinct two will vote at the Forsythe Avenue Fire Station. Mrs. Lucky emphasized that Deborah Drive residents are now included in this precinct.

The new precinct three in ward one comprises an area that includes the Town and Country addition, Raymond Drive, Fink's Hideway Drive, Bastrop Drive, and Monroe Drive. Voting site for this precinct will be the North Monroe Lumber Yard in Monroe Park Subdivision.

She said that ward one voters in precinct one will continue to vote at the Fairbanks clubhouse, while those in precinct two will vote at the fire department building in Sterlington.

In ward two, the new precinct two will include an area involving Bayou Shores, Bayou Oaks, Dillingham Drive, Roland Road, and Curve Drive. Voting site will be the St. Mark Methodist Church in the Bayou Shores Addition.

Ward two voters in precinct one will continue to vote at the Swartz School.

Mrs. Lucky said the voter registration books are in the process of being altered to comply with the precinct changes.

"Notification cards are being mailed to all registered voters in the precincts where changes have been made," she pointed out. "Some of the cards have not been mailed, but we hope to finish the job next week."

FOR BRIEF CEREMONIES

Schirra Will Fly To Hawaii Today

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE (UPI) — Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr., will fly to Hawaii on Saturday and attend brief ceremonies during a three-hour stop before continuing by jet plane to the space administration center in Houston.

On Tuesday Schirra will go to Washington and meet President Kennedy at the White House.

Apparently in response to urgent appeals from Hawaii officials, plans for a 10 - minute plane change were revised Friday to allow Schirra to stay in the islands long enough to have lunch and be greeted by military and civic dignitaries.

Schirra's reaction to the switch was not immediately known. The outspoken astronaut has been critical of unnecessary outside activities which he said kept John Glenn away from the space program too long.

Col. John A. (Shorty) Powers, spokesman for the National Space and Aeronautics Administration (NASA), said three twin-engined planes would be catapulted from the carrier Kearsarge Saturday morning and will carry Schirra, fellow astronauts and Nasa staff men to Hickam Air Force Base near Honolulu.

Schirra will arrive at 10 a.m. HST (4 p.m. EDT) aboard the third of the planes.

He is scheduled to make a short speech and have lunch at Hickam.

His Military Air Transport Service (Mats) jet will depart from Hickam at 1 p.m. HST (7 p.m. EDT) and is due in Houston at 1 a.m. Sunday (3 a.m. EDT).

Powers said Adm. Harry D. Felt, commander in chief of U.S. Pacific forces, would be on hand to greet Schirra. It was expected also that Gov. William F. Quin of Hawaii and Honolulu's Mayor Neal Blaisdell would be present.

(It was reported from Honolulu that Quinn hoped to persuade Schirra and Nasa officials to allow the astronaut a brief tour of the city).

Schirra made a short talk over the Kearsarge public address system at noon Friday and thanked the officers and men for his reception.

"It's good to be back with the carrier Navy again," he said.

Auto Accident Major Event In Enforcement Day

An Atlanta, Ga., couple was admitted to a local hospital Friday after being injured in an automobile accident on Cypress Street in West Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dorminey of Atlanta were rushed to Glenwood Hospital in West Monroe by a Mulhearn Ambulance following a two - vehicle accident in the 3900 block of Cypress. They remained in the hospital overnight although their injuries were not thought serious.

A. B. Love, 32 - year - old Rayville resident, was charged by West Monroe police with reckless driving in the Cypress Street mishap.

Other Ouachita Parish law enforcement officials spent a busy day with minor routine activity, but no other major incidents were recorded.

CZECH ABORTION

VIENNA (UPI)—The German language Czech Communist newspaper Aufbau Und Frieden demanded Friday that authorities impose restrictions on legal abortions because "there are more abortions than births" in many Czech cities. It said 53,804 Czech women applied for abortion permits during the first half of 1962.

Traffic Cases Lead Docket In Monroe Activity

Traffic violations dominated Monroe city court Friday as Judge W. M. Harper heard 35 cases.

Action was taken on five theft cases. Porter Reed 40-year-old Negro, 216 Moy St., was fined $350 and costs or seven months in jail and Mary Theus, 22-year-old Negro, 2012 Conover, was fined $100 and costs or 60 days. Three other simple theft cases were nolle prossed.

Five cases of reckless driving were also handled. Lucille Jones, Negro, 917 Calypso, was fined $5 and costs or five days in jail while the other four persons forfeited $25 bonds. They were J. T. Rogers, Negro, 3412 White; Young Lawrence, Negro, 3101 Owl; Arlie Robertson, Dumas, Ark.; and Benjamine Smith, 1710 S. 8th, Monroe.

Seven speeding cases were handled, with all seven persons forfeiting bonds. Bonds were as follows: $25 each by Susan Thompson, 116 N. Charmingdale, and G. C. Weems, 130 Violet, West Monroe; $10 by Charles Middleton, Negro, 108 Debra, West Monroe; $8 each by Phyllis Bruscato, P. O. Box 786, Monroe, Daniel Doughty, 201 Erin; and H. P. Moore, 403 Georgia; and $5 by Elizabeth Loftin, 902 College.

Remaining cases were minor traffic violations.

EDITORIALS

Traitors For What?

Probably one of the least profitable professions in the world is that of being a traitor. Forgetting loyalty and patriotism and honor, some go down to degradation and shame for mere pittances, literally selling their national birthrights for a mess of pottage.

A young navy man, with access to secret electronics information, has been arrested for conspiring to sell our defense information to the Soviet Union.

Nelson Cornelius Drummond, 33, yeoman first class, thus joins a company of modern traitors, including Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, David Greenglass, Harry Gold, Morton Sobell, Alfred Dean Slack, Judith Coplon, Alfred and Martha Stern, William Ludwig Ullman and Victor Reno. These were all Americans and all sold out their country to the Soviet Union, usually for a piddling price.

Drummond, who had contacts with two Russians working at the United Nations, was a Negro. This means that the communists will play up his arrest as an alleged case of racial discrimination.

The Drummond case points up two important things: 1. Soviet espionage machinery in the United States is as fearsome as it was when our atomic secrets were stolen by the Rosenbergs and their cronies. 2. The diplomatic machinery of the Soviet based in this country is, as always, a spy network.

Back in March, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, brother of the President, belittled the danger of the communist party in the United States. He missed the point of national concern about communists within the United States. Anyone with a mind as shrewd as that of the attorney general should know that a handful of well-placed spies can bring havoc to our security system. If the arrest of this spy means that Robert Kennedy has awakened somewhat more to the danger that communists, both inside the United States and in Russia, can pose for this country, we are indeed glad. Failure to realize a danger and to ferret it out and crush it can be as dangerous as are the activities of the spies and enemies of our nation.

Postal Pay, Deficit

Postal workers probably are as much entitled to pay increases as anyone else who is getting them this year, but what about those who aren't getting them and what about the postal deficit that the increase in postal rates was intended to erase? Also, will the time come when pay in government jobs is so much better than the average that practically everyone will want to get into government service, thus increasing the power of federal government?

There seems little doubt that postal rate increases will be adopted at this session. Senate, House and the President are all expected to go along. As a matter of fact, there apparently was not much concerted opposition.

Officials kept pointing to the post office department deficit and saying that department ought to pay its own way. Of course, there were many who believed it would be more logical to apply some of the government's money to taking care of the deficit than to give it away, willy-nilly, to practically any country that asked for it, particularly those trying to go communistic or already communistic, in the form of so-called foreign aid. Senator Allen Ellender of Louisiana said he regretted seeing first class postage rates raised, inasmuch as first class mail is already paying its way, and also disliked very much to see second class rates raised because of the educational value of material coming under this classification. However, regretful thinking was about as far as any opposition to the increase went.

On January 7 the price of stamps will go up. Ordinary stamps will be five cents and air mail will be eight. There will also be increases in postage paid for second class mail, which applies to magazines and newspapers, and third class mail, covering advertising.

The new prices are expected to put another $602 million dollars into the treasury. If that were all there is to the law, we would at last have the postal service paying its own way again, as it once did. At the old postage rates, the post office department has had to dip into income tax money for about $550 million a year to meet bills.

New legislation includes pay raises for postal workers at the rate of about $446 million annually.

Talk for raising postal rates was pitched on the argument that enough income should be received to meet the costs but the pay raises will knock that into a cocked hat.

We still have for another congress, some other year, the unfinished business of ending deficit spending in the portion of the central government which touches the daily lives of more citizens than any other. What other way than another increase in postal rates? How high can even first class rates go without being prohibitive?

Watching Sacred Cows

That statement was made by Congressman Charles S. Gubser, Republican, California, in discussing some of the shocking expenditures of United States foreign aid money and the way in which Congressman Otto E. Passman, Democrat, Louisiana, exposes these practices and fights to reduce foreign aid appropriations.

Congressman Gubser stated: "If it were not for Congressman Passman, chairman of the subcommittee which makes recommendations for foreign aid appropriations billions of dollars would be hidden behind such ruses like 'secret emergency' and 'contingency' funds. We would never know of shocking things such as our payments of United Nations assessments for Cuba. We would not have known of our unnecessary payment of $120 million in cash to the Inter-American Development Bank which, in turn, bought U.S. bonds on which we paid $2,400,000 interest. Except for Passman's probing, we would not have known that countries like Cambodia, Saudi Arabia, Nigeria and Iran receive foreign aid and use it to buy our gold in Fort Knox".

No nation in the world ever tried as hard as the United States has done to be a combined Santa Claus and fairy godmother to the rest of the world. There are now 113 recognized nations in the world. Next year the United States will send foreign aid money to 101 of them. Those which won't get foreign aid must be too democratic for the liking of the New Frontier or are willing to stand on their own feet without asking for handouts. Most of them want to take our money so they can buy our bonds and make us pay interest on them.

If any country ever had a sacred cow that was over-fat the United States has it in its foreign aid program.

Missouri Campaign Hectic

Missouri's senatorial race is attracting little attention nationally, but it should because it's the stormiest the "Show Me" state has seen in many years.

This is due chiefly to R. Crosby Kemper Jr., the unusual and turbulently colorful Republican opponent of Democratic Senator Edward Long.

Tall, dark, handsome and wealthy, Kemper is making hectic campaign history in a state long noted for it. Although this is his first try for public office, he is going about it in a highly personal and unconventional manner.

Everything about him is out of the ordinary.

Thirty - five years old, 6 feet 7½, with a full head of gleaming black hair sharply barbered and combed, a member of an old Missouri banking family and a bank president himself, Kemper was a Democrat until about a year ago. In 1958, he actively supported Senator Stuart Symington, D, for reelection.

But in the fall of 1961, Kemper threw his hat into the ring for the GOP Senatorial nomination, and forthwith began electioneering vigorously throughout Missouri. After traveling more than 50,000 miles by plane, train and auto, and making upwards of 600 speeches, he emerged the hands-down winner over four rivals in this year's August 7 primary.

Kemper oozes complete confidence of a similar victory in the November 6 election. But so far there are few surface indications to back that up.

All the polls give Senator Long a decided edge — thus confirming his impressive primary ballot which gave him a 3 to 2 margin over the total Republican tally, 370,000 to 178,000. The total Democratic vote was 428,000, Long beating two rivals who got 58,000 between them.

Kemper polled 119,000, with the other 59,000 being divided among his four G.O.P. opponents.

In 1960, Long demonstrated his quiet but potent vote - winning ability with a triumph of 120,000, while President Kennedy barely carried Missouri by the slim margin of 9,000. Then Lieutenant Governor, Long was appointed to fill out the term of the late liberal Democratic Senator Thomas Hennings.

But while apparently well in the lead, Long, 54, is taking no chances against his younger and flamboyant Republican rival.

Long, an able campaign veteran who rose from county attorney, is "running scared," and getting a lot of high - powered Democratic support. Due to campaign for him are President Kennedy, former President Truman, Vice President Lyndon Johnson, Senators Estes Kefauver, Tenn., Eugene McCarthy, Minn., Robert Kerr, Okla., and other party notables.

SOUND AND FURY — Young Crosby Kemper also is getting big name backing.

Senator John Tower, Tex., is heading a list of numerous top Republicans who are going to bat for Kemper. But he's wasting no time furiously stirring up the hustings by himself.

It's very obvious Kemper is his own best campaigner — for better or worse.

He is blasting his Democratic opponent as an "Administration patsy," "rubber stamp," "pro Socialist," "spender," and "internationalist." For good measure, Kemper also is heatedly denouncing President Kennedy and his liberal programs, and Senator Stuart Symington — whom Kemper warmly supported in 1958.

In fact, on occasion, Kemper inveighs so furiously against Symington that an outsider might wonder whether he is running against him instead of Long.

Some GOP leaders have sought to restrain young Kemper's free-wheeling slam-banging. They have advised him to speak more moderately and impersonally. But he has paid no heed to this counsel, and is continuing to whoop it up in his own uninhibited way.

Illustrative is the irate letter he wrote the publisher of the St. Joseph News-Press when he endorsed Senator Long. That extraordinary blast and the publisher's reply, both printed in the paper, are as follows:

KEMPER — —"I was certainly surprised at your weak and poorly written editorial concerning your endorsement of pro - Socialist Ed Long . . . I have absolutely no respect for you or your newspaper, and think you a jellyfish and a man of no principles. It is leadership such as you are giving St. Joseph and Missouri that is the real trouble with America.

"I hope that your conscience, if you have one, is tortured from here on out . . . You are so poorly informed and unknowledgeable that you are in error in saying my father was a Democrat first, last and always. He has always been an independent."

THE PUBLISHER'S REPLY — "The first part of your letter confirms my opinion about your maturity and judgement. Your father is listed as a Democrat in his self-approved biography in the 1962 edition of "WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA."

Long, a freshman senator, is highly regarded by Democratic leaders, as evidenced by their naming him to three powerful committees — Judiciary, Banking & Currency, and the Standing Committee. As a senator, he is known as a hard and conscientious worker who consistently supports the Kennedy Administration.

POLITICALS — Former Vice President Nixon is leaving nothing undone to garner every possible vote in his campaign for governor of California. He has personally asked District of Columbia G.O.P. leaders to open an absentee voter bureau there, and to launch a drive among the numerous Californians to cast their ballots for him. In 1960, Nixon won California, thanks to absentee voters. Kennedy had a slight margin in that state until absentee ballots swung it to Nixon . . . Teddy Kennedy, 30-year-old brother of the President, has asked his unsuccessful Democratic opponent for the senatorial nomination to campaign for him. Teddy made this request in a telephone talk with State Attorney General Edward McCormack. The latter replied he plans to "campaign for the whole Democratic ticket," but went no further. Partisans of McCormack doubt he will go out of his way to do anything for Teddy . . . President Kennedy will definitely campaign in Oregon for Senator Wayne Morse. The militant liberal Democrat was personally told that by the President. No date has yet been set for the President's electioneering in Oregon, but he now intends to include it in his campaign schedule . . . Springfield, Ill., home of Abraham Lincoln, is on the President's itinerary when he campaigns in that state on October 19 for Representative Sidney Yates in his effort to unseat Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen. On that same day, the President also will address a big Democratic rally in Chicago.

CHARLES O. GRIDLEY

Public Housing

District Of Columbia May Be First To Feel Effects Of Ban

Public school integration in Washington was put into effect immediately after the Supreme Court banned public school segregation in 1954. The federal capital thus became the first segregated school system to eliminate racial separation under the court's order. Now the District of Columbia, which is governed directly by three commissioners, may be the first to ban housing discrimination under "anti - bias" regulations.

They are not yet in effect, but have been recommended by U. S. Civil Rights Administration and the District Commissioners have been told by legal authority that they have power to enact such regulations.

If the anti bias pattern is adopted, it will mark another first for the nation's capital in the move toward integration by authority of the judicial branch of the government. Though the commissioners meet within the shadow of the Capitol building Congress could be ignored in the new move toward segregation schooling.

One subcommittee of the House District committee, however, has warned the District Commissioners not to make any move to put the recommendations of the Civil Rights committee into effect while Congress is in adjournment.

The drastic nature of the program contemplated by the Civil Commission, which has the backing of the Department of Justice, can be understood by the provisions or enforcement. These would provide that any licensed operator of a real estate agency, or of a multi family dwelling could have his license revoked if held in violation of the regulations.

President Kennedy is expected by the end of the year to sign an executive order banning racial discrimination in federally financed housing. It is now possible that some attempt will be made to knock down racial housing bars as part of the expected presidential order.

The importance of the prospective move to force housing integration in Washington can be seen in the circumstance that if it measures up to the expectation of its sponsors here, a drive will probably be launched to make it effective in other cities.

The District of Columbia's population of approximately 900,000 is now 54 per cent colored, while school attendance is 80 per cent colored, and there are frequent complaints of discrimination or bias toward negroes by realtors and property owners in selling or leasing both single occupancy homes and apartments.

To handle these, the Civil Rights Commission would set up a multi-member panel to investigate complaints, to revoke licenses on proof of violations and to move through mediation and conciliation to eliminate violations.

President Kennedy started the move to end racial discrimination in housing during his 1960 campaign with a promise to ban it in federally assisted projects. However, he has held off for almost two years at the suggestion of his economic advisers who have told him that many proposed housing projects would be cancelled and construction expenditure reduced by many millions if such an order were issued. Now the President appears to be caught, during a national campaign in which his party is making a strong bid for the negro vote, between the pressure of the racial groups on one hand and the construction industry on the other. It is expected that he will wait until after the Nov. 6 election to decide upon his course of action.

Washington's suburbs are situated in Maryland and Virginia where the local communities have gained hundreds of thousands of new residents as a result of the rise in negro population in Washington and the steps already taken toward integration here. Though the drive to end racial bias in housing would not extend to these suburbs, a presidential executive order banning racial discrimination in federally financed housing would.

Draft Hearings

Law Expires In June, Administration Will Seek Extension

Look for thorough hearings in both Senate and House of Representatives on Draft law, which expires next June, before any extension which it is expected the Administration will urge, is voted. Some important members of Congress do not believe extension of draft in its present form is desirable. Military policies of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara are now being seriously questioned in both branches of Congress, especially his changing views on reserve call - ups, and will also be subject of Congressional inquiry.

PROMOTION FOR SHRIVER? — Reports persist that President Kennedy is preparing to promote Sargent Shriver, his brother - in - law, now head of the Peace Corps, to a high policy - making place. Shriver himself is understood to feel that he would like to have another post now that he considers the Peace Corps functioning well. Sargent, a resident of Illinois and moving up in its politics, once was under urging by Democratic leaders in that state to seek the Democratic nomination for the senatorial seat now held by Republican Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

ANTI - BIAS ORDER — There is some guessing that President Kennedy will issue a ban on housing discrimination around October 10. Date is picked because it is a comfortable time after the adjournment of Congress and not too close to election. But there are those who look for such an order any day now and others who predict it will not come before the November election. Some fear its economic effects, say it would cause a heavy decline in housing starts. Robert C. Weaver, who heads the Housing and Home Finance Agency, highest position held by a Negro in the Kennedy Administration, urges strongest possible ban on discrimination against Negroes, but his close friends scoff at idea he will quit his post if it is not soon forthcoming.

"POLITICAL" PROJECT ANNOUNCEMENTS — Republicans are increasingly resentful "political favoritism" shown by the Administration in allowing Democratic Senators and Representatives to make announcements of military, public works and other projects in their States or Districts. Especially bitter is Senator Margaret Chase Smith, Maine Republican, who charges favoritism toward her junior colleague, Edmund S. Muskie, Democrat. Senator Smith charged the White House with having leaked to Senator Muskie advance information on a submarine contract important to her state, while withholding the same information from her although she had made repeated requests for it. This was not the first instance of this kind of favoritism, she charged. Result, Senator Smith said, gives Democratic members of Congress "political advantage through the manipulation of news about the people's affairs." Republicans also pointed out that when the Board of Army Engineers a few days ago approved a $900,000,000 project for the canalization of the Trinity River in Texas, the announcement was made by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

"OLE" MISS SENATE RACE —Capitol Hill politicos expect Governor Ross Barnett, the embattled Mississippi Governor to be a candidate for the United States Senate against present Senator John C. Stennis. Barnett is prohibited by the Mississippi Constitution from seeking re-election when his present term expires. Stennis, now serving his third term, is high on the Appropriations, Armed Services, and Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committees.

Self-Treatment

Unaware Of It, People Go About Committing Slow Suicide

Dear Dr. Steincrohn: Is there anything wrong in going to the drugstore and getting some aspirin to take for a headache? Or to buy a tonic for nerves? Or get some other simple medicine? It's too expensive to go running to the doctor all the time and bothering him.—Mrs. E.

Comment: Most people don't realize it, but that is the very philosophy which is the basis for slow suicide which many people commit unknowingly. Self - diagnosis and self - treatment are potential TNT for many patients. In 1950 Wilfred Funk, Inc., of New York published my book called, "How To Stop Killing Yourself." It was the most successful of all my books, selling about 100,000 copies and being translated into a dozen languages. I guess that human beings — whatever their country or nationality — were curious about its basic premise: that we human beings go about killing ourselves consciously and unconsciously.

That was 12 years ago. But, as Mrs. E.'s short note indicates, people haven't changed too much. Unaware of it, they still go about committing slow suicide. I suppose that it is for this reason that the publishers have asked me to revise and bring up to date, "How To Stop Killing Yourself." If you haven't read the original edition, beg, borrow or buy (but don't steal) a copy of the new edition which will be out in the bookstores and public libraries in October of this year.

In it you will read of the dangers of self-diagnosis and self-treatment. Of course it's all right to go to the drugstore and get aspirin for an occasional headache. Or some salve to put on a lip sore. Or some mixture to take for "indigestion." Or a tonic or vitamins for that tired feeling.

But don't you see how important it is for you to know what is causing the headaches? Suppose they are not simple sinus or nervous headaches? Suppose the underlying cause is undetected kidney disease or high blood pressure or a serious disorder of the red blood cells called polycythemia? Suppose the persistent sore on the lip is more than a sore—cancer? Suppose that the simple indigestion is not that simple—but due to an ulcer or cancer of the stomach? Suppose that run-down feeling is more than that—a severe anemia or a symptom of threatening chronic illness?

You see, it isn't the simple drugs you take that are injurious and life - threatening. It's the loss of time that is so crucial in this fight for existence. Cancer treated early can be cured; but taking harmless medicines endangers life only because they put off the visit to the doctor who might make the correct diagnosis in time.

You take the chance of killing yourself by self - treatment because that involves making your own diagnosis. In other words, when you waste precious time for months while taking your own treatment, it means that you have yourself ruled out cancer, ulcer, heart disease, anemia, or dozens of other conditions. The point I am trying to make is that you take on an awful responsibility when you make the diagnosis yourself and treat yourself.

I recall many innocent, well-meaning patients who have actually killed themselves by self-diagnosis and self-treatment. Ask your doctor. I'm sure he has also seen the sad victims who came too late. The saddest words in the doctor's vocabulary are simple ones he often has to tell the family of the stricken one: "If he had only come in a few months earlier."

Do you see what I mean, Mrs. E.? Don't be afraid of "bothering" your doctor.

Dr. Steincrohn's leaflet, "How To Overcome Tension and Fatigue," will be mailed to you on receipt of a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin for handling. Address your request to Dr. Steincrohn, c-o this newspaper.

EDITORIALS

Traitors For What?

Probably one of the least profitable professions in the world is that of being a traitor. Forgetting loyalty and patriotism and honor, some go down to degradation and shame for mere pittances, literally selling their national birthrights for a mess of pottage.

A young navy man, with access to secret electronics information, has been arrested for conspiring to sell our defense information to the Soviet Union.

Nelson Cornelius Drummond, 33, yeoman first class, thus joins a company of modern traitors, including Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, David Greenglass, Harry Gold, Morton Sobell, Alfred Dean Slack, Judith Coplon, Alfred and Martha Stern, William Ludwig Ullman and Victor Reno. These were all Americans and all sold out their country to the Soviet Union, usually for a piddling price.

Drummond, who had contacts with two Russians working at the United Nations, was a Negro. This means that the communists will play up his arrest as an alleged case of racial discrimination.

The Drummond case points up two important things: 1. Soviet espionage machinery in the United States is as fearsome as it was when our atomic secrets were stolen by the Rosenbergs and their cronies. 2. The diplomatic machinery of the Soviet based in this country is, as always, a spy network.

Back in March, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, brother of the President, belittled the danger of the communist party in the United States. He missed the point of national concern about communists within the United States. Anyone with a mind as shrewd as that of the attorney general should know that a handful of well-placed spies can bring havoc to our security system. If the arrest of this spy means that Robert Kennedy has awakened somewhat more to the danger that communists, both inside the United States and in Russia, can pose for this country, we are indeed glad. Failure to realize a danger and to ferret it out and crush it can be as dangerous as are the activities of the spies and enemies of our nation.

Postal Pay, Deficit

Postal workers probably are as much entitled to pay increases as anyone else who is getting them this year, but what about those who aren't getting them and what about the postal deficit that the increase in postal rates was intended to erase? Also, will the time come when pay in government jobs is so much better than the average that practically everyone will want to get into government service, thus increasing the power of federal government?

There seems little doubt that postal rate increases will be adopted at this session. Senate, House and the President are all expected to go along. As a matter of fact, there apparently was not much concerted opposition.

Officials kept pointing to the post office department deficit and saying that department ought to pay its own way. Of course, there were many who believed it would be more logical to apply some of the government's money to taking care of the deficit than to give it away, willy-nilly, to practically any country that asked for it, particularly those trying to go communistic or already communistic, in the form of so-called foreign aid. Senator Allen Ellender of Louisiana said he regretted seeing first class postage rates raised, inasmuch as first class mail is already paying its way, and also disliked very much to see second class rates raised because of the educational value of material coming under this classification. However, regretful thinking was about as far as any opposition to the increase went.

On January 7 the price of stamps will go up. Ordinary stamps will be five cents and air mail will be eight. There will also be increases in postage paid for second class mail, which applies to magazines and newspapers, and third class mail, covering advertising.

The new prices are expected to put another $602 million dollars into the treasury. If that were all there is to the law, we would at last have the postal service paying its own way again, as it once did. At the old postage rates, the post office department has had to dip into income tax money for about $550 million a year to meet bills.

New legislation includes pay raises for postal workers at the rate of about $446 million annually.

Talk for raising postal rates was pitched on the argument that enough income should be received to meet the costs but the pay raises will knock that into a cocked hat.

We still have for another congress, some other year, the unfinished business of ending deficit spending in the portion of the central government which touches the daily lives of more citizens than any other. What other way than another increase in postal rates? How high can even first class rates go without being prohibitive?

Watching Sacred Cows

That statement was made by Congressman Charles S. Gubser, Republican, California, in discussing some of the shocking expenditures of United States foreign aid money and the way in which Congressman Otto E. Passman, Democrat, Louisiana, exposes these practices and fights to reduce foreign aid appropriations.

Congressman Gubser stated: "If it were not for Congressman Passman, chairman of the subcommittee which makes recommendations for foreign aid appropriations billions of dollars would be hidden behind such ruses like 'secret emergency' and 'contingency' funds. We would never know of shocking things such as our payments of United Nations assessments for Cuba. We would not have known of our unnecessary payment of $120 million in cash to the Inter-American Development Bank which, in turn, bought U.S. bonds on which we paid $2,400,000 interest. Except for Passman's probing, we would not have known that countries like Cambodia, Saudi Arabia, Nigeria and Iran receive foreign aid and use it to buy our gold in Fort Knox".

No nation in the world ever tried as hard as the United States has done to be a combined Santa Claus and fairy godmother to the rest of the world. There are now 113 recognized nations in the world. Next year the United States will send foreign aid money to 101 of them. Those which won't get foreign aid must be too democratic for the liking of the New Frontier or are willing to stand on their own feet without asking for handouts. Most of them want to take our money so they can buy our bonds and make us pay interest on them.

If any country ever had a sacred cow that was over-fat the United States has it in its foreign aid program.

Missouri Campaign Hectic

Missouri's senatorial race is attracting little attention nationally, but it should because it's the stormiest the "Show Me" state has seen in many years.

This is due chiefly to R. Crosby Kemper Jr., the unusual and turbulently colorful Republican opponent of Democratic Senator Edward Long.

Tall, dark, handsome and wealthy, Kemper is making hectic campaign history in a state long noted for it. Although this is his first try for public office, he is going about it in a highly personal and unconventional manner.

Everything about him is out of the ordinary.

Thirty - five years old, 6 feet 7½, with a full head of gleaming black hair sharply barbered and combed, a member of an old Missouri banking family and a bank president himself, Kemper was a Democrat until about a year ago. In 1958, he actively supported Senator Stuart Symington, D, for reelection.

But in the fall of 1961, Kemper threw his hat into the ring for the GOP Senatorial nomination, and forthwith began electioneering vigorously throughout Missouri. After traveling more than 50,000 miles by plane, train and auto, and making upwards of 600 speeches, he emerged the hands-down winner over four rivals in this year's August 7 primary.

Kemper oozes complete confidence of a similar victory in the November 6 election. But so far there are few surface indications to back that up.

All the polls give Senator Long a decided edge — thus confirming his impressive primary ballot which gave him a 3 to 2 margin over the total Republican tally, 370,000 to 178,000. The total Democratic vote was 428,000, Long beating two rivals who got 58,000 between them.

Kemper polled 119,000, with the other 59,000 being divided among his four G.O.P. opponents.

In 1960, Long demonstrated his quiet but potent vote - winning ability with a triumph of 120,000, while President Kennedy barely carried Missouri by the slim margin of 9,000. Then Lieutenant Governor, Long was appointed to fill out the term of the late liberal Democratic Senator Thomas Hennings.

But while apparently well in the lead, Long, 54, is taking no chances against his younger and flamboyant Republican rival.

Long, an able campaign veteran who rose from county attorney, is "running scared," and getting a lot of high - powered Democratic support. Due to campaign for him are President Kennedy, former President Truman, Vice President Lyndon Johnson, Senators Estes Kefauver, Tenn., Eugene McCarthy, Minn., Robert Kerr, Okla., and other party notables.

SOUND AND FURY — Young Crosby Kemper also is getting big name backing.

Senator John Tower, Tex., is heading a list of numerous top Republicans who are going to bat for Kemper. But he's wasting no time furiously stirring up the hustings by himself.

It's very obvious Kemper is his own best campaigner — for better or worse.

He is blasting his Democratic opponent as an "Administration patsy," "rubber stamp," "pro Socialist," "spender," and "internationalist." For good measure, Kemper also is heatedly denouncing President Kennedy and his liberal programs, and Senator Stuart Symington — whom Kemper warmly supported in 1958.

In fact, on occasion, Kemper inveighs so furiously against Symington that an outsider might wonder whether he is running against him instead of Long.

Some GOP leaders have sought to restrain young Kemper's free-wheeling slam-banging. They have advised him to speak more moderately and impersonally. But he has paid no heed to this counsel, and is continuing to whoop it up in his own uninhibited way.

Illustrative is the irate letter he wrote the publisher of the St. Joseph News-Press when he endorsed Senator Long. That extraordinary blast and the publisher's reply, both printed in the paper, are as follows:

KEMPER — —"I was certainly surprised at your weak and poorly written editorial concerning your endorsement of pro - Socialist Ed Long . . . I have absolutely no respect for you or your newspaper, and think you a jellyfish and a man of no principles. It is leadership such as you are giving St. Joseph and Missouri that is the real trouble with America.

"I hope that your conscience, if you have one, is tortured from here on out . . . You are so poorly informed and unknowledgeable that you are in error in saying my father was a Democrat first, last and always. He has always been an independent."

THE PUBLISHER'S REPLY — "The first part of your letter confirms my opinion about your maturity and judgement. Your father is listed as a Democrat in his self-approved biography in the 1962 edition of "WHO'S WHO IN AMERICA."

Long, a freshman senator, is highly regarded by Democratic leaders, as evidenced by their naming him to three powerful committees — Judiciary, Banking & Currency, and the Standing Committee. As a senator, he is known as a hard and conscientious worker who consistently supports the Kennedy Administration.

POLITICALS — Former Vice President Nixon is leaving nothing undone to garner every possible vote in his campaign for governor of California. He has personally asked District of Columbia G.O.P. leaders to open an absentee voter bureau there, and to launch a drive among the numerous Californians to cast their ballots for him. In 1960, Nixon won California, thanks to absentee voters. Kennedy had a slight margin in that state until absentee ballots swung it to Nixon . . . Teddy Kennedy, 30-year-old brother of the President, has asked his unsuccessful Democratic opponent for the senatorial nomination to campaign for him. Teddy made this request in a telephone talk with State Attorney General Edward McCormack. The latter replied he plans to "campaign for the whole Democratic ticket," but went no further. Partisans of McCormack doubt he will go out of his way to do anything for Teddy . . . President Kennedy will definitely campaign in Oregon for Senator Wayne Morse. The militant liberal Democrat was personally told that by the President. No date has yet been set for the President's electioneering in Oregon, but he now intends to include it in his campaign schedule . . . Springfield, Ill., home of Abraham Lincoln, is on the President's itinerary when he campaigns in that state on October 19 for Representative Sidney Yates in his effort to unseat Senate Republican Leader Everett Dirksen. On that same day, the President also will address a big Democratic rally in Chicago.

CHARLES O. GRIDLEY

District Of Columbia May Be First To Feel Effects Of Ban

Public school integration in Washington was put into effect immediately after the Supreme Court banned public school segregation in 1954. The federal capital thus became the first segregated school system to eliminate racial separation under the court's order. Now the District of Columbia, which is governed directly by three commissioners, may be the first to ban housing discrimination under "anti - bias" regulations.

They are not yet in effect, but have been recommended by U. S. Civil Rights Administration and the District Commissioners have been told by legal authority that they have power to enact such regulations.

If the anti bias pattern is adopted, it will mark another first for the nation's capital in the move toward integration by authority of the judicial branch of the government. Though the commissioners meet within the shadow of the Capitol building Congress could be ignored in the new move toward segregation schooling.

One subcommittee of the House District committee, however, has warned the District Commissioners not to make any move to put the recommendations of the Civil Rights committee into effect while Congress is in adjournment.

The drastic nature of the program contemplated by the Civil Commission, which has the backing of the Department of Justice, can be understood by the provisions or enforcement. These would provide that any licensed operator of a real estate agency, or of a multi family dwelling could have his license revoked if held in violation of the regulations.

President Kennedy is expected by the end of the year to sign an executive order banning racial discrimination in federally financed housing. It is now possible that some attempt will be made to knock down racial housing bars as part of the expected presidential order.

The importance of the prospective move to force housing integration in Washington can be seen in the circumstance that if it measures up to the expectation of its sponsors here, a drive will probably be launched to make it effective in other cities.

The District of Columbia's population of approximately 900,000 is now 54 per cent colored, while school attendance is 80 per cent colored, and there are frequent complaints of discrimination or bias toward negroes by realtors and property owners in selling or leasing both single occupancy homes and apartments.

To handle these, the Civil Rights Commission would set up a multimember panel to investigate complaints, to revoke licenses on proof of violations and to move through mediation and conciliation to eliminate violations.

President Kennedy started the move to end racial discrimination in housing during his 1960 campaign with a promise to ban it in federally assisted projects. However, he has held off for almost two years at the suggestion of his economic advisers who have told him that many proposed housing projects would be cancelled and construction expenditure reduced by many millions if such an order were issued. Now the President appears to be caught, during a national campaign in which his party is making a strong bid for the negro vote, between the pressure of the racial groups on one hand and the construction industry on the other. It is expected that he will wait until after the Nov. 6 election to decide upon his course of action.

Washington's suburbs are situated in Maryland and Virginia where the local communities have gained hundreds of thousands of new residents as a result of the rise in negro population in Washington and the steps already taken toward integration here. Though the drive to end racial bias in housing would not extend to these suburbs, a presidential executive order banning racial discrimination in federally financed housing would.

Draft Hearings

Law Expires In June, Administration Will Seek Extension

Look for thorough hearings in both Senate and House of Representatives on Draft law, which expires next June, before any extension which it is expected the Administration will urge, is voted. Some important members of Congress do not believe extension of draft in its present form is desirable. Military policies of Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara are now being seriously questioned in both branches of Congress, especially his changing views on reserve call - ups, and will also be subject of Congressional inquiry.

PROMOTION FOR SHRIVER? — Reports persist that President Kennedy is preparing to promote Sargent Shriver, his brother - in - law, now head of the Peace Corps, to a high policy - making place. Shriver himself is understood to feel that he would like to have another post now that he considers the Peace Corps functioning well. Sargent, a resident of Illinois and moving up in its politics, once was under urging by Democratic leaders in that state to seek the Democratic nomination for the senatorial seat now held by Republican Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen.

ANTI - BIAS ORDER — There is some guessing that President Kennedy will issue a ban on housing discrimination around October 10. Date is picked because it is a comfortable time after the adjournment of Congress and not too close to election. But there are those who look for such an order any day now and others who predict it will not come before the November election. Some fear its economic effects, say it would cause a heavy decline in housing starts. Robert C. Weaver, who heads the Housing and Home Finance Agency, highest position held by a Negro in the Kennedy Administration, urges strongest possible ban on discrimination against Negroes, but his close friends scoff at idea he will quit his post if it is not soon forthcoming.

"POLITICAL" PROJECT ANNOUNCEMENTS — Republicans are increasingly resentful "political favoritism" shown by the Administration in allowing Democratic Senators and Representatives to make announcements of military, public works and other projects in their States or Districts. FAA CHIEF SAYS

Photos Indicate Pilot Violations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency said Friday that photographic evidence recently produced by flight engineers indicates on its face that at least three airline pilots were inattentive to duty while commanding flights. N. E. Halaby, FAA administrator told a news conference that as soon as this prima facie evidence is verified the agency will take corrective action.

This could be suspension or revocation of the pilot's license, or a civil penalty.

Halaby also announced that the agency is calling back its "Project Tightrope" committee of distinguished lawyers for help in general overhauling of flight safety enforcement procedures.

Halaby said that photographs and statements by flight engineers and stewardesses, if verified, indicate that "a very serious condition existed in airline operations of five, four, three, two years ago and could possibly exist today."

Halaby said that some of the photographs which have come to light within the past two weeks have been verified as authentic.

"Our evidence doesn't bear out some statements that this is now prevalent," he said, adding however that "we are redoubling our efforts to assure that management takes action with pilots, copilots, flight engineers and stewardesses to make certain that this does not happen again."

Halaby said there have been few cases in the past of proved violations, but when they have been discovered the FAA action has been very strict.

The first set of photographs submitted by a flight engineer, designed to show lack of attention to duty by pilots in their cockpits, identified 18 flights.

Halaby said these were subjected to FBI laboratory analysis. The man who provided the pictures, an Eastern Air Lines engineer forced out of work by a strike, identified "quite a few" crew members and they have been interviewed.

Halaby said that early next week he will determine the action to be taken.

He added that he has written to the president of each airline and of the pilots and flight engineers unions indicating the FAA findings, asking for evidence, and urging action to prevent further violations.

Solons To Get $50 Each Meet

BATON ROUGE (AP)—House speaker Tom Jewell said Friday the seven-member Legislative Reapportionment Committee was entitled to per diem expenses other interim committees receive.

This means the members will be paid $50 each day they meet.

The group, headed by Rep. Warren J. Simon, of Vermilion Parish, has been conducting weekly public hearings in the state Capitol to draft recommendations for the next legislature.

Senate Approves Reapportioning In Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The Mississippi Senate reversed itself Friday night and gave 30-15 approval to a controversial legislative reapportionment proposal built around enlarging the Senate to 82 members.

The measure, rewritten by a House-Senate conference committee earlier in the day, had failed on its first try and was held alive on a motion to reconsider.

There were no arguments on the proposal. It was opposed by reapportionment forces and backed by mostly those who had successfully opposed reapportionment until the U. S. Supreme Court ruled federal courts could hear reapportionment cases where states failed to redistribute legislative seats on a fair basis.

The difference between the successful effort and the earlier unsuccessful try was a switch by Sen. Ed Henry of Canton. He had voted against it, then voted for it after a conference in the office of Gov. Ross Barnett.

The first vote was 29-16 in favor of the constitutional amendment proposal, but it needed a two-thirds majority to carry.

The measure which carried on its second try was a compromise.

Sen. Flavous Lambert of Belmont, who opposed the compromise, entered a motion to reconsider and lawmakers planned a 12:05 a.m. session Saturday to dispose of his motion. Motions to reconsider cannot be brought up the day on which they are entered.

British Youth Shot In N. O. En Route Home

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A 22-year-old British youth, paralized from the waist down by an accidental shot, left New Orleans by air Friday en route home.

Peter Martin was carried aboard an Air Force Aeromedical transport on a stretcher. The plane will fly him to McGuire Air Force Base, N. J., where he will be transferred to a jet for the transatlantic flight to Mildenhall, England.

Accompanying young Martin was his father, Arthur Martin.

Martin was shot Sept. 3 when he was mistaken for a burglar at a suburban motel where he wzs staying. He had been working in Birmingham, Ala., during the summer and had come to New Orleans for the Labor Day weekend.

He was struck in the chest by two bullets. One pierced his heart and a lung and lodged near the spine. The youth is to under go further surgery in England.

The plight of the honor graduate of St. Andrews University, Scotland, drew warm sympathy from the people of New Orldans. They donated a rare type blood, sent presents and offered up prayers for his recovery.

Bishop Urges New Approach By Preachers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Christianity's prime task is to find a new and dynamic approach to the working man and his problems, the head of world Methodism said Friday.

And part of that challenge, said Bishop Fred Pierce Corson, is for preachers to stop sermonizing and start talking to the common people in language they can understand and believe in.

Bishop Corson, who is also president of the World Council of Churches, noted in an interview before setting out for the ecumenical council of the Roman Catholic Church in Rome that statistics indicate the growth of Christianity has not kept pace with population increase.

"This doesn't mean the church is moribund, but it does mean we must reappraise our approach to the needs of contemporary society," he continued.

"That was the over-all concern of Pope John in calling the second ecumenical (Vatican) Council. Both the Protestant and the Roman Catholic churches are convinced that we must renew the vitality of Christianity among the masses. We must make our position cleare on social and moral issues.

Brandt Predicts Soviet Premier To Visit U. N.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt said Friday he and President Kennedy both believe Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev will show up at the United Nations sometime next month.

Brandt made the statement after a one-hour talk with the President at the White House.

"We took it for granted," Brandt told reporters "that Khrushchev might show up here (in the United States) in the second half of November."

Brandt added that he considers a Khrushchev visit "a probability."

FAA CHIEF SAYS

Photos Indicate Pilot Violations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Aviation Agency said Friday that photographic evidence recently produced by flight engineers indicates on its face that at least three airline pilots were inattentive to duty while commanding flights. N. E. Halaby, FAA administrator told a news conference that as soon as this prima facie evidence is verified the agency will take corrective action.

This could be suspension or revocation of the pilot's license, or a civil penalty.

Halaby also announced that the agency is calling back its "Project Tightrope" committee of distinguished lawyers for help in general overhauling of flight safety enforcement procedures.

Halaby said that photographs and statements by flight engineers and stewardesses, if verified, indicate that "a very serious condition existed in airline operations of five, four, three, two years ago and could possibly exist today."

Halaby said that some of the photographs which have come to light within the past two weeks have been verified as authentic.

"Our evidence doesn't bear out some statements that this is now prevalent," he said, adding however that "we are redoubling our efforts to assure that management takes action with pilots, copilots, flight engineers and stewardesses to make certain that this does not happen again."

Halaby said there have been few cases in the past of proved violations, but when they have been discovered the FAA action has been very strict.

The first set of photographs submitted by a flight engineer, designed to show lack of attention to duty by pilots in their cockpits, identified 18 flights.

Halaby said these were subjected to FBI laboratory analysis. The man who provided the pictures, an Eastern Air Lines engineer forced out of work by a strike, identified "quite a few" crew members and they have been interviewed.

Halaby said that early next week he will determine the action to be taken.

He added that he has written to the president of each airline and of the pilots and flight engineers unions indicating the FAA findings, asking for evidence, and urging action to prevent further violations.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

By MERTON T. AKERS

Like the French king who marched his army up the hill and then marched it down again, Confederate Gen. Braxton Bragg invaded Kentucky in the fall of 1862 and then retraced his steps.

The French king and Bragg came out about the same. Bragg fought one battle to a standoff and then retired from what seemed to be a better than 50-50 chance for victory. The only tangible military result was a big haul of Federal equipment. He threw a good scare into cities along the Ohio River, notably Cincinnati and Louisville, but it was only a scare.

His companion Confederate general on the invasion, Edmund Kirby Smith, fared better. He won a battle and chased the Union troops from Cumberland Gap.

Bragg and Kirby Smith started their invasion of Kentucky, in August 1862. Bragg moved from Chattanooga, Tenn., with about 40,000 men, skirting east of Nashville, Tenn., the capital, which Federals held.

Kirby Smith started from Knoxville, Tenn., with 21,000 men. He sent 9,000 to clean out the Federal garrison at Cumberland Gap. Pickings were slim for Kirby Smith's men across southern Kentucky. A long drought made water scarce. The army lived mostly on apples, roasting ears and salt, a large quantity of which they captured at Barbourville, Ky.

On Aug. 29, 1862, the army climbed Big Hill and before it lay the Kentucky Bluegrass region, the "promised land" for them.

A few miles north near Richmond, Ky., Kirby Smith's cavalry ran into Union resistance about sundown and the troopers were forced back on the infantry.

The Union troops belonged to the command of William Nelson, major general and former naval officer. "Ardent, loud-mouthed and violent," a fellow officer described him. He was 6 feet 5 inches tall and weighed about 300 pounds. That night he was in Lexington, Ky., about 20 miles north of Richmond. His force consisted of two small divisions of green troops, some of who had been in active service for only three days. The two brigadiers in command were lately out of civilian life.

The new brigadiers put up a good fight against Kirby Smith's veterans on the morning of Aug. 30 but by noon, when Nelson arrived from Lexington, they were retreating. He rallied the shaky troops on a ridge and paraded in front of them as Rebel bullets whizzed past.

"If they can't hit me they can't hit anything," he assured his troops, his bulk making a big target.

"Our troops stood about three rounds when, struck by a panic, they fled in utter disorder," he reported later.

He was wrong about Confederate marksmanship. He was hit twice but escaped.

The Battle of Richmond was virtually a clean sweep for Kirby Smith's men. They killed 206 Federals, wounded 844 and captured 4,303 along with 9 guns, the whole Union wagon train with its stores, and 10,000 small arms. What few Union troops escaped scattered into the hills. Kirby Smith lost 78 killed, 372 wounded and 1 missing.

The Confederates entered Lexington Sept. 2 and were cheered. The next day they reached Frankfort, the capital.

While Kirby Smith was invading eastern Kentucky, Bragg had moved north from Chattanooga and had entered Kentucky above Gainsboro, Tenn.

Maj. Gen. Don Carlos Buell, commander of the Union army in Tennessee, marched parallel to Bragg to the west, protecting Nashville.

Bragg beat Buell into Kentucky and threatened Bowling Green, a Federal supply base. Leaving enough men in Nashville to defend it, Buell raced for Bowling Green. He arrived there one day after Bragg reached Glasgow, 35 miles to the east. That put Bragg a little closer to Louisville than Buell — perhaps one day's march.

The Confederates were in a good spot at Glasgow. If Buell continued north toward Louisville, Brass could attack his extended army on the flank. If Buell cared to attack, Bragg held a good battle position. Neither event happened. But the unexpected was precipitated by Confederate Brig. Gen. James R. Chalmers. His brigade was on outpost duty at Cave City, 10 miles northwest of Glasgow. He made contact with some of Kirby Smith's cavalrymen who had cut the railroad north of Munfordville, isolating a Federal garrison on the south bank of the Green River across from Munfordville. The Union commander refused to surrender to the Confederate cavalry. Would Chalmers help the cavalry? He would.

Without notifying Bragg, Chalmers attacked the outpost and was beaten off. He tried another angle. He notified Col. J. T. Wilder, of the 17th Indiana Volunteers, the Federal commander, that Bragg's whole army was close behind. Wilder might as well surrender "to avoid further bloodshed." Wilder replied that "if you want to avoid bloodshed keep out of the range of my guns."

Chalmers concluded to do just that, gathered up his 288 dead — exactly four times Wilder's losses — and reported to Bragg, saying "I may have incurred censure at Headquarters for my action." He was right, he had. Bragg was furious. A battle at Munfordville was no part of his plans. He moved his whole army against Wilder.

By Sept. 16, Bragg was in position. Then he tried his hand at demanding surrender.

Knowing Maj. Gen. Simon Buckner was in the Confederate forces and that Buckner had a reputation as a man of honor, Wilder sent a flag of truce to Buckner and asked his advice about surrendering. Buckner was taken aback at this unconventional method of waging war and declined to advise Wilder. But he did show the Federal colonel 46 guns ready to reduce the outpost.

"I believe I'll surrender," Wilder said, and promptly did.

Bragg listed the loot as 4,267 prisoners, 10 guns, 5,000 rifles and horses, mules and ammunition.

The Confederates again moved north, Buell keeping pace to the west and slightly behind.

Twenty miles farther on, Bragg suddenly swung east over Muldraugh's Hill, between the Green River and the south fork of the Salt River, and away from Louisville.

Buell saw his opportunity and marched into Louisville without delay, his first forces arriving Sept. 24.

Buell had won the race to the Ohio, largely by default, and the Ohio Valley could relax.

Bragg moved to Bardstown, Ky. Kirby Smith still was in Frankfort, 40 air miles northeast.

Some Kentuckians cheered the invaders and fed them. But few were enthusiastic enough to enlist.

Why did Bragg let Buell get away without a fight? Why after a 600-mile march and with his army squarely across Federal communications, did he decline the chance which seemed so rosy?

Bragg laid his failure to fight to a scarcity of supplies although his army was in the midst of a bountiful land.

Most historians have concluded Bragg simply could not act when the chips were down.

By Oct. 1, Buell had reorganized his forces in Louisville and was moving again, this time south toward Bragg.

SWEATING SICKNESS OF YORE

The chambers of commerce in most cities and countries are extremely sensitive to adverse publicity. Bad weather, dirty living conditions, and epidemics of serious diseases head the list of unpopular occurrences.

These civic organizations would have had the horrors had they lived in London in 1485, when the sweating sickness was rampant. According to Humes, "It was a species of malady unknown to any other age or nation, the sweating sickness, which occasioned the sudden death of great multitedes." The authorities thought the new scourge was not contagious but arose from "the general disposition of the air."

But continental Europeans had their own ideas. Kenneth Walker, in "The Story of Medicine," says the disorder was called the "English sweat" and it was balmed on the English climate and lack of hygiene among the people. A rumor was started that it had rained continuously for five years prior to the first outbreak of this disease. Apparently John Bull's weather gave rise to as many jokes then as now.

In addition, those living on the continent deplored the filth and the gluttonous habits of the English. No wonder medical writers in that country published little about the disorder in which " . . . a deadly and burining sweate invaded their bodies and vexed their blood, and with a most ardent heat, infested the stomacke and the head grievously. . . being not able to suffer the importunate heate, they cast away the sheetes and all the clothes lying on the bed."

A contemporary account of the last epidemic (1551) was written by John Caius (1510-73). He was living at Shrewsbury where 960 persons died within a few days. He wrote that " . . . funeral bells tolled day and night."

Caius said the disease came on suddenly with chills, fever, headache, abdominal pain, and profuse perspiration. Many victims died within a few hours after the onset of symptoms. A characteristic odor occurred and at times, a rash.

Sweating sickness is no more. What was it? We suspect a viral infection, a malignant form of typhoid, or an overwhelming streptococcal disorder.

EASING ULCER PAIN

Heat relaxes muscle spasm but pain is relieved more promptly by the antacids and antipasmodic drugs. Even a glass of milk is superior to heat.

BROADWAYITES CLOSE TO THE NEW Sidney Kingsley play, "Night Life" think Jimmy Hoffa will flip his lid when he sees — or hears about — actor Neville Brand's portrayal of a labor leader. But those who know the redoubtable Mr. Hoffa best are betting he'll cool it, no matter how devastating the resemblance . . . Lana Turner's reaction to Harold Robbins' latest novel, "Where Love Has Gone" (pretty title, isn't it?) ought to be more violent. But Lana's been reported living the enthusiastic life lately, giving a party for the entire staff of a Spanish late spot on the West Coast, rather a la Ava Gardner, so perhaps she's become philosophical.

France Dimanche has joined the host of European papers that have printed the famous "on the beach" kissing scene starring Richard Burton and Elizabeth Taylor in real life, only the French paper funnily captions it "Cette terrible photo de Liz Taylor avec Richard Burton," while running it three columns wide. Recently Burton said the whole affair was cooked up by the newspapers, and that when he and Liz had an innocent drink in a cafe in Rome, chaperoned by a friend, the friend was cropped out of the scene by those awful sensation-seeking press photographers, and he would swear that Kirk Douglas' body was used for his (Burton's) in the printed version of the picture. If he suggests that Kirk's body was used for the bathing trunks — kissing pose, he's liable to get a punch in the nose; Kirk is in far better shape, physically. (Again, however, the chaperone is missing from "cette terrible photo," although the two principals are so close together it's hard to figure out how a chaperone could have squeezed into the act.)

ONE OF THE MAJOR NETWORKS, in great secrecy, has authorzed the filming of several important dramatic segments, "just in case" one of its big stars is unable or unwilling to finish the television season. The video network has good reason to be nervous . . . Lena Horne's new disc, "Come On Strong," is a blockbuster? but how is it getting by the radio station censors? . . . The famed Copacabana is due to get its decision next week. Along the Broadway beat, the betting is "They're gonna beat it."

"How to Succeed," which celebrates its first birthday soon, is expected to hit the half-million mark in clear profits by that time. Since this applies only to the Broadway operation, statisticians on the Shubert Alley scene are making fantastic estimates of its eventual "take," putting it in the "My Fair Lady" category . . . Crack arranger Ralph Burns tells friends the "Little Me" music is the best Broadway show score he's worked on in all the years he's been connected with music . . . Dovima, the top-flight fashion model, has left the modeling agency of which she was formerly part owner and has joined the Eileen Ford stable of beauties.

PETER NERO, THE BRILLIANT young pianist who seems to have everything — looks, charm, and audience appeal — is blueprinting his first Broadway musical. . . Those colorful Sunday Family Fiestas at La Fonda del Sol have been drawing a great many big parties, but they're not all composed of mom and pop and the kiddies. Schoolteachers have been herding in whole classes to catch the fun. Last week there was such a line waiting to get in, the management served them all enchiladas and Brazilian coffee.

The stripteasers continue to hope that being topical means boxoffice. Less than a week after the Big — but brief — Fight, there was a Sonia Liston and a Sunny Laston along the peeling circuit . . . Billy Reed's re-done Little Club will be shown to the celebs on Oct. 11. Those who've seen the new decor says it's smashing . . . Singer Charlie Applewhite's new date is Lola Mason, the blonde actress who once was a favorite number in Joe DiMaggio's little black book. Charlie's pals are cheered by the fact that because of the miracle of modern plastic surgery, the disfiguring scars from his plane crash of a year ago have been almost completely erased. And although almost every bone in his body was broken in the accident, he's in good health now and ready to make his comeback.

ALL KIM NOVAK'S CHUMS seem excited by the fact that she decided to stay in Paris for another 10 days or so "so she could spend more time with Richard Quine," who is directing a picture there. Or so she could get a little more publicity mileage out of the romance with Mr. Quine, as long as he has nothing more important to do, like a new movie? Kim could marry the guy, if she really wanted to prove she was nuts about him; what's so significant about spending a few more days in glorious Paris? . . . Quote from Van Cliburn: "I have been a sensation. Now I want to be a success."

"Divorce, Italian Style," has broken the all-time opening week records at the Paris Theatre, topping even Brigitte Bardot's "And God Created Woman" . . . Memo to members of the Musicians Union: The Jonathan Woodner Co. plans to erect a 22-story building right next to your headquarters, at 52d st. and 8th ave. It will be called "The Towers." It's amazing how many buildings are going up in New York, many of them in the luxury class, when the best-publicized new dwellings haven't been able to attract enough tenants in their price bracket . . . Romantic twosome: Cliff Robertson and Brazilian tennis player Maria Bueno . . . Bob Thiele, A & R head of Impulse records, and his ex-wife, singer Jane Harvey, are carrying on a running battle. Previously starred in local headlines, they're liable to make more, because Jane wants more alimony as soon as her process servers can find Bob in New York. He's been avoiding the unpleasantness by staying in Connecticut.

THIS WAS THE CIVIL WAR

Quote from Van Cliburn: "I have been a sensation. Now I want to be a success."

"Divorce, Italian Style," has broken the all-time opening week records at the Paris Theatre, topping even Brigitte Bardot's "And God Created Woman" . . . Memo to members of the Musicians Union: The Jonathan Woodner Co. plans to erect a 22-story building right next to your headquarters, at 52d st. and 8th ave. It will be called "The Towers." It's amazing how many buildings are going up in New York, many of them in the luxury class, when the best-publicized new dwellings haven't been able to attract enough tenants in their price bracket . . . Romantic twosome: Cliff Robertson and Brazilian tennis player Maria Bueno . . . Bob Thiele, A & R head of Impulse records, and his ex-wife, singer Jane Harvey, are carrying on a running battle. Previously starred in local headlines, they're liable to make more, because Jane wants more alimony as soon as her process servers can find Bob in New York. He's been avoiding the unpleasantness by staying in Connecticut.

DEAR ABBY

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My advice to people who want to meet someone, object matrimony, is to GET OUT OF THE HOUSE. Go where folks gather. Join hobby groups, go to the "Y" or take dancing lessons, or get active in church activities. Don't just sit around the house. The only person who will ever ring your doorbell is someone who wants to sell you something.

"LUCKY"

DEAR ABBY: I met my husband on the beach. If a girl wants to meet a nice man all she has to do is fix her hair real nice, get a good-looking bathing suit and go to the beach. It is best to go alone. Why bring your own competition with you?

GOT MINE

DEAR GOT: True! No point in bringing your own competition; it's usually already at the beach when you get there.

DEAR ABBY: She had been "spliced" several years before, and I had been a widower for years. She was lonely and so was I. To make a long story short and sweet, she complained that her plumbing was giving her trouble, so "handy Andy" offered to turn off her valve. She reciprocated by turning on her charm and, believe me, she had it. One thing led to another and we have been happily married for several beautiful years.

IN THE SEVENTIES

DEAR ABBY: Tell the girls who want to know how to trap a man to take up nursing. How fast can a guy run with his leg in a cast?

FRANK

DEAR ABBY: In reply to your request for first-hand information on how to meet your "one and only," I want to give you my experience. If you want to meet someone who is good and clean and God-fearing, go to church. You will find that person there. Folks who prowl around in bars will only run into people who are looking for trouble. And they usually find it.

TRIED BOTH

DEAR ABBY: Back in 1897, I was a young man who wanted to see the world. So I left home and traveled far and wide. I looked them all over, but never found the one for me — UNTIL I returned home. And there she was, right next door. The hunting is not always best in distant fields. Tell your readers not to run all over the world for something that could be just around the corner.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 10-6

NEW ORLEANS (Special) — Marion Monk of Batchelor, president of the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts and H. D. Burkhalter of Ruston will be among a group of leaders from business, industry and agriculture who will participate in a "Land and People Conference" here Oct. 15 and 16.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman will be general chairman of the conference and keynote speaker. John A. Baker, assistant secretary for rural development and conservation will serve as conference chairman.

Monk will be chairman of a panel set up to explore the subject of stimulating economic growth in rural areas. Burkhalter will be one of the six discussion leaders on the panel. His subject will be "The Physical Resource Base."

During the two - day conference 17 people from the Southeast will appear on the program to explore ways of tapping new resources to curb rural poverty.

More than 2,000 people from nine Southeastern states are expected to attend the conference which starts at 9:30 a.m. Monday. Louisiana Gov. Jimmie Davis will deliver the opening address after a welcome from New Orleans Mayor Victor Schiro.

Following the governor's address, Freeman will deliver the keynote address.

Among those in attendance will be Ed Berry, chairman of the Tensas - Concordia Soil Conservation District; Stanley Maxwell, vice chairman; George Bagley, secretary-treasurer; R. H. Spinks and James Barbre, Soil Conservation Service representatives.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you. 10-6

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP) Wheat tried to extend its rally into the third day on the Board of Trade Friday, but traders rushed in to take profits and the bread cereal dropped back with some losses up to a cent a bushel.

Brokers with export connections stepped into the market as buyers on the selloff, but only in a moderate way. When evening-up operations were completed at the close of trading, the distant contracts showed the sharpest losses. July wheat was off 1¾ at one time.

Buying by commission houses and export brokers kept corn futures firm for the second consecutive day. Fair amounts of the grain were sold to the United Kingdom and Holland.

Oats advanced in all futures contracts, helped by short covering and the absence of much selling pressure. West Germany bought a small amount of rye and short covering helped this grain too.

The soybean market was active with commercial house brokers both buying and selling, while commission houses favored the selling side. Weather over the soybean belt, where rains have delayed combining, remained unsettled.

Wheat was ⅜ cent a bushel higher to 1 lower at the close today, December $2.03¾; corn ⅜ to ½ higher, December $1.06⅝-¾; oats were ½ to ¾ cent higher, December 63⅞-64 cents; rye 1 cent higher to ⅛ lower, December $1.20, and soybeans ⅜ higher to ¼ lower, November $2.40-39.⅞.

COTTON

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 15 cents a bale higher to 55 cents lower Friday.

Nearby December and March were higher on trade buying. Later positions declined on persistent commission house and New Orleans selling.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sperry Rand Corp. has announced that its Utah Division in Salt Lake City has received a $9,001,357 Army contract for engineering work on the Sergeant Missile system.

JFK 'Cuba Fiasco' Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican congressional leaders blasted President Kennedy's handling of what they called the Cuban fiasco but disclaimed any attempt Friday to make Cuba a political campaign issue.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said the Republicans maintain bipartisanship in foreign affairs but have the right to give "factual" information about Cuba.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House Republican leader, said Cuba is not a campaign issue but "a matter of concern" to the people.

Halleck and Dirksen denied, at their weekly news conference, that they were trying to make political capital out of the Cuban situation.

Dirksen said everyone now knows the reason the Cuban invasion of April 1961 did not succeed "was because President Kennedy with held air support and publicly advised the people of Cuba that we would not help any civilian insurrection."

"Our loss of prestige, as a result of the Cuban fiasco," he said, "has since become more acute because of repeated Soviet shipments of military weapons and military personnel to Cuba without any intercession by the United States either under the Monroe Doctrine or through the Organization of American States."

Halleck also renewed his criticism of the Kennedy administration's domestic record. He said the cold, hard facts are that instead of moving forward the American economy "has actually slipped backward."

nedy took office, the cost of living has reached a record high, business failures are up, and the ratio of farm income to other prices is down.

RCA SALES UP

NEW YORK (UPI) — RCA Victor announced that sales of home instruments for the first nine months of this year jumped 36 per cent — a new all time sales record for the period.

GRAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat tried to extend its rally into the third day on the Board of Trade Friday, but traders rushed in to take profits and the bread cereal dropped back with some losses up to a cent a bushel.

Brokers with export connections stepped into the market as buyers on the selloff, but only in a moderate way. When evening-up operations were completed at the close of trading, the distant contracts showed the sharpest losses. July wheat was off 1¾ at one time.

Buying by commission houses and export brokers kept corn futures firm for the second consecutive day. Fair amounts of the grain were sold to the United Kingdom and Holland.

Oats advanced in all futures contracts, helped by short covering and the absence of much selling pressure. West Germany bought a small amount of rye and short covering helped this grain too.

The soybean market was active with commercial house brokers both buying and selling, while commission houses favored the selling side. Weather over the soybean belt, where rains have delayed combining, remained unsettled.

Wheat was ⅜ cent a bushel higher to 1 lower at the close today, December $2.03¾; corn ⅜ to ½ higher, December $1.06⅝-¾; oats were ½ to ¾ cent higher, December 63⅞-64 cents; rye 1 cent higher to ⅛ lower, December $1.20, and soybeans ⅜ higher to ¼ lower, November $2.40-39.⅞

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK (AP) — Cotton futures closed 15 cents a bale higher to 55 cents lower Friday.

Nearby December and March were higher on trade buying. Later positions declined on persistent commission house and New Orleans selling.

GETS ARMY CONDUCT

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sperry Rand Corp. has announced that its Utah Division in Salt Lake City has received a $9,001,357 Army contract for engineering work on the Sergeant Missile system.

JFK 'Cuba Fiasco' Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican congressional leaders blasted President Kennedy's handling of what they called the Cuban fiasco but disclaimed any attempt Friday to make Cuba a political campaign issue.

Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said the Republicans maintain bipartisanship in foreign affairs but have the right to give "factual" information about Cuba.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House Republican leader, said Cuba is not a campaign issue but "a matter of concern" to the people.

Halleck and Dirksen denied, at their weekly news conference, that they were trying to make political capital out of the Cuban situation.

Dirksen said everyone now knows the reason the Cuban invasion of April 1961 did not succeed "was because President Kennedy with held air support and publicly advised the people of Cuba that we would not help any civilian insurrection."

"Our loss of prestige, as a result of the Cuban fiasco," he said, "has since become more acute because of repeated Soviet shipments of military weapons and military personnel to Cuba without any intercession by the United States either under the Monroe Doctrine or through the Organization of American States."

Halleck also renewed his criticism of the Kennedy administration's domestic record. He said the cold, hard facts are that instead of moving forward the American economy "has actually slipped backward."

nedy took office, the cost of living has reached a record high, business failures are up, and the ratio of farm income to other prices is down.

RCA SALES UP

NEW YORK (UPI) — RCA Victor announced that sales of home instruments for the first nine months of this year jumped 36 per cent — a new all time sales record for the period.

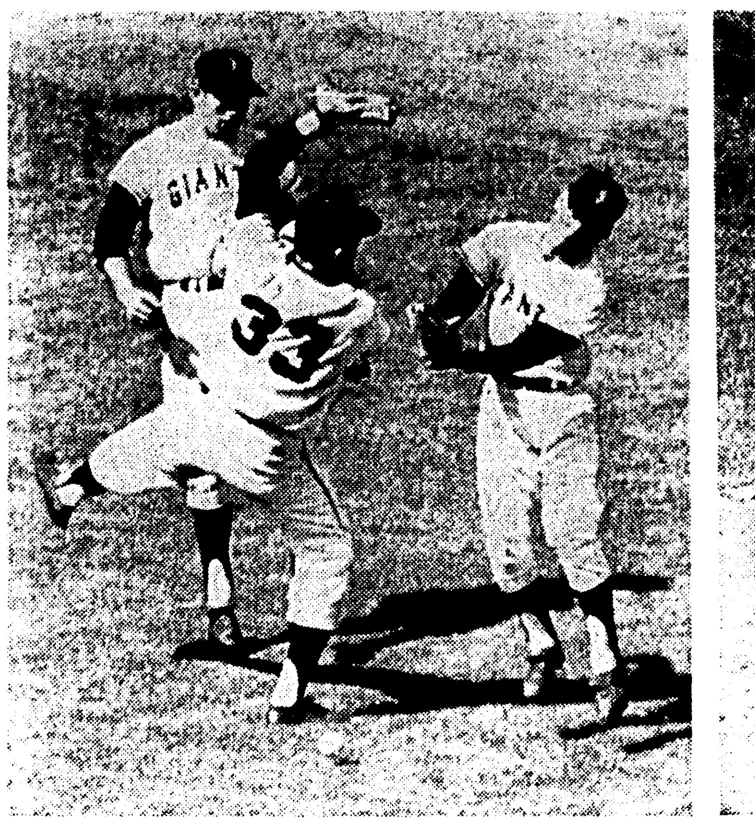
ROGER MARIS (9) of the New York Yankees, is forced at second base in the second inning of Friday's World Series game at Candlestick Park. Making the throw to first for a double play is Giants' shortstop Jose Pagan. Yank Yogie Berra hit into the double play. (AP Wirephoto)



SAN FRANCISCO pitcher Jack Sanford (33), pitched brilliant ball in beating New York Friday, but he really fouled-up on this play. Sanford went back for a fly off the bat of Yankee Tom Tresh and interferred with Giants' short stop Jose Pagan, making him drop the ball. It was ruled a hit. At the left is Jim Davenport, Giants' third baseman. (AP Wirephoto)

JACK SANFORD (33), San Francisco Giants 24-game winner, hurls a pitch in his masterful victory over the New York Yankees in the second game of the World Series at Candlestick Park Friday. The Giants' win even the series a one-win apiece. (AP Wirephoto)

a two-hitter. Manager Alvin Dark removed him after he walked the first man up in the sixth inning. Before his successors could get the side out the Los Angeles Dodgers had scored seven times.

The first hit off Sanford was a pure fluke. Tom Tresh bunted a pop fly back to the mound with one out in the fourth. Sanford went back in a try for the ball, interfering with Jose Pagan's attempt to catch it. Tresh promptly stole second, the only Yank to reach that station until Mickey Mantle doubled with two out in the ninth.

Terry also had matched Sanford with a fine pitching job until McCovey hit his homer, the 41st home run ball he has thrown this season.

Candlestick Park observers claimed McCovey had hit a longer homer — one that traveled some 500 feet earlier in the year—but this was long enough to put the ball beyond reach.

The 43,910 fans roared with expectation of more runs. Tom Haller singled and shortstop Tony Kubek dropped Jim Davenport's double play grounder following the hit.

With men on first and second and nobody out, Dark ordered Pagan to sacrifice, moving both runners, with the pitcher next to bat.

Sanford missed the pitch on a suicide squeeze attempt. Haller was trapped between third and home and run down. The failure of Haller to move toward the plate in that rundown prevented Davenport from taking third base. Consequently, when Sanford singled to right, Davenport was thrown out, trying to score from second, on a perfect peg by Roger Maris.

Sanford, 33, is an ex-Philadelphia Phil right-hander who was traded to the Giants Dec. 3, 1958 for pitcher Ruben Gomez and catcher Valmy Thomas. It turned out to be a great deal for the Giants.

Manager Ralph Houk of the Yanks was high in his praise of Sanford. He said the scouting reports showed Sanford was strong and the reports were right.

"Both men pitched great ball," said Houk. "Sanford won and you have to give him all the credit but Terry pitched great ball, too."

Asked if this was Sanford's best game, Manager Dark, said, "You couldn't improve on this. He kept his screwball away from their left-handed hitters."

Both managers named their Sunday pitchers for the third game in New York. Billy Pierce (16-6) will start for the Giants and Bill Stafford (14-9) for the Yanks. The Giants' pitchers in the other two games in New York will be Juan Marichal and Billy O'Dell, Thursday's loser.

Sanford had been struggling with a head cold for over a week but showed no effects in the game. He said he didn't feel a bit concerned until Mantle doubled to the right center fence with two gone in the ninth.

Northeast, Northwestern Clash In Indians' Homecoming Tonight

1st League Encounter For Both Teams; GSC Waits

Northeast State climaxes its homecoming celebrations Saturday night in a football battle against Northwestern that should send tremors through the Gulf States Conference no matter who wins.

If Northwestern takes the 8:00 game in Brown Stadium, the Demons will serve notice that, despite so - so performances in three non - conference games, they rate their pre - season designation as the GSC's top team.

A Northeast victory would indicate that the hungry Indians, picked to finish fifth in the pre-season pools, are ready to make a strong bid for their first Gulf States grid championship.

The contest is the first league encounter of the season for both teams. Both elevens are all even in non - conference completition, Northwestern with a 1-1-1 mark and Northeast with a 1-1 record.

Jack Clayton's Demons defeated Stephen F. Austin in their opening game, 23-6; lost to Florence (Ala.) State, 21-14, and were tied by Louisiana College, 7-7.

Northeast, coached by Jack Rowan, lost to Lamar Tech two weeks ago in its opener, 14-0, and beat East Texas State, 14-12, last Saturday.

Both teams lean heavily on strong ground attacks. Northeast is averaging 164 yards a contest rushing while the Demons are averaging 153.6 yards. Northwestern has gained more yards through the air per game 93.3 to 31.5, but Northeast has completed a higher per cent of its tosses, 45.0 to 33.3.

Both teams utilize the three-platoon system — one team to start and play both offense and defense, another to specialize in offense and another in defense. Both teams have heavy lines, although Northwestern has a big edge in this department with a 224 - pound average up front to 212 for the Indians.

Should tonight's game turn out to be a defensive battle, as it did in 1960 when Northeast won a 7-6 decision, the edge might go to the Indians again because of their fine punter, John Kelly.

Kelly was named the GSC's "Back of the Week" after the 1960 contest for his long kicks, one which went 70 yards. Kelly is currently leading the conference in punting with a 37.9 average.

Kenny Thompson, all - GSC halfback, is considered Northwestern's premier back while Northeast has two outstanding performers in quarterback Ronnie Myrick and halfback Ken Newton. Thompson is averaging 7.7 yards a rush while Myrick is second in the conference in total offense with 81.5 yards a game rushing and passing. Newton is the top Indian runner with 4 yards and a 4.43 average.

Other backs who may steal the spotlight from those three are Glenn Talbert, a hard - running halfback, and quarterbacks Donnie Caroll, Larry Crow, Herbie Smith and Don Beasley of Northwestern and quarterback Mike Cooper, fullback Willie Ragan and halfback Gordon Salsman, Robert Payne and Joe Thrailkill of Northeast.

Up front, Northwestern has a rib - bruising linebacker in Sammy Odom, a former Chinese Bandit at LSU; a big, capable tackle in Jerry Fowler (250) and a fine guard is Gerald Yarbrough.

Outstanding Indian linemen are all - GSC tackle Ross Nolan, guards Larry Rambin and Billy Foster, end Wendell Drost and centers Stanley Starr, Tommy Beaube and Johnny Nolan.

Northwestern has been Northeast's homecoming opponent twice in the past four years. The Demons wrecked Northeast, 42-6, in 1958 and lost by a 7-6 count in 1960. Last fall in Natchitoches, Northwestern won a 28-7 decision. In all, Northwestern has beaten Northeast eight times and lost twice.

Well Pitched Game Says Yankee Pilot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It was, said Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees with a smile, "a well pitched game on both sides."

Then he added, with his cigar still in his mouth:

"They say if you can play .500 ball on the road you're doing all right."

The clear implication is that the Yankees are eager and ready to take on the San Francisco Giants in their own ball park for three games starting Sunday, with the World Series all even at 1-1, after his team lost 2-0 in the second game.

"The parks don't make much difference," Houk explained, "but having the last at bats helps.

"We didn't know Jack Sanford very well, but we figured he had to be good with his record. You've got to give him a lot of credit. I thought he moved the ball around good. Ralph Terry pitched a fine game, too. We've lost 'em before.

"I just hope (Elston) Howard and (Moose) Skowron will be okay by Sunday. It's tough to have to play with those two guys out of your line-up."

Off in a corner of the subdued Yankee dressing room Ralph Terry slowly undressed. Despite a fine pitching effort this was his fourth loss in Series play.

"I pitched as good as I know how," he said. "I don't feel so bad about it. The only Series job I really feel bad about is that relief business in Pittsburgh two years ago when I got clobbered."

There was a faint smile on his boyish, handsome face as he added: "I thought these guys were supposed to be tired."

SAYS DARK, HALLER

Sanford Couldn't Have Been Better

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "You couldn't improve on Jack Sanford's pitching today," Manager Alvain Dark declared after his right-handed ace had shut out the New York Yankees 2-0 to square the World Series at 1-1 for the San Francisco Giants.

Catcher Tom Haller agreed, explaining, "He was throwing easy all day—not overly strong but hitting the spots he wanted. That was as good a game as he has pitched all year and he has pitched some good ones."

The triumph was Sanford's 25th in 1962 as he threw a three-hitter. No Giant pitcher has won that many since Carl Hubbell in 1936.

"I wasn't worried at any time until Mickey Mantle hit that double in the ninth with Roger Maris next up," Sanford said with a grin far different from the scowl he wears during a game.

"He hit a fast ball and really banged it."

But there were two outs and Sanford retired Maris on an infield grounder to end the game. But it wasn't the pitch he wanted to throw.

"I wanted it lower . . . it was almost down the middle," the 33-year-old Sanford admitted.

"His fast ball moves away from left-handers and they haven't given him trouble all season," the skipper said.

Briton Leads Demons Over Tribe Racers

British import Wade Cooper led Northwestern to a 26-29 defeat of defending Gulf States Conference champion Northeast in a cross country run at Bernstein Park Friday.

Cooper clicked off the race's three miles in 15 minutes, 32 seconds, as the Demon thinclads, fourth in the conference last fall, beat Bob Groseclose's Indians, GSC cross country champs three of the past four years.

Northeast senior George Abbott was fourth, Indian Dave Hankins fifth, Jim Phifer of Northwestern sixth, Gene Maddox of Northwestern seventh, Indian freshman Drew Butler eighth, teammate Gayland LeBlanc, another freshman, ninth and Northwestern's Bill Beard 10th.

The meet was the first of the season for Northeast, which ran without two of its freshmen runners, Bill Smith and Tom Brown, both out with injuries.

Cooper is the third English import to make his mark in Gulf States Conference track. McNeese two years ago landed 40-year - old Fred Norris, who won the 1960 GSC cross country title, and Southwestern shipped over Malcolm Robinson last year. Robinson won the 1961 cross-country run.

The top 10:

1. Wade Cooper, Northwestern, 15:32.
2. Paul Simmons, Northwestern, 16:05.
3. Bill White, Northeast, 16:07.
4. George Abbott, Northeast, 16:28.
5. Dave Hankins, Northeast, 16:29.
6. Jim Phifer, Northwestern, 17:20.
7. Gene Maddox, Northwestern, 17:23.
8. Drew Butler, Northeast, 17:30.
9. Gayland LeBlanc, Northeast, 18:00.
10. Bill Beard, Northwestern, 18:40.

SAN FRANCISCO pitcher Jack Sanford (33), pitched brilliant ball in beating New York Friday, but he really fouled-up on this play. a two-hitter. Manager Alvin Dark removed him after he walked the first man up in the sixth inning. Before his successors could get the side out the Los Angeles Dodgers had scored seven times.

The first hit off Sanford was a pure fluke. Tom Tresh bunted a pop fly back to the mound with one out in the fourth. Sanford went back in a try for the ball, interfering with Jose Pagan's attempt to catch it. Tresh promptly stole second, the only Yank to reach that station until Mickey Mantle doubled with two out in the ninth.

Terry also had matched Sanford with a fine pitching job until McCovey hit his homer, the 41st home run ball he has thrown this season.

Candlestick Park observers claimed McCovey had hit a longer homer — one that traveled some 500 feet earlier in the year—but this was long enough to put the ball beyond reach.

The 43,910 fans roared with expectation of more runs. Tom Haller singled and shortstop Tony Kubek dropped Jim Davenport's double play grounder following the hit.

With men on first and second and nobody out, Dark ordered Pagan to sacrifice, moving both runners, with the pitcher next to bat.

Sanford missed the pitch on a suicide squeeze attempt. Haller was trapped between third and home and run down. The failure of Haller to move toward the plate in that rundown prevented Davenport from taking third base. Consequently, when Sanford singled to right, Davenport was thrown out, trying to score from second, on a perfect peg by Roger Maris.

Sanford, 33, is an ex-Philadelphia Phil right-hander who was traded to the Giants Dec. 3, 1958 for pitcher Ruben Gomez and catcher Valmy Thomas. It turned out to be a great deal for the Giants.

Manager Ralph Houk of the Yanks was high in his praise of Sanford. He said the scouting reports showed Sanford was strong and the reports were right.

"Both men pitched great ball," said Houk. "Sanford won and you have to give him all the credit but Terry pitched great ball, too."

Asked if this was Sanford's best game, Manager Dark, said, "You couldn't improve on this. He kept his screwball away from their left-handed hitters."

Both managers named their Sunday pitchers for the third game in New York. Billy Pierce (16-6) will start for the Giants and Bill Stafford (14-9) for the Yanks. The Giants' pitchers in the other two games in New York will be Juan Marichal and Billy O'Dell, Thursday's loser.

Sanford had been struggling with a head cold for over a week but showed no effects in the game. He said he didn't feel a bit concerned until Mantle doubled to the right center fence with two gone in the ninth.

Northeast, Northwestern Clash In Indians' Homecoming Tonight

1st League Encounter For Both Teams; GSC Waits

Northeast State climaxes its homecoming celebrations Saturday night in a football battle against Northwestern that should send tremors through the Gulf States Conference no matter who wins.

If Northwestern takes the 8:00 game in Brown Stadium, the Demons will serve notice that, despite so - so performances in three non - conference games, they rate their pre - season designation as the GSC's top team.

A Northeast victory would indicate that the hungry Indians, picked to finish fifth in the preseason pools, are ready to make a strong bid for their first Gulf States grid championship.

The contest is the first league encounter of the season for both teams. Both elevens are all even in non - conference completition, Northwestern with a 1-1-1 mark and Northeast with a 1-1 record.

Jack Clayton's Demons defeated Stephen F. Austin in their opening game, 23-6; lost to Florence (Ala.) State, 21-14, and were tied by Louisiana College, 7-7.

Northeast, coached by Jack Rowan, lost to Lamar Tech two weeks ago in its opener, 14-0, and beat East Texas State, 14-12, last Saturday.

Both teams lean heavily on strong ground attacks. Northeast is averaging 164 yards a contest rushing while the Demons are averaging 153.6 yards. Northwestern has gained more yards through the air per game 93.3 to 31.5, but Northeast has completed a higher per cent of its tosses, 45.0 to 33.3.

Both teams utilize the three-platoon system — one team to start and play both offense and defense, another to specialize in offense and another in defense. Both teams have heavy lines, although Northwestern has a big edge in this department with a 224 - pound average up front to 212 for the Indians.

Should tonight's game turn out to be a defensive battle, as it did in 1960 when Northeast won a 7-6 decision, the edge might go to the Indians again because of their fine punter, John Kelly. Kelly was named the GSC's "Back of the Week" after the 1960 contest for his long kicks, one which went 70 yards. Kelly is currently leading the conference in punting with a 37.9 average.

Kenny Thompson, all - GSC halfback, is considered Northwestern's premier back while Northeast has two outstanding performers in quarterback Ronnie Myrick and halfback Ken Newton. Thompson is averaging 7.7 yards a rush while Myrick is second in the conference in total offense with 81.5 yards a game rushing and passing. Newton is the top Indian runner with 4 yards and a 4.43 average.

Other backs who may steal the spotlight from those three are Glenn Talbert, a hard - running halfback, and quarterbacks Donnie Caroll, Larry Crow, Herbie Smith and Don Beasley of Northwestern and quarterback Mike Cooper, fullback Willie Ragan and halfback Gordon Salsman, Robert Payne and Joe Thrailkill of Northeast.

Up front, Northwestern has a rib - bruising linebacker in Sammy Odom, a former Chinese Bandit at LSU; a big, capable tackle in Jerry Fowler (250) and a fine guard is Gerald Yarbrough.

Outstanding Indian linemen are all - GSC tackle Ross Nolan, guards Larry Rambin and Billy Foster, end Wendell Drost and centers Stanley Starr, Tommy Beaube and Johnny Nolan.

Northwestern has been Northeast's homecoming opponent twice in the past four years. The Demons wrecked Northeast, 42-6, in 1958 and lost by a 7-6 count in 1960. Last fall in Natchitoches, Northwestern won a 28-7 decision. In all, Northwestern has beaten Northeast eight times and lost twice.

Tigers Tip J-H Club On Saget's Pass, 6-0

By STUART HILL
World Sports Writer

Neville's Jimmy Howard hauled in a 12-yard pass from Don Saget with less than two minutes remaining in the final period and fell into the end zone, giving the defending state champions a slim 6-0 victory over district 2-A rival Jonesboro-Hodge.

The victory is Neville's second in conference play of the season and 17th consecutive win. The outing was the first conference game of the season for Jonesboro, which knocked several times at the scoring door of their hosts. The losers are now 3-1-1 for the year.

Howard intercepted a pass from the hands of Jonesboro fullback Robert Marrus on the midfield stripe in the fourth quarter and returned to the Jonesboro 29-yard line to set up the winning score with two minutes and 38 seconds remaining.

Saget, a Neville letterman sidelined the first four games due to a leg injury, then passed to Howard, who fought his way to the Jonesboro 12. Saget hit Howard on the scoring pass one play later. Howard's kick for the PAT failed and the clock read, one minute, 26 seconds.

Jonesboro - Hodge's Tigers, who had moved the ball into scoring position several times under the guidance of quarterback Phil Marrus, took the kickoff following Howard's score and moved to the Neville 30 - yard line before fumbling.

With the ball resting on his own 45 - yard line after the kick, Phil Marrus tossed a 25 - yard pass to halfack Jim Jones and moved the ball to Neville's 30-yard line with 42 seconds remaining.

Phil Marrus attempted two passes from this point and fumbled on his third try with Neville's left tackle Andy Mapp picking up the pigskin and sprinting to the visitors' 21 - yard line before Robert Marrus hauled him down from behind.

Both teams' defense made impressive stands and both took to the air after finding each other's line too rugged.

Neville's Howard, Chip Planchard, Gary Pappas, and Don Johnson — all constant breakaway threats — each broke loose for long gains but found themselves pitted against a team with near equal speed. Mapp's run was the longest of the contest.

Jonesboro - Hodge has been rated second to Neville in class AA throughout the season but certainly played anything but second rate football.

Neville's defensive squad, led by the efforts of tackle John Segars and James Willis, repulsed two serious Jonesboro scoring threats.

On the first series of plays following the opening kickoff, Jonesboro moved to Neville's five - yard line, sparked by four Phil Marrus' passes, but met a mass of Tiger tacklers. A costly five - yard penalty for backfield motion helped the Tigers remove the threat.

In the fourth period, the visiting Tigers took possession of the ball on Neville's 33 - yard line and were pushed back to their own 49 - yard line before three passing plays and three ground attempts placed them on Neville's nine.

Phil Marrus threw two incomplete passes from this point before Howard intercepted his third attempt standing in the end zone and picked his way to the 20-yard line to end the threat.

In the third quarter Howard received a Jonesboro punt on his own 20 - yard line and returned to the Jonesboro 45, but an expensive clipping penalty recalled the play.

NEVILLE'S left end Ronald Killen, (55) moves in on Jonesboro-Hodge's fullback Robert Marrus in the second quarter of Friday night's conference game. Killen made the stop after Marrus gained three yards on a second down situation. Killen was later injured during the game. The AA defending champions trimmed Jonesboro, 6-0, on a Don Saget to Jimmy Howard pass combination with less than two minutes remaining. (Staff photo by John Fogleman)

USL Set To Face Tech's Slaughter

RUSTON (Special) — How do you handle a passing attack of the caliber exhibited by Louisiana Tech's Mickey Slaughter and Billy Laird and their fine flock of receivers?

Southwestern Louisiana gets the chance to try to put a damper on the Tech aerial game in Lafayette Saturday night. McNeese State rushed linebackers last Saturday but the Bulldogs went to the screen pass for plenty of yards. And when they didn't blitz, Slaughter and Laird hit on the longer passes and Tech wound up with a 14-6 victory.

The Tech passers wound up with 19 completions in 25 attempts for 249 yards through the air. There were nine different receivers.

Tech's defense was adequate against McNeese. It will get a second stern tests against USL Saturday night with the probability of more passes by the enemy to test Tech secondary defenses.

Considering that no one is apt to do much running against McNeese this season, the Tech running attack spearheaded by Paul Labenne and Gerald McDowell wasn't too bad. Labenne was a standout all night, on running, blocking and defense.

After the conference game in Lafayette Saturday night, the Techmen return home to face Arlington State before taking on Northwestern State in the annual state fair clash the following week in Shreveport.

Tech came out of the first encounter with only bruises to worry about. Andy Malone, veteran tackle who missed nearly all of fall training, should be ready for more duty. Another tackle, Billy Bagwell, may make his first appearance of the season.

Tech's Cross Country Team To Meet USL

RUSTON (Special) — With one victory behind them, members of Louisiana Tech's cross country team go to the University of Southwestern Saturday to meet the downstaters at 5 p.m.

Tech swamped McNeese State's harriers here last Saturday 18-45 in the first meet of the season.

Making the trip to Lafayette will be Jerry Laird of Corpus Christi, Tex., Robin Bryan of Springhill, Frank Bright of Shreveport Fair Park, Allen Laird of Tallulah, Steve Adams of Coushatta, Robert Ellis of Ruston, Joe Johnson of Glenmora, Maurice Peel of Jonesboro, and Henry Arant of Summerfield.

In the first outing, Bright placed first with a time of 15:18.8 over the 3.1 mile course here. The USL team is led by Malcolm Robinson, outstanding distance runner from England.

Bob Hayes, student assistant coach, is in charge of the Tech team while Track Coach Jim Mize has football duties.

West Monroe Storms Over Pineville, 40-6

By KEITH PRINCE
World Sports Writer

West Monroe's ever - improving Rebels struck with power and authority against Pineville Friday night to give their anxious homecoming crowd a long awaited victory, 40-6.

It was the first victory of the year for West Monroe and the first ever at a homecoming tilt.

Coach Cecil Pirkey's Rebels looked every bit, and more, the team they were expected to be earlier in the year, before injuries struck. The Rebel defense out - weighed the visitors at least 10 pounds a man, and the end result shows every pound of it.

Pineville could manage only 24 yards rushing against the beefed - up Rebels, and didn't score until the last quarter when the contest was no longer in doubt.

It was a team victory all the way, but West Monroe's two swift halfbacks, Charlie Van Zile and Woody Woodcock, took top honors.

The terrific two - some accounted for 31 of West Monroe's 40 points and between them racked up 274 of the Rebels' 315 yards rushing.

Woodcock, who was playing offense at full time for the first time since he received a broken hand against Neville, scored 19 points on two TD's and one extra point. The 170 - pound senior also had 111 yards rushing.

Van Zile scored twice and one of his tallies came off the longest run of the night, a 74-yard scamper in the opening period. He also led all rushers with a whopping 163 yards.

Van Zile's first touchdown, which came the first time West Monroe got its hands on the ball, got the Rebs out front, 6-0, with 7:27 remaining in the opening period.

Pineville took the opening kickoff, couldn't move the ball, and punted to the home team's 37.

Ray Alexander returned the punt 25 yards to Pineville's 38. From there West Monroe scored in eight plays. Bubba Jones' attemped kick for the extra point was short.

Pinveille fumbled the ensuing kickoff and Rebel guard Roger Bell pounced on the ball at the 19. The unexpected break seemed to breath fire into West Monroe. And as a result, they rammed the ball down Pineville's throat in four plays with Woodcock going the final four with 5:23 still left in the quarter.

After the TD, Pineville failed to move the ball again and after a punt, West Monroe took over on its 28.

The first play lost two, but on the next play lightning struck in the person of Van Zile, who got loose around right end and literally out - ran several Pineville men to the goal for his second score. Bobby Brice ran the extra point, and with 2:27 left in the first quarter West Monroe had a 19-0 lead and for all practical purposes an early victory.

The home town Rebels did go to score twice in the second quarter and once in the final period though just for some icing on the cake.

Woodcock scored from the one late in first half and added the PAT, then with 2:10 left in the period Bobby Haisty recovered a Pineville fumble in the end zone for West Monroe's 32nd point. Paul Hobgood added the extra point and the Rebs structed out with a 33-0 halftime lead.

The touchdown came on a razzle - dazzle fourth down reverse play from eight yards out. Pineville's left halfback Lynn Cavanaugh, who was probably the losers outstanding man, took the handoff well behind the line and eluded a couple of would - be tacklers before finding daylight to take the pigskin across.

Woodcock accounted for 45 of the 57 yards in the drive, including the final six. Haisty ran the extra point.

To look at the score one could easily be awed by the West Monroe offense. But not to be overlooked is its fine defensive hustle and pursuit.

There were not many individual tackles in the game for West Monroe, mostly just gang tackling in its purest form.

The entire defensive unit hit hard and often. Such boys as Bubba Jones, Roger Bell, Chuck Crawford and Mike Sheppard all played outstanding defensive football and their were others who helped to completely throttle the visitors.

It was a sweet first victory and well deserved by a team which has waited long for vctory.

GAME AT 2 P.M.

Lothridge Means Trouble For LSU

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Penetrating a big Georgia Tech line and defensing quarterback Billy Lothridge are the problems Louisiana State will try to solve against the fifth - ranked Yellow Jackets in a nationally - televised Southeastern Conference Saturday in Atlanta. Kickoff time in Grant Field is 2 p.m. (CST).

LSU coach Charles McClendon worked hard at developing some offensive punch in Tiger practices this week. "Our Go team has got to move the football if we are going to have any success Saturday," said McClendon. "When they move the ball it takes the pressure off the White team and the Chinese Bandits and gives them a breather. The Go team must be effective for our three unit system to be effective."

McClendon anticipated difficulty for both the White team and the Go team in cracking the big Georgia Tech line. "As a unit, Tech's line is a big and strong as anybody's. But we have got to move the ball if we hope to be in the game," McClendon said.

"Defensing Tech is tough, too," the Tiger coach added. "Lothridge can run and throw and kick field goals. And he has wealth of material to back him up."

The sensational junior quarterback has a power - running fullback in Mike McNames and a swift, able runner and receiver in halfback Joe Auer. In front of him, Lothridge looks over a line that includes ends Ted Davis (6-1, 224) and Billy Martin (6-4, 232), tackles Ed Griffin (6-1, 214) and Larry Stallings (6-2, 221), guards Dave Watson (6-1, 221) and Rufus Guthrie (6-1, 231) and center Bobby Caldwell (6-1, 212).

LSU's starting line includes ends Gene Sykes (6-1, 185) and Jack Gates (6-0, 195), tackles Don Estes (6-4, 235) and Fred Miller (6-3, 230), guards Rodney Guillot (6-1, 214) and Robbie Hucklebridge (5-11, 218) and center Dennis Gaubatz (6-2, 205).

The Tiger White team backfield is sparked by the ball-carrying ability of halfback Jerry Stovall and quarterback Jimmy Field. Fullback Steve Ward and sophomore halfback Danny LeBlanc complete the offensive backfield, with Johnny Mercer replacing LeBlanc on defense for the White team.

Go team success depends on improved blocking in the line and the efficient performance of an all - senior backfield — quarterback Lynn Amedee, halfbacks Bo Campbell and Ray Wilkins and fullback Charles Cranford.

Tech enters this vital SEC game with a 2-0 record after demolishing Clemson, 26-9, and Florida, 17-0. LSU has beaten Texas A&M, 21-0, and tied Rice 6-6 in non - conference play.

Tigers Tip J-H Club On Saget's Pass, 6-0

By STUART HILL
World Sports Writer

Neville's Jimmy Howard hauled in a 12 - yard pass from Don Saget with less than two minutes remaining in the final period and fell into the end zone, giving the defending state champions a slim 6-0 victory over district 2-A rival Jonesboro-Hodge.

The victory is Neville's second in conference play of the season and 17th consecutive win. The outing was the first conference game of the season for Jonesboro, which knocked several times at the scoring door of their hosts. The losers are now 3-1-1 for the year.

Howard intercepted a pass from the hands of Jonesboro fullback Robert Marrus on the midfield stripe in the fourth quarter and returned to the Jonesboro 29-yard line to set up the winning score with two minutes and 38 seconds remaining.

Saget, a Neville letterman sidelined the first four games due to a leg injury, then passed to Howard, who fought his way to the Jonesboro 12. Saget hit Howard on the scoring pass one play later. Howard's kick for the PAT failed and the clock read, one minute, 26 seconds.

Jonesboro - Hodge's Tigers, who had moved the ball into scoring position several times under the guidance of quarterback Phil Marrus, took the kickoff following Howard's score and moved to the Neville 30 - yard line before fumbling.

With the ball resting on his own 45 - yard line after the kick, Phil Marrus tossed a 25 - yard pass to halfack Jim Jones and moved the ball to Neville's 30-yard line with 42 seconds remaining.

Phil Marrus attempted two passes from this point and fumbled on his third try with Neville's left tackle Andy Mapp picking up the pigskin and sprinting to the visitors' 21 - yard line before Robert Marrus hauled him down from behind.

Both teams' defense made impressive stands and both took to the air after finding each other's line too rugged.

Neville's Howard, Chip Planchard, Gary Pappas, and Don Johnson — all constant breakaway threats — each broke loose for long gains but found themselves pitted against a team with near equal speed. Mapp's run was the longest of the contest.

Jonesboro - Hodge has been rated second to Neville in class AA throughout the season but certainly played anything but second rate football.

Neville's defensive squad, led by the efforts of tackle John Segars and James Willis, repulsed two serious Jonesboro scoring threats.

On the first series of plays following the opening kickoff, Jonesboro moved to Neville's five - yard line, sparked by four Phil Marrus' passes, but met a mass of Tiger tacklers. A costly five - yard penalty for backfield motion helped the Tigers remove the threat.

In the fourth period, the visiting Tigers took possession of the ball on Neville's 33 - yard line and were pushed back to their own 49 - yard line before three passing plays and three ground attempts placed them on Neville's nine.

Phil Marrus threw two incomplete passes from this point before Howard intercepted his third attempt standing in the end zone and picked his way to the 20-yard line to end the threat.

In the third quarter Howard received a Jonesboro punt on his own 20 - yard line and returned to the Jonesboro 45, but an expensive clipping penalty recalled the play.

West Monroe Storms Over Pineville, 40-6

By KEITH PRINCE
World Sports Writer

West Monroe's ever - improving Rebels struck with power and authority against Pineville Friday night to give their anxious homecoming crowd a long awaited victory, 40-6.

It was the first victory of the year for West Monroe and the first ever at a homecoming tilt.

Coach Cecil Pirkey's Rebels looked every bit, and more, the team they were expected to be earlier in the year, before injuries struck. The Rebel defense out - weighed the visitors at least 10 pounds a man, and the end result shows every pound of it.

Pineville could manage only 24 yards rushing against the beefed - up Rebels, and didn't score until the last quarter when the contest was no longer in doubt.

It was a team victory all the way, but West Monroe's two swift halfbacks, Charlie Van Zile and Woody Woodcock, took top honors.

The terrific two - some accounted for 31 of West Monroe's 40 points and between them racked up 274 of the Rebels' 315 yards rushing.

Woodcock, who was playing offense at full time for the first time since he received a broken hand against Neville, scored 19 points on two TD's and one extra point. The 170 - pound senior also had 111 yards rushing.

Van Zile scored twice and one of his tallies came off the longest run of the night, a 74-yard scamper in the opening period. He also led all rushers with a whopping 163 yards.

Van Zile's first touchdown, which came the first time West Monroe got its hands on the ball, got the Rebs out front, 6-0, with 7:27 remaining in the opening period.

Pineville took the opening kickoff, couldn't move the ball, and punted to the home team's 37.

Ray Alexander returned the punt 25 yards to Pineville's 38. From there West Monroe scored in eight plays. Bubba Jones' attemped kick for the extra point was short.

Pinveille fumbled the ensuing kickoff and Rebel guard Roger Bell pounced on the ball at the 19. The unexpected break seemed to breath fire into West Monroe. And as a result, they rammed the ball down Pineville's throat in four plays with Woodcock going the final four with 5:23 still left in the quarter.

After the TD, Pineville failed to move the ball again and after a punt, West Monroe took over on its 28.

The first play lost two, but on the next play lightning struck in the person of Van Zile, who got loose around right end and literally out - ran several Pineville men to the goal for his second score. Bobby Brice ran the extra point, and with 2:27 left in the first quarter West Monroe had a 19-0 lead and for all practical purposes an early victory.

The home town Rebels did go to score twice in the second quarter and once in the final period though just for some icing on the cake.

Woodcock scored from the one late in first half and added the PAT, then with 2:10 left in the period Bobby Haisty recovered a Pineville fumble in the end zone for West Monroe's 32nd point. Paul Hobgood added the extra point and the Rebs structed out with a 33-0 halftime lead.

The touchdown came on a razzle - dazzle fourth down reverse play from eight yards out. Pineville's left halfback Lynn Cavanaugh, who was probably the losers outstanding man, took the handoff well behind the line and eluded a couple of would - be tacklers before finding daylight to take the pigskin across.

Woodcock accounted for 45 of the 57 yards in the drive, including the final six. Haisty ran the extra point.

To look at the score one could easily be awed by the West Monroe offense. But not to be overlooked is its fine defensive hustle and pursuit.

There were not many individual tackles in the game for West Monroe, mostly just gang tackling in its purest form.

The entire defensive unit hit hard and often. Such boys as Bubba Jones, Roger Bell, Chuck Crawford and Mike Sheppard all played outstanding defensive football and their were others who helped to completely throttle the visitors.

It was a sweet first victory and well deserved by a team which has waited long for vctory.

GAME AT 2 P.M.

Lothridge Means Trouble For LSU

BATON ROUGE (Special) — Penetrating a big Georgia Tech line and defensing quarterback Billy Lothridge are the problems Louisiana State will try to solve against the fifth - ranked Yellow Jackets in a nationally - televised Southeastern Conference Saturday in Atlanta. Kickoff time in Grant Field is 2 p.m. (CST).

LSU coach Charles McClendon worked hard at developing some offensive punch in Tiger practices this week. "Our Go team has got to move the football if we are going to have any success Saturday," said McClendon. "When they move the ball it takes the pressure off the White team and the Chinese Bandits and gives them a breather. The Go team must be effective for our three unit system to be effective."

McClendon anticipated difficulty for both the White team and the Go team in cracking the big Georgia Tech line. "As a unit, Tech's line is a big and strong as anybody's. But we have got to move the ball if we hope to be in the game," McClendon said.

"Defensing Tech is tough, too," the Tiger coach added. "Lothridge can run and throw and kick field goals. And he has wealth of material to back him up."

The sensational junior quarterback has a power - running fullback in Mike McNames and a swift, able runner and receiver in halfback Joe Auer. In front of him, Lothridge looks over a line that includes ends Ted Davis (6-1, 224) and Billy Martin (6-4, 232), tackles Ed Griffin (6-1, 214) and Larry Stallings (6-2, 221), guards Dave Watson (6-1, 221) and Rufus Guthrie (6-1, 231) and center Bobby Caldwell (6-1, 212).

LSU's starting line includes ends Gene Sykes (6-1, 185) and Jack Gates (6-0, 195), tackles Don Estes (6-4, 235) and Fred Miller (6-3, 230), guards Rodney Guillot (6-1, 214) and Robbie Hucklebridge (5-11, 218) and center Dennis Gaubatz (6-2, 205).

The Tiger White team backfield is sparked by the ball-carrying ability of halfback Jerry Stovall and quarterback Jimmy Field. Fullback Steve Ward and sophomore halfback Danny LeBlanc complete the offensive backfield, with Johnny Mercer replacing LeBlanc on defense for the White team.

Go team success depends on improved blocking in the line and the efficient performance of an all - senior backfield — quarterback Lynn Amedee, halfbacks Bo Campbell and Ray Wilkins and fullback Charles Cranford.

Tech enters this vital SEC game with a 2-0 record after demolishing Clemson, 26-9, and Florida, 17-0. LSU has beaten Texas A&M, 21-0, and tied Rice 6-6 in non - conference play.

Bears Win

JONESVILLE, La. (Special) — Block High celebrated homecoming with an easy 32-7 conquest of Davidson of St. Joseph in a district 3-B game last night.

Fullback Wilbert Trisler went one yard for the first Block touchdown in the opening period and the hometown Bears picked up two more in the second period. Doyle Sikes running eight for one and Tommy Champlin intercepting a pass and dashing 30 yards for the other.

After halftime activities that saw Miss Ronnie McMillan crowned homecoming queen, Billy Vincent scored two touchdowns, one in each of the final two periods, for the winners. He went four yards for the first and 20 for the second. Doyle Sikes converted after two Block TD's.

Jeff James ran 32 yards in the final minute of play for the Davidson touchdown and Dick Fulton kicked the PAT.

Block 3-2 for the season and 2-1 in the district. Davidson is 0-2 in 3-B play.

Vidalia, Wisner Tie

WISNER, La. (Special)—Larry Lachney's PAT kick in the last two minutes missed by inches and Wisner had to settle for a 6-6 tie with Vidalia in a battle of district 3-B powers here last night.

Lachney's kick, which was off to the right slightly, came after the home team tied the score a 6-6 on W. H. Sanders' two - yard touchdown run. The drive started when Sanders recovered a fumble on the Vidalia 46 and gained nearly all of the yards on the push.

Vidalia, the defending district champion, had led since the second quarter when quarterback Butch Wiggins climaxed an 18-yard drive with a five - yard touchdown run. Ray Ainsworth's run for the extra point was short.

Wisner preserved its unbeaten record with the tie, now standing 4-0-1. Vidalia is 2-2-1 for the year and 1-0-1 in the district. Wisner is 2-0-1 in district play.

Eagles Win, 7-0

STERLINGTON, La. (Special) — Wayne McManus rammed two yards for a touchdown in the first quarter as Holly Ridge edged Sterlington, 7-0, in a district 2-B game last night.

Henry Miller kicked the extra point as Holly Ridge won its second game in five starts. The Eagles are 1-1 in district while Sterlington is 1-3 for the season and 0-1 in the district.

Sterlington had two touchdowns called back in the game.

Henry and Buddy Hemler, Elton Burch and Tommy Bonner were outstanding for the losers while McManus, Henry Miller, Lloyd Swain and Tommy Winstead starred for Holly Ridge.

Oak Grove, 41-21

Broadway scored three touchdowns in the first half, all three from four yards out, in leading Rayville to a 28-7 halftime advantage. He came back with a six yarder in the fourth quarter.

Rayville temporarily tied the score 7-7 in the opening period when fullback Jackie Pope climaxed a 60 - yard drive by driving over from two yards out.

Three Oak Grove TD's in the second period broke the game open. David Kennedy went around left end from five yards away for the first one, before Broadway got his second and third scores of the night.

Oak Groves' Vernon Bankston went eight yards to score in the third quarter, before Broadway added his last talley, and Rayville ck for two late scores in th. Timmy Thames got ville score in the fourth - yard run and quarter- rk Brown connected with Gammill on a 56 - yard pass play for the other.

er Wins, 13-0

MERVILLE (Special) — r capitalized on two first er touchdowns to win its st game of the year, 13-0 over armerville here Friday night.

Fullback John Anderson put Homer in front 6-0 with a 24-yard scamper in the first quarter. The PAT try failed.

On the following kickoff, Homer recovered a fumble at the Farmerville 38 and pushed over for the second score. Halfback Gerald White got the touchdown from two - yards out and Anderson ran over the extra - point.

3-13 Tie

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) — Lake Providence and Winnsboro battled to a 13-13 tie in a district 2-A game here Friday night.

Lake Providence tied the game in the final period on a eight-yard pass from Joe Collins to Gary Shelton. A run for the extra point was short.

The typing touchdown was set up by a 26 - yard pass from Collins to Connie Overby. The pass came after the Panthers took over on the Winnsboro 30 after Winnsboro failed to get off a punt because of a low pass from center. Collins passed to Overby, then the Panthers lost yardage, then Collins hit Shelton for the TD.

Lake Providence scored in the first quarter when Overby picked up a fumble and dashed 60 yards. David Clarkson kicked the PAT. Winnsboro scored in the second when Oliver Tyson ran 63 yards from scrimmage. Bruce Kold kicked the PAT.

Also in the second, Bill Marioneaux passed 30 yards to Tyson to put Winnsboro ahead, 13-7. The PAT kick was no good.

Lake Providence, formerly a class B team, remained unbeaten though twice tied. The Panthers have won twice. Winnsboro is 1-1-1 in the league and Lake Providence 1-0-1.

Lafayette 20-16 Winner

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—Halfback Gerald Hebert dashed 5-yards for the winning touchdown late in the final period to give Lafayette a 20-16 triple-A victory over Lake Charles Friday night.

Lake Charles led until the final period, posting scores on Buddy Micelli's 19-yard field goal and his 11-yard touchdown run. Fullback Paul DeMarry also scored for the Wildcats on a 31-yard sprint.

Hebert scored once in the third quarter while Maurice LeBlanc added another to put Lafayette within striking distance. Tackle Jim Edney scooped up a Lake Charles fumble to set up Hebert's winning tally.

Redemptorist Wins

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Halfback Pat Scully led Redemptorist to a 19-6 triple-A victory over Fortier Friday night.

Scully scored two of the Rams' touchdowns on short bursts. The third tally came when end Jack Patterson fell on a blocked Fortier kick in the end zone.

Bogalusa, 6-0

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Undefeated Bogalusa — sixth-ranked triple-A team — blanked Baton Rouge 6-0 Friday night in its first district competition of the season.

Quarterback Greg Honaker passed 7 yards to Larry Magee for the tally. Bogalusa rolled up 16 first downs to five for Baton Rouge while Honaker completed 9 out of 22 passes for 152 yards.

Terrebonne By One

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Quarterback Dave Bourgeois accounted for all Terrebonne points Friday night as the ninth-ranked Tigers edged East Jefferson 7-6 in a triple-A game.

With 48 seconds to play, Bourgeois ran nine yards for the Terrebonne touchdown. He faked a kick and flipped to George Bourgeois for the winning conversion.

The East Jefferson touchdown came earlier in the fourth quarter with Jim Mathes recovering a Terrebonne fumble at the Warrior 34. On the first play, quarterback Barry Raziano threw a touchdown pass to Skip Graham, the play covering 66 yards from scrimmage. Guard Chris Cenac blocked John Curtis' kick for the conversion.

Newellton Wins

NEWELLTON, La. (Special) — Newellton scored its second victory in history over Tallulah by taking a 14-13 triumph when Don Morton's last quarter PAT kick was unsuccessful.

Newellton, which has been playing Tallulah since 1935, beat the Trojans in 1954 for its only over victory over the class A team, state champion last fall. Newellton is class B.

Tallulah scored on its first offensive series of the night in the opening period when quarterback Donald Trichell ran four yards. Morton kicked the PAT.

Newellton knotted the count in the second stanza on Allen Bozeman's 14 - yard pass to Danny Cannon. George Cooper ran the PAT.

In the third, Newellton went ahead on George Cooper's 58-yard scoring scamper from scrimmage. Lamar Barnett ran for the game-winning extra point.

Bobby Morgan ran two yards for a TD in the fourth to pull Tallulah within one point of a tie. But Morton's kick was no good.

Newellton is now 2-3 for the season and Tallulah has the same record.

Nicholls 14-13

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A dive across the goal line for an extra point by Richard Garrity gave Nicholls a 14-13 triple-A decision over Chalmette Friday night.

James Gourges scored one Nicholls touchdown on a 5-yard run and passed 17 yards to Ronald Crespo for the other. Both Chalmette tallies were scored by Charles Robertson on runs of 21 and 25 yards.

Jesuit 21-0

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Jesuit of New Orleans—the top-ranked Louisiana triple-A prep team — defeated Pensacola 21-0 Friday night to gain revenge for three previous losses to the Floridians.

Schweigart threw 6 yards to end Owen Jones for the final tally. Warren Landry kicked all three extra points.

Ruston Wins, 7-0

WINNFIELD, La. (Special) — Eddie Taylor sprinted 83 yards with an intercepted pass in the first period to give Ruston a 7-0 victory over Winnfield in a district 2-AA battle last night.

Winnfield, a former class A power making its debut in class AA, drive to the Ruston 12-yard line in the final period before fumbling the ball away. Winnfield is now 3-2 for the season and 0-1 in the district.

Ruston is 3-2 overall and 1-0 in district play.

Winnfield had the edge in first down, seven to six, while Ruston had a 126-105 edge in yards rushing. Winnfield completed four of 12 passes for 31 yards to 5-1 and 13 for Ruston. Ruston intercepted one pass and each team lost two fumbles.

Ruston was penalized nine times for 75 yards and Winnfield was penalized once for 15 yards. Ruston punted seven times for a 31.4 average and Winnfield eight times for 33.5 yards per kick.

Woodlawn Wins

SPRINGHILL, La. (AP)—Fullback Tommy Linder crashed two yards over guard to give Woodlawn of Shreveport a 7-0 victory over double-A Springhill.

It was the first loss of the season for Springhill, ranked sixth in the AP double-A poll

Linder's thrust capped a 49-yard second quarter drive for the Knights, rated 10th in Triple-A. It was Woodlawn's fourth straight triumph after an opening loss to North Caddo.

End Mickey Joiner kicked the extra point.

Catholic Wins

BAY ST. LOUIS, Miss. (AP) — Catholic High of Baton Rouge struck swiftly for two touchdowns late in the first half Friday night and went onto a 19-6 victory over St. Stanislaus.

On the home team's first scrimmage play after the kickoff, Catholic's Don Plaisance picked off a Dusty Rhoades aerial and ran 47 yards to score. Bobby Harris converted.

St. Stanislaus scored late in the third quarter on a one-yard plunge by Barry Boasberg, after Mike Mashburn blocked a Catholic punt at the Catholic 31.

Lloyd Plaisance went 20 yards in the final quarter for Catholic's final TD. The victory evened Catholic's record at 2-2 and dropped St. Stanislaus to 1-3.

Istrouma Wins

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Quarterback Ronnie Murphy threw three touchdown passes as he directed second-ranked Istrouma to a 39-14 triple-A decision over Fair Park Friday night.

It was the fourth victory in five starts for the Indians.

Fair Park scored in the first 90 seconds as halfback Jerry Solice raced 58 yards for a touchdown. Three minutes later Murphy threw 12 yards to end Charles Rohner for Istrouma's first tally.

The Indians didn't go ahead until the second stanza when Murphy passed 18-yards to Rohner for another tally. The Tribe got two scores in the third on a 25-yard sprint by fullback Benny Griffin and a 27-yard Murphy-to-Donald McCrary aerial.

Fair Park scored early in the four period on David Worthington's 4-yard pass to Richard Kincaid. Griffin and Johnny Yarbrough scored on the ground for Istrouma.

Third Straight

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP) — Surprising New Iberia scored its third straight victory Friday night with a 20-15 upset over eighth-ranked triple-A Sulphur.

Bobby Keasler scooped up a Sulphur fumble in the final period and raced 33 yards for the winning touchdown. Other Jacket tallies came on a 19-yard aerial from Arthur Mazerole to halfback Tommy Lewis and a 2-yard sneak by Mazerole.

Sulphur scored on a first period safety, a 1-yard sneak by Harry Mouton, and a 19-yard Frank Blake to C. T. Campbell pass.

LaGrange Wins

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — A spectacular 60-yard pass interception by Gary Guins and three short scoring plunges by Rusty Fry carried LaGrange to a 28-7 victory over Bolton in a triple-A game Friday night.

Guins, who led all ball carriers with 102 yards in 14 carries, made his interception in the first quarter. Later in the same period, Fry scored on the first of three 2-yard plunges, the others coming in the third and fourth quarters.

Quarterback Lloyd Christ kicked all four LaGrange conversions.

FOR FIRST VICTORY

Bastrop Beats Lions, 7-0, In 1-AAA Contest

BASTROP, La. (Special)— Bastrop scored in the final period to beat Ouachita, 7-0, in a district 1-AAA contest here last night.

Quarterback Ricky Head passed three yards to Morris Funderburg for the Bastrop touchdown. Billy Deville kicked the extra point. The touchdown climaxed a 45 - yard drive in the defensive battle.

Both clubs went into the game winless after four games. Bastrop is now 1-2 in district competition while Ouachita is now 0-2 in the league.

	Ouachita	Bastrop
First Downs	4	6
Yards Rushing	91	124
Yards Passing	0	47
Passes	5-0	10-3
Passes Int. By	1	2
Fumbles Lost	0	1
Penalties	1-15	10-110
Punting	6-31.1	4-39.5

Statistics reflected the defensive character of the contest. The two teams collected only 10 first downs with Bastrop getting six of them. The local Rams got 124 yards on the ground to 91 for Ouachita and passed for 47 yards to none for the Lions from Monroe. Bastrop connected on three of 10 passes while Ouachita completed none of five.

Bastrop was assessed a whopping 110 yards on 10 penalties while Ouachita was penalized once for 15 yards.

Natchitoches, 28-0

NATCHITOCHES (Special) — Natchitoches scored four touchdowns and a safety to down Jena 28-0 here Friday night.

Jay Pierson scored the first on a two - yard run. This was followed by Charley Pridgen's 15-yard dash, a six - yarder by Dont Fort and a 22 - yard touchdown pass play from Pierson to Jim Hollinsworth.

A safety followed when a field goal attempt failed, a Jena runner recovered the ball in end zone and was tackled there.

Sicily Island, 32-0

SICILY ISLAND (Special) — Arnold Ready and Joe Raymond Peace went on a two - man scoring binge to lead Sicily Island to a 32-0 victory over Waterproof here Friday night.

Ready scored three times, including once on a pass from Peace, and Peace intercepted two Waterproof aerials for touchdowns.

He tallied again in the third stanza on a 10-yard jaunt. Peace stole a Waterproof pass in the same quarter and raced it back 40 - yards for another touchdown.

Then in the final period Peace connected with Ready on a 30-yard touchdown pass and intercepted his second Waterproof heave and romped some 70-yards for the final score of the night.

Coushatta Wins

COUSHATTA, La. (Special) — Donald Horton scored three touchdowns and passed for another as Coushatta routed Bernice, 41-13, last night.

Horton scored on runs of 10, 40 and 33 yards and passed 29 yards to brother Henry for another TD. Other Coushatta scores came on a 76 - yard dash by Stanley Dixon, Tommy Blount's 16 - yard run and a safety in the third when Walter Lee tackled Bernice's Larry Fitzgerald in the end zone. Extra points were scored by Dixon, Tommy Roscoe and Ronnie Lafield.

Bernice scored in the third on Ronnie Evan's nine - yard run and added another TD in the fourth on Billy Harry Colbin's 11-yard trip into the end zone. Colvin ran for one PAT.

Bernice, a member of district 2-B, is 2-3 for the season and 1-B member Coushatta is 4-1.

Defensive Change

Mira Passes Miami Past Florida State

MIAMI (UPI)—Miami's Hurricanes, passed to a first quarter touchdown by quarterback George Mira, hung on through a rough-and-tumble battle Friday for a 7-6 victory over an underdog Florida State team which fumbled four big scoring chances.

Three times it was 210-pound Miami guard Jim O'Mahoney who saved the game for the 10th-ranked Hurricanes before 43,962 fans in the Orange Bowl.

With the ball game in its closing two minutes, Florida State stopped a Miami drive cold and desperately tried a last time to drive through the hard - tackling Miami defense.

	FLORIDA STATE	MIAMI
First downs	16	11
Rushing Yardage	141	104
Passing yardage	178	122
Passes	12-17	7-15
Passes intercepted by	1	0
Punts	2-47.5	6-33.5
Fumbles lost	6	2
Yards penalized	5	65

But fullback Gene Roberts fumbled on the 10 with only 26 seconds remaining, O'Mahoney recovered and it was all over.

All the scoring was in the first half. Mira's passes carried Miami to a touchdown, and Doug Messer's accurate kicking produced two field goals for Florida State.

Florida State, making a fighting bid for national recognition, fumbled seven times. Miami fumbled three times and the game was plagued by penalties.

Miami scored in the second period, driving 72 yards in only three plays. After a one - yard gain to the Miami 28 Mira spiraled a pass to halfback Nick Spinelli who ran the sidelines for 32 yards. On the next play, Mira threw the remaining 39 yards to Spinelli in the end zone.

Bob Wilson's kick was good to provide the eventual margin of victory.

Miami 7 0 0 0—7
Florida State 3 3 0 0—6

Scoring:
FSU-Messer 29 fg
Mia-Spinelli 39 pass from Mira (Wilson kick)
FSU: Messer 26 fg
Attendance 43,962.

Bears Win

JONESVILLE, La. (Special) — Block High celebrated homecoming with an easy 32-7 conquest of Davidson of St. Joseph in a district 3-B game last night.

Fullback Wilbert Trisler went one yard for the first Block touchdown in the opening period and the hometown Bears picked up two more in the second period. Doyle Sikes running eight for one and Tommy Champlin intercepting a pass and dashing 30 yards for the other.

After halftime activities that saw Miss Ronnie McMillan crowned homecoming queen, Billy Vincent scored two touchdowns, one in each of the final two periods, for the winners. He went four yards for the first and 20 for the second. Doyle Sikes converted after two Block TD's.

Jeff James ran 32 yards in the final minute of play for the Davidson touchdown and Dick Fulton kicked the PAT.

Block 3-2 for the season and 2-1 in the district. Davidson is 0-2 in 3-B play.

Vidalia, Wisner Tie

WISNER, La. (Special)—Larry Lachney's PAT kick in the last two minutes missed by inches and Wisner had to settle for a 6-6 tie with Vidalia in a battle of district 3-B powers here last night.

Lachney's kick, which was off to the right slightly, came after the home team tied the score a 6-6 on W. H. Sanders' two - yard touchdown run. The drive started when Sanders recovered a fumble on the Vidalia 46 and gained nearly all of the yards on the push.

Vidalia, the defending district champion, had led since the second quarter when quarterback Butch Wiggins climaxed an 18-yard drive with a five - yard touchdown run. Ray Ainsworth's run for the extra point was short.

Wisner preserved its unbeaten record with the tie, now standing 4-0-1. Vidalia is 2-2-1 for the year and 1-0-1 in the district. Wisner is 2-0-1 in district play.

Eagles Win, 7-0

STERLINGTON, La. (Special) — Wayne McManus rammed two yards for a touchdown in the first quarter as Holly Ridge edged Sterlington, 7-0, in a district 2-B game last night.

Henry Miller kicked the extra point as Holly Ridge won its second game in five starts. The Eagles are 1-1 in district while Sterlington is 1-3 for the season and 0-1 in the district.

Sterlington had two touchdowns called back in the game.

Henry and Buddy Hemler, Elton Burch and Tommy Bonner were outstanding for the losers while McManus, Henry Miller, Lloyd Swain and Tommy Winstead starred for Holly Ridge.

Oak Grove, 41-21

Broadway scored three touchdowns in the first half, all three from four yards out, in leading Rayville to a 28-7 halftime advantage. He came back with a six yarder in the fourth quarter.

Rayville temporarily tied the score 7-7 in the opening period when fullback Jackie Pope climaxed a 60 - yard drive by driving over from two yards out.

Three Oak Grove TD's in the second period broke the game open. David Kennedy went around left end from five yards away for the first one, before Broadway got his second and third scores of the night.

Oak Groves' Vernon Bankston went eight yards to score in the third quarter, before Broadway added his last talley, and Rayville ck for two late scores in th. Timmy Thames got ville score in the fourth - yard run and quarter- rk Brown connected with Gammill on a 56 - yard pass play for the other.

er Wins, 13-0

RMERVILLE (Special) — r capitalized on two first ter touchdowns to win its st game of the year, 13-0 over armerville here Friday night.

Fullback John Anderson put Homer in front 6-0 with a 24-yard scamper in the first quarter. The PAT try failed.

On the following kickoff, Homer recovered a fumble at the Farmerville 38 and pushed over for the second score. Halfback Gerald White got the touchdown from two - yards out and Anderson ran over the extra - point.

3-13 Tie

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La. (Special) — Lake Providence and Winnsboro battled to a 13-13 tie in a district 2-A game here Friday night.

Lake Providence tied the game in the final period on a eight-yard pass from Joe Collins to Gary Shelton. A run for the extra point was short.

The typing touchdown was set up by a 26 - yard pass from Collins to Connie Overby. The pass came after the Panthers took over on the Winnsboro 30 after Winnsboro failed to get off a punt because of a low pass from center. Collins passed to Overby, then the Panthers lost yardage, then Collins hit Shelton for the TD.

Lake Providence scored in the first quarter when Overby picked up a fumble and dashed 60 yards. David Clarkson kicked the PAT. Winnsboro scored in the second when Oliver Tyson ran 63 yards from scrimmage. Bruce Kold kicked the PAT.

Also in the second, Bill Marioneaux passed 30 yards to Tyson to put Winnsboro ahead, 13-7. The PAT kick was no good.

Margaret Outz was crowned homecoming queen at the game.

Lake Providence, formerly a class B team, remained unbeaten though twice tied. The Panthers have won twice. Winnsboro is 1-1-1 in the league and Lake Providence 1-0-1.

Lafayette 20-16 Winner

Lake Charles led until the final period, posting scores on Buddy Micelli's 19-yard field goal and his 11-yard touchdown run. Fullback Paul DeMarry also scored for the Wildcats on a 31-yard sprint.

Hebert scored once in the third quarter while Maurice LeBlanc added another to put Lafayette within striking distance. Tackle Jim Edney scooped up a Lake Charles fumble to set up Hebert's winning tally.

Redemptorist Wins

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Halfback Pat Scully led Redemptorist to a 19-6 triple-A victory over Fortier Friday night.

Scully scored two of the Rams' touchdowns on short bursts. The third tally came when end Jack Patterson fell on a blocked Fortier kick in the end zone.

Bogalusa, 6-0

BOGALUSA, La. (AP) — Undefeated Bogalusa — sixth-ranked triple-A team — blanked Baton Rouge 6-0 Friday night in its first district competition of the season.

Quarterback Greg Honaker passed 7 yards to Larry Magee for the tally. Bogalusa rolled up 16 first downs to five for Baton Rouge while Honaker completed 9 out of 22 passes for 152 yards.

Terrebonne By One

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Quarterback Dave Bourgeois accounted for all Terrebonne points Friday night as the ninth-ranked Tigers edged East Jefferson 7-6 in a triple-A game.

With 48 seconds to play, Bourgeois ran nine yards for the Terrebonne touchdown. He faked a kick and flipped to George Bourgeois for the winning conversion.

The East Jefferson touchdown came earlier in the fourth quarter with Jim Mathes recovering a Terrebonne fumble at the Warrior 34. On the first play, quarterback Barry Raziano threw a touchdown pass to Skip Graham, the play covering 66 yards from scrimmage. Guard Chris Cenac blocked John Curtis' kick for the conversion.

Newellton Wins

NEWELLTON, La. (Special) — Newellton scored its second victory in history over Tallulah by taking a 14-13 triumph when Don Morton's last quarter PAT kick was unsuccessful.

Newellton, which has been playing Tallulah since 1935, beat the Trojans in 1954 for its only over victory over the class A team, state champion last fall. Newellton is class B.

Tallulah scored on its first offensive series of the night in the opening period when quarterback Donald Trichell ran four yards. Morton kicked the PAT.

Newellton knotted the count in the second stanza on Allen Bozeman's 14 - yard pass to Danny Cannon. George Cooper ran the PAT.

In the third, Newellton went ahead on George Cooper's 58-yard scoring scamper from scrimmage. Lamar Barnett ran for the game-winning extra point.

Bobby Morgan ran two yards for a TD in the fourth to pull Tallulah within one point of a tie. But Morton's kick was no good.

Newellton is now 2-3 for the season and Tallulah has the same record.

Nicholls 14-13

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A dive across the goal line for an extra point by Richard Garrity gave Nicholls a 14-13 triple-A decision over Chalmette Friday night.

James Gourges scored one Nicholls touchdown on a 5-yard run and passed 17 yards to Ronald Crespo for the other. Both Chalmette tallies were scored by Charles Robertson on runs of 21 and 25 yards.

Jesuit 21-0

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Jesuit of New Orleans—the top-ranked Louisiana triple-A prep team — defeated Pensacola 21-0 Friday night to gain revenge for three previous losses to the Floridians.

Schweigart threw 6 yards to end Owen Jones for the final tally. Warren Landry kicked all three extra points.

Ruston Wins, 7-0

WINNFIELD, La. (Special) — Eddie Taylor sprinted 83 yards with an intercepted pass in the first period to give Ruston a 7-0 victory over Winnfield in a district 2-AA battle last night.

Winnfield, a former class A power making its debut in class AA, drive to the Ruston 12-yard line in the final period before fumbling the ball away. Winnfield is now 3-2 for the season and 0-1 in the district.

Ruston is 3-2 overall and 1-0 in district play.

Winnfield had the edge in first down, seven to six, while Ruston had a 126-105 edge in yards rushing. Winnfield completed four of 12 passes for 31 yards to 5-1 and 13 for Ruston. Ruston intercepted one pass and each team lost two fumbles.

Ruston was penalized nine times for 75 yards and Winnfield was penalized once for 15 yards. Ruston punted seven times for a 31.4 average and Winnfield eight times for 33.5 yards per kick.

Woodlawn Wins

SPRINGHILL, La. (AP)—Fullback Tommy Linder crashed two yards over guard to give Woodlawn of Shreveport a 7-0 victory over double-A Springhill.

It was the first loss of the season for Springhill, ranked sixth in the AP double-A poll

Linder's thrust capped a 49-yard second quarter drive for the Knights, rated 10th in Triple-A. It was Woodlawn's fourth straight triumph after an opening loss to North Caddo.

End Mickey Joiner kicked the extra point.

Catholic Wins

BAY ST. LOUIS, Miss. (AP) — Catholic High of Baton Rouge struck swiftly for two touchdowns late in the first half Friday night and went onto a 19-6 victory over St. Stanislaus.

On the home team's first scrimmage play after the kickoff, Catholic's Don Plaisance picked off a Dusty Rhoades aerial and ran 47 yards to score. Bobby Harris converted.

St. Stanislaus scored late in the third quarter on a one-yard plunge by Barry Boasberg, after Mike Mashburn blocked a Catholic punt at the Catholic 31.

Lloyd Plaisance went 20 yards in the final quarter for Catholic's final TD. The victory evened Catholic's record at 2-2 and dropped St. Stanislaus to 1-3.

Istrouma Wins

BATON ROUGE (AP) — Quarterback Ronnie Murphy threw three touchdown passes as he directed second-ranked Istrouma to a 39-14 triple-A decision over Fair Park Friday night.

It was the fourth victory in five starts for the Indians.

Fair Park scored in the first 90 seconds as halfback Jerry Solice raced 58 yards for a touchdown. Three minutes later Murphy threw 12 yards to end Charles Rohner for Istrouma's first tally.

The Indians didn't go ahead until the second stanza when Murphy passed 18-yards to Rohner for another tally. The Tribe got two scores in the third on a 25-yard sprint by fullback Benny Griffin and a 27-yard Murphy-to-Donald McCrary aerial.

Fair Park scored early in the four period on David Worthington's 4-yard pass to Richard Kincaid. Griffin and Johnny Yarbrough scored on the ground for Istrouma.

Third Straight

NEW IBERIA, La. (AP) — Surprising New Iberia scored its third straight victory Friday night with a 20-15 upset over eighth-ranked triple-A Sulphur.

Bobby Keasler scooped up a Sulphur fumble in the final period and raced 33 yards for the winning touchdown. Other Jacket tallies came on a 19-yard aerial from Arthur Mazerole to halfback Tommy Lewis and a 2-yard sneak by Mazerole.

Sulphur scored on a first period safety, a 1-yard sneak by Harry Mouton, and a 19-yard Frank Blake to C. T. Campbell pass.

LaGrange Wins

ALEXANDRIA, La. (AP) — A spectacular 60-yard pass interception by Gary Guins and three short scoring plunges by Rusty Fry carried LaGrange to a 28-7 victory over Bolton in a triple-A game Friday night.

Guins, who led all ball carriers with 102 yards in 14 carries, made his interception in the first quarter. Later in the same period, Fry scored on the first of three 2-yard plunges, the others coming in the third and fourth quarters.

Quarterback Lloyd Christ kicked all four LaGrange conversions.

FOR FIRST VICTORY

Bastrop Beats Lions, 7-0, In 1-AAA Contest

BASTROP, La. (Special)— Bastrop scored in the final period to beat Ouachita, 7-0, in a district 1-AAA contest here last night.

Quarterback Ricky Head passed three yards to Morris Funderburg for the Bastrop touchdown. Billy Deville kicked the extra point. The touchdown climaxed a 45 - yard drive in the defensive battle.

Both clubs went into the game winless after four games. Bastrop is now 1-2 in district competition while Ouachita is now 0-2 in the league.

	Ouachita	Bastrop
First Downs	4	6
Yards Rushing	91	124
Yards Passing	0	47
Passes	5-0	10-3
Passes Int. By	1	2

Punting	6-31.1	4-39.5

Statistics reflected the defensive character of the contest. The two teams collected only 10 first downs with Bastrop getting six of them. The local Rams got 124 yards on the ground to 91 for Ouachita and passed for 47 yards to none for the Lions from Monroe. Bastrop connected on three of 10 passes while Ouachita completed none of five.

Bastrop was assessed a whopping 110 yards on 10 penalties while Ouachita was penalized once for 15 yards.

Natchitoches, 28-0

NATCHITOCHES (Special) — Natchitoches scored four touchdowns and a safety to down Jena 28-0 here Friday night.

Jay Pierson scored the first on a two - yard run. This was followed by Charley Pridgen's 15-yard dash, a six - yarder by Dont Fort and a 22 - yard touchdown pass play from Pierson to Jim Hollinsworth.

A safety followed when a field goal attempt failed, a Jena runner recovered the ball in end zone and was tackled there.

Sicily Island, 32-0

SICILY ISLAND (Special) — Arnold Ready and Joe Raymond Peace went on a two - man scoring binge to lead Sicily Island to a 32-0 victory over Waterproof here Friday night.

Ready scored three times, including once on a pass from Peace, and Peace intercepted two Waterproof aerials for touchdowns.

He tallied again in the third stanza on a 10-yard jaunt. Peace stole a Waterproof pass in the same quarter and raced it back 40 - yards for another touchdown.

Then in the final period Peace connected with Ready on a 30-yard touchdown pass and intercepted his second Waterproof heave and romped some 70-yards for the final score of the night.

Coushatta Wins

COUSHATTA, La. (Special) — Donald Horton scored three touchdowns and passed for another as Coushatta routed Bernice, 41-13, last night.

Horton scored on runs of 10, 40 and 33 yards and passed 29 yards to brother Henry for another TD. Other Coushatta scores came on a 76 - yard dash by Stanley Dixon, Tommy Blount's 16 - yard run and a safety in the third when Walter Lee tackled Bernice's Larry Fitzgerald in the end zone. Extra points were scored by Dixon, Tommy Roscoe and Ronnie Lafield.

Bernice scored in the third on Ronnie Evan's nine - yard run and added another TD in the fourth on Billy Harry Colbin's 11-yard trip into the end zone. Colvin ran for one PAT.

Bernice, a member of district 2-B, is 2-3 for the season and 1-B member Coushatta is 4-1.

Defensive Change

Mira Passes Miami Past Florida State

MIAMI (UPI)—Miami's Hurricanes, passed to a first quarter touchdown by quarterback George Mira, hung on through a rough-and-tumble battle Friday for a 7-6 victory over an underdog Florida State team which fumbled four big scoring chances.

Three times it was 210-pound Miami guard Jim O'Mahoney who saved the game for the 10th-ranked Hurricanes before 43,962 fans in the Orange Bowl.

With the ball game in its closing two minutes, Florida State stopped a Miami drive cold and desperately tried a last time to drive through the hard - tackling Miami defense.

	FLORIDA STATE	MIAMI
First downs	16	11
Rushing Yardage	144	104
Passing yardage	178	122
Passes	12-17	7-15
Passes intercepted by	1	0
Punts	2-47.5	6-33.5
Fumbles lost	6	2
Yards penalized	5	65

But fullback Gene Roberts fumbled on the 10 with only 26 seconds remaining, O'Mahoney recovered and it was all over.

All the scoring was in the first half. Mira's passes carried Miami to a touchdown, and Doug Messer's accurate kicking produced two field goals for Florida State.

Florida State, making a fighting bid for national recognition, fumbled seven times. Miami fumbled three times and the game was plagued by penalties.

Miami scored in the second period, driving 72 yards in only three plays. After a one - yard gain to the Miami 28 Mira spiraled a pass to halfback Nick Spinelli who ran the sidelines for 32 yards. On the next play, Mira threw the remaining 39 yards to Spinelli in the end zone.

Bob Wilson's kick was good to provide the eventual margin of victory.

Miami 7 0 0 0—7
Florida State 3 3 0 0—6

Scoring:
FSU-Messer 29 fg
Mia-Spinelli 39 pass from Mira (Wilson kick)
FSU: Messer 26 fg

Scientist Says A-Test Created Radiation Belt Could Be Lethal Hazard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. might have been killed if his space capsule had passed through an artificial radiation belt created by a U.S. high-altitude nuclear test explosion, an Air Force scientist said Friday.

"It conceivably could have been fatal to Schirra if he'd gone above 400 miles," Lt. Col. Albert C. Trakowski Jr., said. He presented a Air Force statement on the radiation belt and answered questions at a news conference.

Schirra actually got no higher than 176 miles on his six-orbit spin around the earth two days ago. This was below the weakest part of the artificial belt that starts about 200 miles above the globe and extends at least 1,000 miles into space.

The scientist's report on the intensity of radiation in the artificial belt carries implications of danger to future exploration deeper into space.

Trakowski indicated also the belt generated by the 250-mile-high nuclear test blast would be strong enough to blind any spy-in-the-sky satellite—U.S. or Soviet—which might move through it above 400 miles, where the radiation increases sharply.

He told reporters film packs, infrared sensors, and television-transmitting devices would be damaged permanently if exposed to the high-intensity radiation.

Banquet Held Preceding Meet At Masonic .Temple

Mrs. Nina M. Evans, District Deputy Grand Matron of District No. 5 served as hostess, when the Official Inspection of the Worthy Grand Matron of Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star of the State of Louisiana was held on Saturday, September 22 at the Monroe Masonic Temple. Mrs. Sybil Fullerton, Tullos is the Worthy Grand Matron and Mr. Lynn R. Pomeroy Sr., Shreveport is the Worthy Grand Patron. They were accompanied by the following grand officers of the state, Mrs. Delain R. Able, Plaquemine, Mr. Marvin G. Wilder, Bossier City, Mrs. Gertrude S. Davis, PGM, Lecompte, Mrs. Osite Lee, PGM, Lake Charles, Mrs. Ethel Robbins, Jennnings, Mrs. Bunchie B. Puckett, Georgetown, Mrs. Dorothy Berry, Shreveport, Mrs. Pauline Rushing, New Orleans, Mrs. Virginia Patton, Merryville, Mrs. Mildred Pomeroy, Shreveport, Mrs. Leola Simms, Baton Rouge, Mrs. Gladys Funchess, Alexandria, Mrs. Sadie Farrar, Farmerville, and Mr. Wesley Beadle, Lafayette.

A banquet was held at the Frances Hotel preceeding the meeting. The tables in the Gold room were covered with gold cloths. Each table held a Pink Candle of Love, a White Crown of Purity and a Golden Bell of Joy. The programs were designed with a silhouette of the Worthy Grand Matron on the cover. Favors were white miniature crowns. The guest table held a massive arrangement of pink roses. Mrs. Dorothy Schmidt, acted as Mistress of Ceremonies, introduced the Grand Officers and their husbands and wives. Mr. Henry Poulan gave the Invocation with the welcome by Mrs. Nina Evans. Miss Charlette Sally entertained with music, singing and readings depicting the three phases of life.

The colors of the year, pink, gold and white, were used in the main room of the Masonic Temple. White columns were entwined with ivy and pink roses. A massive arrangement of pink and gold and greenery was placed in the east. Arrangements of pink roses and figurines of southern ladies were placed at vantage points throughout the room. Escorted by Mrs. Mildred Henderson and Mrs. Manell Nield all distinguished guests were lead into the chapter room. The Scripture and Prayer of the year was given by Mr. Q. T. Cooper. Fourteen ladies, carrying lighted pink candles tied with gold and white ribbons lighted the candles in the east while Mr. E. M. Wooten played Star of the East and a reading of Light was given. With Mrs. Willie Mae Wafer at the piano, Mr. E. M. Wooten sang Always to Mrs. Fullerton and How Great Thou Art to Mr. Pomeroy. Dr. Dee A. Strickland, PMWGM of the Grand Lodge and Chairman of the Masonic Relations Committee of Grand Chapter, welcomed the more than three hundred members present from throughout the state, Arkansas, Mississippi and South Carolina. Mrs. Esna, Easterly, a General Grand Chapter Committee Member gave a response. The mayors of the Twin Cities were then introduced by Mrs. Evans. Mayor W. L. Jack Howard presented gold keys to the city of Monroe to Mrs. Fullerton and Mrs. Pomeroy and Mayor J. Allen Norris, presented charms from the city of West Monroe. Members of Annie D. Bennett gave a very outstanding program. They used canes entwined with pink roses and circled Mrs. Fullerton and Mr. Pomeroy as Mrs. Hazel Lee sang. Mrs. Birdie Mae Mulhern and Mrs. Ona Mae Lafferty presented gifts from the district to the honored guest. In the absence of supervisor, Mrs. Hel Craft, the other two supervisors of the state received her gift from Mrs. Wilma Morris.

The six chapters comprising the Fifth District, Louise L. McGuire, Monroe; Golden Sheaf, Eros; Dixie, Monroe; Annie D. Bennett, West Monroe; Sterlington Chapter, Sterlington; and Cadeville chapter, Cadeville, Louisiana exemplified the work of our order. Mrs. Fullerton and Mr. Pomeroy brought an interesting and inspiring message during the evening. Several other guests brought greetings also.

After the meeting was closed a reception was held in the banquet hall of the Temple. Noted on entering were twin tables overlaid in pink linen and nylon net. The tables held silver coffee services and crystal bowls of pink punch, as well as the party food. A smaller table covered indentically to the larger ones held a gold footed urn containing pink rose buds. Gold candleholders with pink candles and golden tiered bells were used as side decorations. One full side of the reception room was decorated as an outdoor patio covered with ivy, potted ferns and banana plants in full bloom. A fountain containing lilies ran during the reception. Above the patio scene was a painting of Castles in the Air, one of the years symbols. This was painted by Jake Evans, son of the Deputy. At the opposite end a table held golden bells, crowns and pink candles centered with pink roses.

Dinner Party Fetes Couple Prior To Vows

Mr. and Mrs. John Eby were hosts at a dinner on Friday evening, October 5, following the rehearsal of the Owen-Aulds wedding.

Guests were invited to the Eby home on Marie Place immediately following rehearsal at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe. Dinner was served buffet style. In the dining room where the bridal party was seated the table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a bridal arrangement of white roses and white candles. On the buffet, bronze chrysanthemums and candles were the central decor. Other guests were seated at individual tables.

Guests invited in addition to Miss Owen and Mrs. Aulds were Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aulds, Mr. and Mrs. James Lipscomb, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton C. Aulds, Mrs. Pat Hamilton, Mrs. Ollie Owen, Dr. and Mrs. Clifton R. Tennison, Mr. and Mrs. Jack White, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wells, Miss Sara Hamilton, Miss Sally Aulds, Leroy Adair, Wayne Tanner, Johnny Grant, Bobby Ray Smith, Bruce Brooks, Jr., Hank Hamilton, Miss Lynda Eby, Harry McGehee, and Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Hamilton, Jr.

Mrs. Dawson Guest Speaker At ABWA Meet

Mrs. Audrey Dawson, Home Demonstration Agent of Ouachita Prish spoke to four guests and twenty - nine members of the American Business Women's Association, Tupawek Chapter, in the Green Room of the Penn Hotel, Thursday evening, September 27.

A decorative note in the Green Room at the speaker's table was an arrangement of yellow roses and greenery. Dried arrangements of mums were used on the side tables.

A business woman's yard was Mrs. Dawson's topic. She stressed to the group to, "get in the know on your yards and stay up to date as you would in your dress."

Mrs. John Morton, Ways and Means chairman, gave the date and time that she and her committee had planned for the big project for the year, a barbeque . . be held Saturday afternoon, October 27, at the American Legion Home.

Mrs. Garland DeCell, Tupawek Chapter's Woman of the Year, presented to the group a theme song which was voted on and accepted.

Guests present were Mrs. Marie Brooks, Mrs. Jeannet Langridge, Mrs. Teresa Phillips, and Mrs. Marion Slavant.

Members present were Mrs. Paul Wilhite, Miss Frances White, Mrs. Olney White, Mrs. Hardy Wells, Mrs. Arthur Vancil, Mrs. Ione Turner, Mrs. Curtis Smith, Mrs. Alvin Skipper, Mrs. Otha

Northeast Women's Club Hosts Garden Tea Party

The gardens surrounding the home of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Walker on Chauvin Avenue provided the setting for a garden tea party held on Sunday, September 30, at 4:00 p.m., hosted by the Northeast Louisiana State College Women's Club to honor new faculty women, faculty wives, and women staff members of the college.

Serving as hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Walker and the officers of the club, who are: Dr. Ethel Trice, president; Mrs. Ralph Wilson, first vice - president; Mrs. Paul Haeuber, second vice - president; Mrs. Eris Ginn, Secretary; Mrs. Beryl Franklin, Treasurer; and Mrs. Bob De-Moss, reporter.

Greeting guests as they arrived on the front lawn of the Walker home were Miss Francis Baldwin and Mrs. Fred Vogel. Presenting identification tags were Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Mrs. Bob De-Moss who invited guests to the garden and patio. Receiving guest there were Mrs. Walker and Dr. Ethel Trice.

Centering the tea table on the patio was a massive arrangement of giant white chrysanthemums in a silver compote. Pastel green punch was served from silver punch bowls at each end of the table by Honorary Members of the club, Mrs. John McCarter, Mrs. Pat Mitchell, Mrs. H. H. Hyman, and Mrs. Delores Payne. They were assisted by Mrs. John Pitman, Mrs. Mattie Pilley, Mrs. Herbert Peterson, Mrs. Reese Overton, Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Norman McMillon, Mrs. Guy McDonald, Mrs. Aubrey Maxwell, Mrs. Hollis Greene, Mrs. John Gaddis, Mrs. Roy Farmer, Mrs. Linus Evans, Mrs. DeCell, Miss June E. Cox, Mrs. Andy Couch, Mrs. Spencer Collie, Mrs. Mildred Chapman, Mrs. Herman C. Chapman, Mrs. Clifford Byrd, Mrs. Florence Biggar, Mrs. J. T. Avery, Hill, Mrs. Lawrence Browning, and Mrs. Jerry Linnstaeder.

Scrap books of the past years of the club were displayed on a garden table near the patio. Also located near the patio were tables of interest groups of the club which were presided by Mrs. Jack Harrington, Book Review Chairman; Mrs. Jack Collins, Party Bridge Chairman; Mrs. Marcus Mapp, Duplicate Bridge Chairman; Mrs. August Danti, Flower Arrangement Chairman; and Mrs. Ed Whatley, Red Cross Chairman.

Distributing yearbooks for the club were Mrs. Beryl Franklin, Mrs. Paul Haeuber, and Mrs. Eris Ginn.

Also assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. Dan Dupree, Mrs. Joseph Kern, Mrs. Jack Rowan, and Mrs. Davis Bingham.

At the end of the afternoon a short business meeting was held with Dr. Ethel Trice presiding. Members were welcomed and Mrs. Josie Palmer was voted an honorary member of the club. Over 100 guests attended.

Annual Project Is Discussed By Pilot Club

The Pilot theme "Progress Through Gifts of Time and Talent" was much in evidence Tuesday night, October 2, when the club met at the Virginia Hotel to begin work on the preparation of Christmas seals for mailing, an annual project in cooperation with the Ouachita Tuberculosis and Public Health Association.

Club chaplain, Mrs. Zera Edwards, gave the invocation.

Mrs. Cecile Parker, president, announced that the Pilot Club of Louisville, Mississippi, will serve as hostess at the District III Fall Council to be held October 20 and 21 on Lake Tiah O'Khata, at Louisville. At least eight members of the Monroe club plan to attend.

Pilot Club each year dresses dolls for the Salvation Army. Mrs. Parker urged that the dolls be completed and returned by the end of November.

Mrs. Parker welcomed former Pilot, Miss Nona "Dutch" Martin, back into the club.

Present at this meeting were Mrs. Virginia Allison, Mrs. Zera Edwards, Mrs. Evelyn Chilton, Mrs. Jo Willis, Mrs. Mary Harker, Mrs. Lois Hollingsworth, Mrs. Louise Sale, Mrs. Cecile Parker, Mrs. Ellen Thompson, Mrs. Lila Rushing, Miss Helen Benoit, Mrs. Sibyl Aiken, Mrs. Ruby Hatten, Mrs. Julia Moore, Mrs. Anna Mae Breeze, Miss Katie McGee, Mrs. Mildred Ambrose, Mrs. Alyne Newsom, Mrs. Leta Tisdale, Miss Nona Martin, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mrs. Hazel Garlington, Mrs. Zola Smith, and Mrs. Lloydelle Thomas.

Junior Charity League Honors Business Men

Business men of the area who have assisted and supported the Junior Charity League were honored guests for coffee on Wednesday morning, October 3 at the Lotus Club.

Over five hundred invitations were extended in a gesture of appreciation by the organization.

League president Mrs. John O. Clay and Mrs. Ronald Davis, Jr., greeted the guests who were served homemade sweets and coffee by Mrs. Thad Ryan, Jr. and Mrs. D. C. Bernhardt.

Honorees were invited to watch Schirra in his orbital flight on TV and to see the various phases of League work represented by miniature doll displays placed around the room, explained by Mrs. Fred Westrom, Mrs. Fred Sartor, Mrs. Robert Downing, Mrs. D. V. Loflin, and Mrs. Charles Petrus.

Fall flowers and colors complemented by burnished copper serving pieces were used to decorate the room.

General chairman for the occasion was Mrs. Thad Ryan, Jr., assisted by Mrs. D. C. Bernhardt, general co - ordinator, Mrs. Charles Petrus; flowers, Mrs. D. V. Loflin; invitations, Mrs. Oliver Vreeland and Mrs. Guy Jones, addresses, Miss Fran Guthrie; display arrangement, Mrs. J. D. Wink and Mrs. Doyle Hamilton; food, Mrs. Charles E. Banquet Held Preceding Meet At Masonic Temple

Mrs. Nina M. Evans, District Deputy Grand Matron of District No. 5 served as hostess, when the Official Inspection of the Worthy Grand Matron of Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star of the State of Louisiana was held on Saturday, September 22 at the Monroe Masonic Temple. Mrs. Sybil Fullerton, Tullos is the Worthy Grand Matron and Mr. Lynn R. Pomeroy Sr., Shreveport is the Worthy Grand Patron. They were accompanied by the following grand officers of the state, Mrs. Delain R. Able, Plaquemine, Mr. Marvin G. Wilder, Bossier City, Mrs. Gertrude S. Davis, PGM, Lecompte, Mrs. Osite Lee, PGM, Lake Charles, Mrs. Ethel Robbins, Jennnings, Mrs. Bunchie B. Puckett, Georgetown, Mrs. Dorothy Berry, Shreveport, Mrs. Pauline Rushing, New Orleans, Mrs. Virginia Patton, Merryville, Mrs. Mildred Pomeroy, Shreveport, Mrs. Leola Simms, Baton Rouge, Mrs. Gladys Funchess, Alexandria, Mrs. Sadie Farrar, Farmerville, and Mr. Wesley Beadle, Lafayette.

A banquet was held at the Frances Hotel preceeding the meeting. The tables in the Gold room were covered with gold cloths. Each table held a Pink Candle of Love, a White Crown of Purity and a Golden Bell of Joy. The programs were designed with a silhouette of the Worthy Grand Matron on the cover. Favors were white miniature crowns. The guest table held a massive arrangement of pink roses. Mrs. Dorothy Schmidt, acted as Mistress of Ceremonies, introduced the Grand Officers and their husbands and wives. Mr. Henry Poulan gave the Invocation with the welcome by Mrs. Nina Evans. Miss Charlette Sally entertained with music, singing and readings depicting the three phases of life.

The colors of the year, pink, gold and white, were used in the main room of the Masonic Temple. White columns were entwined with ivy and pink roses. A massive arrangement of pink and gold and greenery was placed in the east. Arrangements of pink roses and figurines of southern ladies were placed at vantage points throughout the room. Escorted by Mrs. Mildred Henderson and Mrs. Manell Nield all distinguished guests were lead into the chapter room. The Scripture and Prayer of the year was given by Mr. Q. T. Cooper. Fourteen ladies, carrying lighted pink candles tied with gold and white ribbons lighted the candles in the east while Mr. E. M. Wooten played Star of the East and a reading of Light was given. With Mrs. Willie Mae Wafer at the piano, Mr. E. M. Wooten sang Always to Mrs. Fullerton and How Great Thou Art to Mr. Pomeroy. Dr. Dee A. Strickland, PMWGM of the Grand Lodge and Chairman of the Masonic Relations Committee of Grand Chapter, welcomed the more than three hundred members present from throughout the state, Arkansas, Mississippi and South Carolina. Mrs. Esna, Easterly, a General Grand Chapter Committee Member gave a response. The mayors of the Twin Cities were then introduced by Mrs. Evans. Mayor W. L. Jack Howard presented gold keys to the city of Monroe to Mrs. Fullerton and Mrs. Pomeroy and Mayor J. Allen Norris, presented charms from the city of West Monroe. Members of Annie D. Bennett gave a very outstanding program. They used canes entwined with pink roses and circled Mrs. Fullerton and Mr. Pomeroy as Mrs. Hazel Lee sang. Mrs. Birdie Mae Mulhern and Mrs. Ona Mae Lafferty presented gifts from the district to the honored guest. In the absence of supervisor, Mrs. Hel Craft, the other two supervisors of the state received her gift from Mrs. Wilma Morris.

The six chapters comprising the Fifth District, Louise L. McGuire, Monroe; Golden Sheaf, Eros; Dixie, Monroe; Annie D. Bennett, West Monroe; Sterlington Chapter, Sterlington; and Cadeville chapter, Cadeville, Louisiana exemplified the work of our order. Mrs. Fullerton and Mr. Pomeroy brought an interesting and inspiring message during the evening. Several other guests brought greetings also.

After the meeting was closed a reception was held in the banquet hall of the Temple. Noted on entering were twin tables overlaid in pink linen and nylon net. The tables held silver coffee services and crystal bowls of pink punch, as well as the party food. A smaller table covered indentically to the larger ones held a gold footed urn containing pink rose buds. Gold candleholders with pink candles and golden tiered bells were used as side decorations. One full side of the reception room was decorated as an outdoor patio covered with ivy, potted ferns and banana plants in full bloom. A fountain containing lilies ran during the reception. Above the patio scene was a painting of Castles in the Air, one of the years symbols. This was painted by Jake Evans, son of the Deputy. At the opposite end a table held golden bells, crowns and pink candles centered with pink roses.

Dinner Party Fetes Couple Prior To Vows

Mr. and Mrs. John Eby were hosts at a dinner on Friday evening, October 5, following the rehearsal of the Owen-Aulds wedding.

Guests were invited to the Eby home on Marie Place immediately following rehearsal at the First Baptist Church in West Monroe. Dinner was served buffet style. In the dining room where the bridal party was seated the table was covered with a white linen cloth and centered with a bridal arrangement of white roses and white candles. On the buffet, bronze chrysanthemums and candles were the central decor. Other guests were seated at individual tables.

Guests invited in addition to Miss Owen and Mrs. Aulds were Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aulds, Mr. and Mrs. James Lipscomb, Mr. and Mrs. Hilton C. Aulds, Mrs. Pat Hamilton, Mrs. Ollie Owen, Dr. and Mrs. Clifton R. Tennison, Mr. and Mrs. Jack White, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wells, Miss Sara Hamilton, Miss Sally Aulds, Leroy Adair, Wayne Tanner, Johnny Grant, Bobby Ray Smith, Bruce Brooks, Jr., Hank Hamilton. Miss Lynda Eby, Harry McGehee, and Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Hamilton, Jr.

Mrs. Dawson Guest Speaker At ABWA Meet

Mrs. Audrey Dawson, Home Demonstration Agent of Ouachita Prish spoke to four guests and twenty - nine members of the American Business Women's Association, Tupawek Chapter, in the Green Room of the Penn Hotel, Thursday evening, September 27.

A decorative note in the Green Room at the speaker's table was an arrangement of yellow roses and greenery. Dried arrangements of mums were used on the side tables.

A business woman's yard was Mrs. Dawson's topic. She stressed to the group to, "get in the know on your yards and stay up to date as you would in your dress."

Mrs. John Morton, Ways and Means chairman, gave the date and time that she and her committee had planned for the big project for the year, a barbeque to be held Saturday afternoon, October 27, at the American Legion Home.

Mrs. Garland DeCell, Tupawek Chapter's Woman of the Year, presented to the group a theme song which was voted on and accepted.

Guests present were Mrs. Marie Brooks, Mrs. Jeannet Langridge, Mrs. Teresa Phillips, and Mrs. Marion Slavant.

Northeast Women's Club Hosts Garden Tea Party

The gardens surrounding the home of Mr. and Mrs. George T. Walker on Chauvin Avenue provided the setting for a garden tea party held on Sunday, September 30, at 4:00 p.m., hosted by the Northeast Louisiana State College Women's Club to honor new faculty women, faculty wives, and women staff members of the college.

Serving as hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Walker and the officers of the club, who are: Dr. Ethel Trice, president; Mrs. Ralph Wilson, first vice - president; Mrs. Paul Haeuber, second vice - president; Mrs. Eris Ginn, Secretary; Mrs. Beryl Franklin, Treasurer; and Mrs. Bob DeMoss, reporter.

Greeting guests as they arrived on the front lawn of the Walker home were Miss Francis Baldwin and Mrs. Fred Vogel. Presenting identification tags were Mrs. Ralph Wilson and Mrs. Bob DeMoss who invited guests to the garden and patio. Receiving guest there were Mrs. Walker and Dr. Ethel Trice.

Centering the tea table on the patio was a massive arrangement of giant white chrysanthemums in a silver compote. Pastel green punch was served from silver punch bowls at each end of the table by Honorary Members of the club, Mrs. John McCarter, Mrs. Pat Mitchell, Mrs. H. H. Hyman, and Mrs. Delores Payne. They were assisted by Mrs. John Pitman, Mrs. Mattie Pilley, Mrs. Herbert Peterson, Mrs. Reese Overton, Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Norman McMillon, Mrs. Guy McDonald, Mrs. Aubrey Maxwell, Mrs. Hollis Greene, Mrs. John Gaddis, Mrs. Roy Farmer, Mrs. Linus Evans, Mrs. DeCell, Miss June E. Cox, Mrs. Andy Couch, Mrs. Spencer Collie, Mrs. Mildred Chapman, Mrs. Herman C. Chapman, Mrs. Clifford Byrd, Mrs. Florence Biggar, Mrs. J. T. Avery.

Scrap books of the past years of the club were displayed on a garden table near the patio. Also located near the patio were tables of interest groups of the club which were presided by Mrs. Jack Harrington, Book Review Chairman; Mrs. Jack Collins, Party Bridge Chairman; Mrs. Marcus Mapp, Duplicate Bridge Chairman; Mrs. August Danti, Flower Arrangement Chairman; and Mrs. Ed Whatley, Red Cross Chairman.

Distributing yearbooks for the club were Mrs. Beryl Franklin, Mrs. Paul Haeuber, and Mrs. Eris Ginn.

Also assisting in the courtesies were Mrs. Dan Dupree, Mrs. Joseph Kern, Mrs. Jack Rowan, and Mrs. Davis Bingham.

At the end of the afternoon a short business meeting was held with Dr. Ethel Trice presiding. Members were welcomed and Mrs. Josie Palmer was voted an honorary member of the club. Over 100 guests attended.

Annual Project Is Discussed By Pilot Club

The Pilot theme "Progress Through Gifts of Time and Talent" was much in evidence Tuesday night, October 2, when the club met at the Virginia Hotel to begin work on the preparation of Christmas seals for mailing, an annual project in cooperation with the Ouachita Tuberculosis and Public Health Association.

Club chaplain, Mrs. Zera Edwards, gave the invocation.

Mrs. Cecile Parker, president, announced that the Pilot Club of Louisville, Mississippi, will serve as hostess at the District III Fall Council to be held October 20 and 21 on Lake Tiah O'Khata, at Louisville. At least eight members of the Monroe club plan to attend.

Pilot Club each year dresses dolls for the Salvation Army. Mrs. Parker urged that the dolls be completed and returned by the end of November.

Mrs. Parker welcomed former Pilot, Miss Nona "Dutch" Martin, back into the club.

Present at this meeting were Mrs. Virginia Allison, Mrs. Zera Edwards, Mrs. Evelyn Chilton, Mrs. Jo Willis, Mrs. Mary Harker, Mrs. Lois Hollingsworth, Mrs. Louise Sale, Mrs. Cecile Parker, Mrs. Ellen Thompson, Mrs. Lila Rushing, Miss Helen Benoit, Mrs. Sibyl Aiken, Mrs. Ruby Hatten, Mrs. Julia Moore, Mrs. Anna Mae Breeze, Miss Katie McGee, Mrs. Mildred Ambrose, Mrs. Alyne Newsom, Mrs. Leta Tisdale, Miss Nona Martin, Miss Eleona Brinsmade, Mrs. Hazel Garlington, Mrs. Zola Smith, and Mrs. Lloydelle Thomas.

Junior Charity League Honors Business Men

Business men of the area who have assisted and supported the Junior Charity League were honored guests for coffee on Wednesday morning, October 3 at the Lotus Club.

Over five hundred invitations were extended in a gesture of appreciation by the organization.

League president Mrs. John O. Clay and Mrs. Ronald Davis, Jr., greeted the guests who were served homemade sweets and coffee by Mrs. Thad Ryan, Jr. and Mrs. D. C. Bernhardt.

Honorees were invited to watch Schirra in his orbital flight on TV and to see the various phases of League work represented by miniature doll displays placed around the room, explained by Mrs. Fred Westrom, Mrs. Fred Sartor, Mrs. Robert Downing, Mrs. D. V. Loflin, and Mrs. Charles Petrus.

Fall flowers and colors complemented by burnished copper serving pieces were used to decorate the room.

General chairman for the occasion was Mrs. Thad Ryan, Jr., assisted by Mrs. D. C. Bernhardt, general co - ordinator, Mrs. Charles Petrus; flowers, Mrs. D. V. Loflin; invitations, Mrs. Oliver Vreeland and Mrs. Guy Jones; addresses, Miss Fran Guthrie; display arrangement, Mrs. J. D. Wink and Mrs. Doyle Hamilton; food, Mrs. Charles E. Brown, Mrs. Robert Clay, Mrs. R. W. Dickenhorst, Mrs. Jack Easterling, Mrs. R. G. Hart, Jr., Mrs. H. Land, Mrs.. Roy Ledbetter, Jr., Mrs. Randolph Brown, Mrs. Roy Q. Cole, Mrs. M. S. HINTS FROM Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I would like all of your women readers — and that does not exempt bachelors — to know that that the "build-up" of all of your coats of wax on wooden tables can be removed with 0000 steel wool! Do NOT buy any heavier steel wool for this job.

I have been in the furniture business for over forty years. The way we remove build-up of waxes is: Use absolutely nothing but extra fine steel wool. Some people may have trouble locating this size, but it can be bought at nearly any hardware store.

Take one hunk of the plain, dry, steel wool, and rub the top of the table gently. This means not to press down on it too hard. At first you will think that you are ruining your table. This is not so! SO! Immediately you will find a fine white powder accumulating.

This powder is NOT the finish coming off the table. It is the accumulation of all the waxes, which have been put on.

I use the 0000 steel wool, rubbing with the grain of the wood as long as this white film appears. When the pad of steel wool is filled with the white powdery substance, shake the steel wool gently and the powder will leave, thus leaving you a pad which you can use some more.

I have never ruined a piece of furniture in my life with this method. There are other methods, but I hesitate to tell the housewife how to use denatured alcohol! This is a professional's job.

One more parting thought . . . I wonder if these housewives realize that if they only applied one coat of wax a week . . . and their furniture is perhaps six years old — that they have over three hundred coats of wax on this table! They are not going to get three hundred coats off in three minutes, and you better believe it. It will take hours. However, it is worth all of your efforts because you will be down to the beautiful finish of the original furniture.

MR. E. K.

DEAR HELOISE:

Would you please tell me the difference between a neutral, "non-built" detergent and a "built" detergent? I would be most appreciative.

MARY HOLIDAY

DEAR MARY:

Here is a test which you may run yourself.

Wet your hands and pick up some of the dry detergent. If some of the detergent dissolves and the alkali causes the hands to become warm, this means the detergent is "built."

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE:

Many of the hard-to-remove stains on wash and wear cotton will be removed if you hang them on the line in the rain!

My neighbors thought I had "slipped" when they saw me do this, but it worked. It was then that I found the same stains had disappeared which I had tried to remove many times.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I have known a couple for almost 25 years. The man was my husband's buddy during his school days but to put it bluntly they are not my kind of people.

This couple has eight children, ranging in age from 24 to 5. They have sent us birth announcements, high school graduation announcements, wedding announcements and grandchildren's birth announcements. The mother asked me to give bridal showers for two of her daughters and two daughters-in-law.

This morning I received an announcement that another of their daughters is finishing nurses' training. Do I have to send her a present? My husband says yes. It seems like yesterday that I sent her a high school graduation gift. I'll bet in six months her mother will ask me to give a bridal shower for this girl and then we'll have to buy her a wedding gift — and inside of a year we'll have to send a baby gift. Where does all this end? — Thank you. — BLED DRY

DEAR BLED DRY: So long as there are people, there will never be an end. My stand on announcements and gift-giving is well known. I'm in favor of invitations but I'm against announcements.

I'm also against mothers ASKING their friends to put on showers for daughters and daughters-in-law. Friends should offer if they feel like it, but they ought not to be put on the spot — ever.

In families where there are several children the parents should have mercy on their friends.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers if you write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ONCE IN TRILLIONS OF YEARS

HIGHLAND, Ill. (AP)—Bridge playing card bluffs estimate the odds against a single player receiving a perfect suit in a deal is 600 million to one.

A spokesman said each of four women received a full suit from a new, thoroughly shuffled deck.

Mrs. Richard Hammel of Trenton, Ill., holding the spade suit, won a seven-spade bid over Mrs. Floyd Tschennen who held hearts.

HINTS FROM Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I would like all of your women readers — and that does not exempt bachelors — to know that that the "build - up" of all of your coats of wax on wooden tables can be removed with 0000 steel wool! Do NOT buy any heavier steel wool for this job.

I have been in the furniture business for over forty years. The way we remove build - up of waxes is: Use absolutely nothing but extra fine steel wool. Some people may have trouble locating this size, but it can be bought at nearly any hardware store.

Take one hunk of the plain, dry, steel wool, and rub the top of the table gently. This means not to press down on it too hard. At first you will think that you are ruining your table. This is not so! SO! Immediately you will find a fine white powder accumulating.

This powder is NOT the finish coming off the table. It is the accumulation of all the waxes, which have been put on.

I use the 0000 steel wool, rubbing with the grain of the wood as long as this white film appears. When the pad of steel wool is filled with the white powdery substance, shake the steel wool gently and the powder will leave, thus leaving you a pad which you can use some more.

I have never ruined a piece of furniture in my life with this method. There are other methods, but I hesitate to tell the housewife how to use denatured alcohol! This is a professional's job.

One more parting thought . . I wonder if these housewives realize that if they only applied one coat of wax a week . . . and their furniture is perhaps six years old — that they have over three hundred coats of wax on this table! They are not going to get three hundred coats off in three minutes, and you better believe it. It will take hours. However, it is worth all of your efforts because you will be down to the beautiful finish of the original furniture.

MR. E. K.

DEAR HELOISE:

Would you please tell me the difference between a neutral, "non - built" detergent and a "built" detergent? I would be most appreciative.

MARY HOLIDAY

DEAR MARY:

Here is a test which you may run yourself:

Wet your hands and pick up some of the dry detergent. If some of the detergent dissolves and the alkali causes the hands to become warm, this means the detergent is "built."

HELOISE

DEAR HELOISE:

Many of the hard - to - remove stains on wash and wear cotton will be removed if you hang them on the line in the rain!

My neighbors thought I had "slipped" when they saw me do this, but it worked. It was then that I found the same stains had disappeared which I had tried to remove many times.

YOUR PROBLEMS

By Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I have known a couple for almost 25 years. The man was my husband's buddy during his school days but to put it bluntly they are not my kind of people.

This couple has eight children, ranging in age from 24 to 5. They have sent us birth announcements, high school graduation announcements, wedding announcements and grandchildren's birth announcements. The mother asked me to give bridal showers for two of her daughters and two daughters-in-law.

This morning I received an announcement that another of their daughters is finishing nurses' training. Do I have to send her a present? My husband says yes. It seems like yesterday that I sent her a high school graduation gift. I'll bet in six months her mother will ask me to give a bridal shower for this girl and then we'll have to buy her a wedding gift — and inside of a year we'll have to send a baby gift. Where does all this end? — Thank you. — BLED DRY

DEAR BLED DRY: So long as there are people, there will never be an end. My stand on announcements and gift-giving is well known. I'm in favor of invitations but I'm against announcements.

I'm also against mothers ASKING their friends to put on showers for daughters and daughters-in-law. Friends should offer if they feel like it, but they ought not to be put on the spot — ever.

In families where there are several children the parents should have mercy on their friends.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teenagers if you write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

ONCE IN TRILLIONS OF YEARS

HIGHLAND, Ill. (AP)—Bridge playing card bluffs estimate the odds against a single player receiving a perfect suit in a deal is 600 million to one.

A spokesman said each of four women received a full suit from a new, thoroughly shuffled deck.

MAY FREE CHANG

SEOUL (UPI)—The newspaper Kyunghyang Shinmun, quoting high military junta sources, said Friday the junta soon may free former Premier John M. Chang. Chang was sentenced last week to 10 years in prison for giving $770 to a member of a group involved in a plot to overthrow the military government.

Schirra Tells Of His Goofs

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE UPI — Outspoken Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. said Friday he would have preferred less chatter to and from the ground during his six-orbit whirl around the earth.

He also owned up to a couple of "goofs" on his part, and disclosed that he had suffered the worst injury — although still minor — of any astronaut when he blew the hatch to get out.

A few minutes after arrival at Honolulu about 4 p.m. HST 10 p.m. EDT. Saturday Schirra is scheduled to board a Military Air Transport Service MATS jet and fly to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration NASA Center at Houston, Tex.

NASA spokesman John A. Shorty Powers said after a technical meeting with Schirra and other astronauts that there was no truth in reports that there was no truth in reports that Schirra had "blacked out" durung the descent from orbit.

Powers added that Schirra experienced no physical discomfort while flying inverted.

He said Schirra complained that he did not have enough "quiet time" during the flight because of frequent communication with ground stations.

He said the station at Quito, Ecuador, asked for "greetings to South America" while Schirra was intently studying the drift characteristics of his space capsule Sigma 7.

But Schirra complied with a snappy "buenas dias, you all."

Powers said that Schirra told fellow astronauts he had "goofed" twice by not properly arranging the switches that resulted in "double authority" and caused temporary consumption of twice as much fuel as necessary.

But he said the mistakes were corrected instantly and Schirra still had 78 per cent of his fuel when he splashed down Wednesday 275 miles northeast of Midway smack in front of the Kearsarge.

Schirra cut his right hand in hitting the plunger to operate the hatch blower mechanism after the capsule was hoisted aboard the Kearsarge.

This plunger, for safety reasons, requires a four - pound wallop and all the orbiting astronauts except Virgil Grissom suffered minor injury in hitting it.

Powers said Schirra allowed the Sigma 7 to drift for about two hours on the fourth and fifth orbits, as planned. He found that the yaw attitude changes were very slow and followed no fixed pattern.

Drifting characteristics of the capsule were considered important because longer flights, such as the 18 - orbit all - day flight expected next, will require extended drifting.

Vidalia Mayor Reports Masks Distribution

VIDALIA (Special) — Residents of Vidalia will be issued gas masks at the Vidalia fire station starting 9 a.m. today, according to Mayor Sidney A. Murray Jr.

Col. Thomas D. Burbank, director of the Louisiana Department of Public Safety, overall coordinator for the Louisiana emergency plan, said he is well pleased with plans and preparations made by the citizens of the affected parishes and the various agencies of the federal, state and local government who are in the area with evacuation plans.

Actual lifting date for the chlorine tanks has not been set, but the residents in the danger zone will be notified well in advance of the starting date, officials said.

Approximately 2,000 masks will be distributed.

Cards To JFK Are Distributed In Mississippi

The cards, addressed to the President, and with a line for the signature of the sender say:

"Please take notice that I respectfully resent the unnatural warfare being waged against the sovereign state of Mississippi and urge that you give more serious attention to facing up to the Communist menace and our Cuban problem."

The cards have been distributed at the pink bollworm inspection station at the Mississippi River bridge.

Liscum Funeral Scheduled Today

RUSTON (Special) — Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Hubbard Liscum, 43, who died at her home Thursday, will be held 10 a.m. today at Spears Chapel with the Rev. Doug McGuire, pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church officiating. A sister in Monroe survives.

Burial will be in Greenwood Cemetery under direction of Spears Funeral Home of Ruston.

Bill On War Claims Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate passage by voice vote completed congressional action Friday on a bill authorizing the payment of damage claims of Americans who lost property abroad during World War II.

The compromise measure, worked out by a Senate-House Conference Committee after separate legislation was passed by each branch, also permits the government to sell the General Aniline & Film Corp., seized during the war as German-owned.

Proceeds from the sale of the government's 97 per cent stock interest in General Aniline, estimated to amount to about $180 million, would be held in trust pending the outcome of litigation over ownership.

Interhandel, a Swiss holding company, contends it was the prewar owner of 93 per cent of the stock and has brought a suit that has been before the courts for years.

The war claims provisions of the bill authorize compensation for U.S. nationals, or their heirs, who lost property in Europe, the Far East, or at sea during World War II as a result of enemy action.

Compensation also is authorized for those who suffered death, disability or property loss on civilian passenger ships attacked before the United States entered the war.

Claims, as determined by the Foreign Claims Settlement Commission, would be paid out of funds realized by the government from the sale of enemy assets that were seized in this country.

The commission has estimated it will receive more than 35,000 claims and approve payments in excess of $300 million.

Because not enough money is expected to be available to make all payments in full, the bill sets up an order of priorities.

First priority is given to payment in full of death and disability claims. Next, there would be full payment of claims of small businesses, as certified by the Small Business Administration, and individual property claims of up to $10,000.

All other property damage claims would be paid on a pro rata basis from the funds available.

Fewer Near Mishaps In South Area

By WILLIAM R. MACKAYE
World Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Fewer near-collisions of airplanes were reported in the south - central United States than any other part of the country in a year - long survey done for the Federal Aviation Administration.

The survey, called project SCAN (for System of Collection and Analysis of Near-Collision Reports), was completed June 30 by the Flight Safety Foundation, Inc. Survey. Findings were disclosed Friday by Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby.

The findings listed 237 near-collision reports in the southern mid-west region, which includes Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

This was 9 per cent of 2,577 reports received for the nation as a whole.

The FAA commissioned the $125,000 study in order to gain statistics on near - collisions in an atmosphere where pilots would not hesitate to report such occurences for fear they might be prosecuted for flight regulation violations.

Comparatively few commercial airliners were involved in the incidents reported for the south-central region.

Of this total incidents, airliners were involved in 74 compared to 132 reports of military plane involvements and 132 of general aviation (private) aircraft.

A significant number of the reported incidents — 19 per cent— involved single - engine jet aircraft, which are exclusively military.

The survey report designated 16 per cent of the incidents as critical — situations in which the planes passed within less than 100 feet of one another or collision was averted only by chance, not by pilot action.

Halaby told newsmen the effect of the SCAN report was primarily to confirm previous FAA findings rather than to supply new information.

For the country as a whole, the FAA received 549 reports of near - collisions compared to the 2,577 received by SCAN.

Halaby siad it had not yet been determined whether the FAA would follow the SCAN recommendation that its survey be continued.

He indicated there was some doubt within the FAA whether the increased volume of reports recieved outweighed the impossibility of verifying the anonymous SCAN reports and their gaining additional information.

Ben Bella Plans Visit To Cuba

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — President Osvaldo Dorticos of Cuba said Friday that Algerian Premier Ahmed Ben Bella will visit Cuba after the latter's visit with President Kennedy.

African, Asian and Latin American sources said Ben Bella's visit to Havana at the present juncture of American-Cuban relations will be of "momentous importance."

Ben Bella, who will visit President Kennedy in Washington Oct. 15, will be meeting Premier Fidel Castro shortly afterwards.

Ben Bella is due to meet President Dorticos Sunday to discuss details of the trip. Ben Bella and a party of Algerian diplomats, assembly members and military men lands here Saturday night at 7:30 p.m. EDT.

French Chief Disdainful Of Censure Vote

The National Assembly defeated Premier Georges Pompidou on a motion of censure in the early morning hours. But De Gaulle will receive Pompidou on Saturday. Later he will talk to the presidents of the National Assembly and the Senate. After these consultations — required by the constitution — the president is expected to dissolve the assembly and call for a national election.

De Gaulle's trip to the fall maneuvers of the French army was set long before the crisis winds started blowing in the assembly.

In the pre-De Gaulle era, presidents roused themselves from bed to accept the resignations of defeated premiers. But De Gaulle, who has been trying to shake France out of many of its old habits, is not one to be bound by custom. He left word that he did not want to be disturbed by the outcome of the assembly's nocturnal deliberations. He got the news after he got up for breakfast.

Sources close to De Gaulle said he certainly will dissolve the assembly. The two-round election of new deputies probably will be set for Nov. 4 and Nov. 11.

This would mean that Frenchmen would be asked to go to the polls on three successive Sundays. Sunday Oct. 28 already has been set for a referendum on De Gaulle's proposal for election of future French presidents by popular vote. Approval of this would mean a change in the Fifth Republic's constitution.

The referendum issue brought about the government's defeat. Deputies bitterly protested that the constitution could be changed only through a consultation of Parliament — and not through a referendum which bypassed Parliament. They also feared that a popularly elected president might tend to become a superexecutive who would distort the original aim of the constitution in dividing power among the president, the government and Parliament.

Defense Chiefs To Confer On Viet Nam War

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor will leave Sunday for another round of top-level conferences in Honolulu to discuss the war in South Viet Nam, the Pentagon has announced.

The secretary and the newly-installed chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff will be accompanied by W. Averell Harriman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs; Michael V. Forestal of the National Security Council staff at the White House; and seven other military and civilian officials.

The trip will be McNamara's seventh to Honolulu since late 1961 on the Viet Nam problem. The last previous round of conferences there was on July 22.

Mother Of Two Local Residents Dies On Friday

BASTROP (Special) — Mrs. Emma E. Johnson, 76, died Friday morning after a short illness at the home of a daughter on the Arkansas Road near West Monroe. A native of Morehouse Parish, she was the mother of two Monroe men.

Funeral services have been scheduled for 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the New Hope Baptist Church near Jones with the Rev. Scott Word, pastor, officiating.

Interment in Upper Bonne Idee Cemetery will be under direction of Blackwell - Golden Funeral Home of Bastrop.

Completion Seen On Water Well In West Monroe

Completion of work on a West Monroe water well, out of operation for a little over two weeks, is predicted by next Tuesday.

Located near the city limits on Highway 80, the well is one of four such facilities from which West Monroe draws fresh water. The city council authorized a rush job in repairing the structure at an informal session Sept. 27.

Water Superintendent J. O. Fleming termed the situation "critical" and forecast a water shortage if any one of the three remaining wells went out of order.

Doing the work is the Layne Louisiana Company of Lake Charles from which the city purchased the equipment. Crews arrived on the site early this week, drew the shaft and cleaned and oiled the rig.

Main troubles are thought to be a bent shaft and worn bearing, Mayor J. Allan Norris said Friday. He said the well probably would be back in operation by late Tuesday.

Exact cost of the work is uncertain but is expected to range from $00 to $1500 for labor and around $700 for parts and materials.

Naval Reserve President Hits U.S. Gag Rule

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The president of the U. S. Naval Reserve Association Friday criticized what he called muzzling of responsible officers through timid censorship.

Capt. A. Winfield Chapin, USNR, spoke before the association's ninth national conference.

"Why should our officers be denied the responsibility to guide the people skillfully toward the set goals of our national objectives—of our constitutional rights, and our glorious American heritage?," Chapin said.

"Why should such phrases as 'Communist conspiracy, directed toward absolute domination of the world;' 'Soviet infiltration, menacing the nation and extending throughout the far corners of the globe;' 'The steady advancement of Communism;' 'The worldwide threat of international Communism;' 'the insidious ideology of world Communism;' 'be deleted from speeches of officers who clearly recognize that Khrushchev was not pulling any punches when he said 'we will bury you.' "

The Navy captain said, "it is our duty to exploit and use—in the light of truth—every anti-Communist weapon in our arsenal."

Racial Group Claims Shots Strike Homes

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said "more than six homes and a store were shot into by roving bands of whites" in the Harmony community near Carthage Thursday night.

This was the fourth in a series of racial incidents reported in Mississippi since Negro James H. Meredith was admitted to the University of Mississippi on Monday.

Medgar Evers, NAACP state field secretary, said no one was injured but the six houses and the store were damaged. Harmony is about 50 miles northeast of Jackson. It is in Leake County, home county of Gov. Ross Barnett.

Evers said a protest will be made to the Justice Department requesting that protection be provided for Negro citizens in Harmony.

Leake County law officers said they believed Negroes—not white persons—fired the shots in an effort to attract publicity.

Molotov cocktails, bottles of gasoline with flaming fuses, were hurled at a Negro physician's office and a service station owned by a Negro in Biloxi on Monday night and an incendiary bomb was tossed into the home of Dr. J. L. Allen, a Columbus pharmacist, Wednesday night.

Allen is a member of the Mississippi advisory board of the U.S. Cvil Rights Commission and a member of the NAACP. The incendiary set fire to some curtains and caused minor damage.

In the Biloxi incidents, a Molotov cocktail scarred the wall of a building housing an office of Dr. Gilbert Mason. The other bomb set fire to a service station office owned by Emmett Clark, causing an estimated $400 damage.

Longshoremen Returning To Jobs At Ports

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Longshoremen returned to their jobs in small numbers Friday in the wake of a federal court order halting a general strike resulting from a wage dispute.

One union local supplied 16 work gangs. The second local announced its members would not resume work until Saturday because of a delay in notifying them.

A spokesman for Negro Local 1419 of the International Longshoremen's Association said its 4,000 members were available, but only three stevedoring firms had called for work gangs because of non availability of ships.

The shipping associations ought to reduce the number of men assigned to each work gang. Approximately 9,000 dock workers were affected in the New Orleans-Baton Rouge area.

Grand Jury Session Slated

Major offenses committed in the parish during the past six months will be investigated by the jury. Parish and state - owned buildings and institutions also will be inspected

FRIDAY SESSION

John H. Harnar, 21, of route 2, box 123, West Monroe, was sentenced to six months in jail on a charge of theft.

A motion of quash in the case of Mattie N. Smith, 23, Negro of Sterlington who is charged with negligent homicide, was overruled. Trial was set for Nov. 6 in the case.

Charge against the Smith woman grew out of an automobile accident earlier this year which resulted in the death of Robert W. Cretney, Monroe industrial official. The two - car collision occurred on Highway 165, north of the Monroe city limits.

Mrs. Myrtle M. Henry, 56, of 206 S. Riverfront, West Monroe, was remanded to Oct. 10 for sentencing after being found guilty of five counts of theft.

Two persons were each fined $300 and costs and sentenced to 125 days in jail on charges of operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

They were Timothy L. Wheat, 33, of 101 Apple St., Monroe; and William C. Causey, 19, of route 2, box 141-A, Emerson, Ark.

They included Sherman Gilbert, 29, Negro of 1211 Columbia Ave., Monroe; Robert L. Rushing, 43, of 303 Peniel Road, West Monroe; Jesse Brown, 50, Negro of 2511 Wood St., Monroe; and Ernest C. Gunter, 50, of route 4, box 156 1-6, West Monroe.

Trials in two cases of operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages were reset. They included D. J. Cooper, 36, Negro of 1911 Powell Ave., Monroe, Nov. 30; and Andrew D. Trichell, 55, of route 3, box 39-B, Monroe, Nov. 16.

They included Bryant W. Beasley, 41, of 813 K St., Monroe, Dec. 7; William Kendrick Hayes, 57, of 4827 Crescent Dr., Shreveport, Nov. 30; and Bill Humble, 40, of 715 W. Ocean Blvd., Long Beach, Calif., Oct. 26.

Two persons were each fined $25 and costs on charges of reckless driving. They were Ruth Murphy Sullivan, 26, of 105 Circle Dr., West Monroe; and Alfred Bailey Jr., 18, Negro of 121 Ransom St., West Monroe.

JFK Begins Vote Tour Of Four States

CINCINNATI (UPI) — President Kennedy began a barnstorming swing through four states Friday by declaring his administration has "firmly met" challenges to the nation at home and abroad, including defiance of the federal courts.

He obviously had in mind the violence that broke out over the integration of the University of Mississippi last weekend although he did not specifically refer to the situation there.

Kennedy told his audience: "At home, the integrity of our courts has been challenged — and that challenge is being firmly met."

"Abroad, the enemies of freedom are threatening — and those threats are being met," he said.

The President said in a speech prepared for delivery at a Democratic rally at Fountain Square here that "both at home and abroad, the times call out for cool heads and calm words—for unity and strength, for cooperation and courage."

This was the theme of the first of a series of speeches the President scheduled in appearances in Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota on behalf of Democratic candidates. Before his Cincinnati speech, Kennedy made a brief talk on landing at the airport at nearby Covington, Ky.

The President renewed his insistance that "we need a Democratic Congress to move this country ahead," and he gave his endorsement to Democratic candidates for Congress and State Office in Ohio.

But Kennedy, urging all citizens to "vote wisely" in November, said at the outset that "this nation is now passing through a period of testing and trial."

"This is not a time for petty quarrels or abuse," the President said. "This is not a contest of personalities or power."

He said the election will "show the world once again that this nation is unsurpassed in its devotion to freedom — that Democracy cannot be undone by demogogues at home or dictators at home."

Britain's Labor Party Actions Help Leftists

The Laborites adopted positions on the European Common Market and on nuclear testing widely at variance with policies followed by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's conservative government and with the views held in most capitals of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Labor party took a surprisingly hostile stand on the Common Market during the week of conference deliberations in this seaside town. Leader Hugh Gaitskell urged that a decision be taken. It marked the opening of a showdown battle with Macmillan's Cabinet on the issue.

The party adopted a resolution calling for immediate suspension of nuclear weapons tests by all atomic powers. The resolution did not stress a proviso the West has always insisted upon—that an international inspection system must accompany any test ban.

Teen-Age Girls Warned About Diet Dangers

CHICAGO (UPI)—An official of the American Medical Association warned teen-age girls Friday not to try to copy the new Miss America's method of getting slim quick.

Philip L. White, secretary of the AMA's Council on Foods and Nutrition, was disturbed about the "public pronouncement" of Jacquelyn Mayer that she lost weight by skipping lunch and occasionally breakfast too.

There is no doubt this type of semi-starvation diet will take off weight, White said, but teen-agers could "end up so rundown and ripe for serious illness that they seldom do it a second time."

Fewer Near Mishaps In South Area

By WILLIAM R. MACKAYE
World Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Fewer near-collisions of airplanes were reported in the south-central United States than any other part of the country in a year-long survey done for the Federal Aviation Administration.

The survey, called project SCAN (for System of Collection and Analysis of Near-Collision Reports), was completed June 30 by the Flight Safety Foundation, Inc. Survey. Findings were disclosed Friday by Federal Aviation Administrator Najeeb E. Halaby.

The findings listed 237 near-collision reports in the southern midwest region, which includes Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

This was 9 per cent of 2,577 reports received for the nation as a whole.

The FAA commissioned the $125,000 study in order to gain statistics on near-collisions in an atmosphere where pilots would not hesitate to report such occurences for fear they might be prosecuted for flight regulation violations.

Comparatively few commercial airliners were involved in the incidents reported for the south-central region.

Of this total incidents, airliners were involved in 74 compared to 132 reports of military plane involvements and 132 of general aviation (private) aircraft.

A significant number of the reported incidents — 19 per cent — involved single-engine jet aircraft, which are exclusively military.

The survey report designated 16 per cent of the incidents as critical — situations in which the planes passed within less than 100 feet of one another or collision was averted only by chance, not by pilot action.

Halaby told newsmen the effect of the SCAN report was primarily to confirm previous FAA findings rather than to supply new information.

For the country as a whole, the FAA received 549 reports of near-collisions compared to the 2,577 received by SCAN.

Halaby siad it had not yet been determined whether the FAA would follow the SCAN recommendation that its survey be continued.

He indicated there was some doubt within the FAA whether the increased volume of reports recieved outweighed the impossibility of verifying the anonymous SCAN reports and their gaining additional information.

Longshoremen Returning To Jobs At Ports

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Longshoremen returned to their jobs in small numbers Friday in the wake of a federal court order halting a general strike resulting from a wage dispute.

One union local supplied 16 work gangs. The second local announced its members would not resume work until Saturday because of a delay in notifying them.

A spokesman for Negro Local 1419 of the International Longshoremen's Association said its 4,000 members were available, but only three stevedoring firms had called for work gangs because of non availability of ships.

Approximately 50 vessels are now in port. Full scale docks operations are expected by Monday.

The walkout had idled ports extending from Texas to Maine. The longshoremen demanded a six-hour day at the same $23.68 a day pay received for an eight-hour day under the old contract.

The shipping associations ought to reduce the number of men assigned to each work gang. Approximately 9,000 dock workers were affected in the New Orleans-Baton Rouge area.

Grand Jury Session Slated

Major offenses committed in the parish during the past six months will be investigated by the jury. Parish and state-owned buildings and institutions also will be inspected

FRIDAY SESSION

60 Cases Heard In District Court

With two courtrooms in operation, action was taken on 60 cases involving 42 persons in Fourth District Court here Friday with Judge Jesse Heard and Judge Hillyer S. Parker presiding.

Penitentiary or jail sentences were levied against 11 persons who had been remanded to Friday for sentencing.

Louis Hall, 41, of 2502 S. Grand, Monroe, was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary on a charge of aggravated arson.

Bill Harold Matlock, 19, of 3223 N. 7th St., West Monroe, was sentenced to five years each on charges of simple burglarly and attempted simple burglary, with the terms to run concurrently. He also was placed on probation for five years.

Marvin W. Matlock, 25, of 801 Crosley, West Monroe, was sentenced to three years on a charge of negligent injuring.

Auldin Troy Mayo, 47, of 1519 Robinhood Drive, Charleston, S.C., was given five years on a charge of simple robbery.

Abe Graham Chaney, 28, Negro of 1610 Breard, Monroe, was sentenced to two years each on two counts of forgery, with the terms to run concurrently.

John Henry Allen, 19, Negro of 808 Adams St., Monroe, drew a two-year jail sentence on a theft charge involving money and watches valued at $150.

Leo Shelton Bright, 17, Negro of 1616 Rear Rogers St., was sentenced to five years each on four counts of simple burglary, with the terms to run concurrently.

Hilton Roughton, 44, of Buras, drew a two-year sentence on a charge of theft involving an automobile valued at $500.

Melvin Charles Mays, 29, Negro of 100 Ridge Drive, West Monroe, was sentenced to five years on a simple burglary charge.

Wiley Colton, 28, Negro of 1101 DeSiard, Monroe, was given a three-year sentence on a charge of simple burglary.

John H. Harnar, 21, of route 2, box 123, West Monroe, was sentenced to six months in jail on a charge of theft.

A motion of quash in the case of Mattie N. Smith, 28, Negro of Sterlington who is charged with negligent homicide, was overruled. Trial was set for Nov. 6 in the case.

Charge against the Smith woman grew out of an automobile accident earlier this year which resulted in the death of Robert W. Cretney, Monroe industrial official. The two-car collision occurred on Highway 165, north of the Monroe city limits.

Trial was scheduled Feb. 20 for Calvin Gullette Jr., 34, of Sterlington, who is charged with attempted aggravated rape and crime against nature.

Three counts of forgery against Charles Davis, who already is in the penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga., were nolle prossed.

Mrs. Myrtle M. Henry, 56, of 206 S. Riverfront, West Monroe, was remanded to Oct. 10 for sentencing after being found guilty of five counts of theft.

Two persons were each fined $300 and costs and sentenced to 125 days in jail on charges of operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

They were Timothy L. Wheat, 33, of 101 Apple St., Monroe; and William C. Causey, 19, of route 2, box 141-A, Emerson, Ark.

Four other persons were each fined $300 and costs on charges of operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages.

They included Sherman Gilbert, 29, Negro of 1211 Columbia Ave., Monroe; Robert L. Rushing, 43, of 303 Peniel Road, West Monroe; Jesse Brown, 50, Negro of 2511 Wood St., Monroe; and Ernest C. Gunter, 50, of route 4, box 156 1-6, West Monroe.

The trial of Charlie William Owens, 35, Negro of route 2, box 263, Monroe, charged with operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages, was reset for Oct. 22.

Trials in two cases of operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages were reset. They included D. J. Cooper, 36, Negro of 1911 Powell Ave., Monroe, Nov. 30; and Andrew D. Trichell, 55, of route 3, box 39-B, Monroe, Nov. 16.

Three persons pleaded not guilty to charges of operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverages and their trial dates were set.

They included Bryant W. Beasley, 41, of 813 K St., Monroe, Dec. 7; William Kendrick Hayes, 57, of 4827 Crescent Dr., Shreveport, Nov. 30; and Bill Humble, 40, of 715 W. Ocean Blvd., Long Beach, Calif., Oct. 26.

Two persons were each fined $25 and costs on charges of reckless driving. They were Ruth Murphy Sullivan, 26, of 105 Circle Dr., West Monroe; and Alfred Bailey Jr., 18, Negro of 121 Ransom St., West Monroe.

Bailey also was fined $25 and costs on a charge of negligent injuring.

Maxel Manning, 23, Negro of 402 Parker St., West Monroe, was sentenced to 90 days in jail on a charge of simple battery.

Daniel Cox, 31, Negro of 16-C Foster Homes, Monroe, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to six months in jail on a charge of simple battery. The jail sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation.

One persons was fined $25 and costs on a charge of disturbing the peace and also was sentenced to five days in jail for contempt.

JFK Begins Vote Tour Of Four States

CINCINNATI (UPI) — President Kennedy began a barnstorming swing through four states Friday by declaring his administration has "firmly met" challenges to the nation at home and abroad, including defiance of the federal courts.

He obviously had in mind the violence that broke out over the integration of the University of Mississippi last weekend although he did not specifically refer to the situation there.

Kennedy told his audience: "At home, the integrity of our courts has been challenged — and that challenge is being firmly met."

"Abroad, the enemies of freedom are threatening — and those threats are being met," he said.

The President said in a speech prepared for delivery at a Democratic rally at Fountain Square here that "both at home and abroad, the times call out for cool heads and calm words—for unity and strength, for cooperation and courage."

This was the theme of the first of a series of speeches the President scheduled in appearances in Ohio, Michigan and Minnesota on behalf of Democratic candidates. Before his Cincinnati speech, Kennedy made a brief talk on landing at the airport at nearby Covington, Ky.

He flew there from Andrews Air Force Base outside Washington, apparently recovered from a head cold which compelled him to cancel appointments Thursday.

In calling for unity and cooperation, Kennedy told his Cincinnati audience: "It is in this spirit that I undertake this fall campaign."

The President renewed his insistance that "we need a Democratic Congress to move this country ahead," and he gave his endorsement to Democratic candidates for Congress and State Office in Ohio.

But Kennedy, urging all citizens to "vote wisely" in November, said at the outset that "this nation is now passing through a period of testing and trial."

"This is not a time for petty quarrels or abuse," the President said. "This is not a contest of personalities or power."

He said the election will "show the world once again that this nation is unsurpassed in its devotion to freedom — that Democracy cannot be undone by demogogues at home or dictators at home."

Britain's Labor Party Actions Help Leftists

The Laborites adopted positions on the European Common Market and on nuclear testing widely at variance with policies followed by Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's conservative government and with the views held in most capitals of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The Labor party took a surprisingly hostile stand on the Common Market during the week of conference deliberations in this seaside town. Leader Hugh Gaitskell urged that a decision be taken. It marked the opening of a showdown battle with Macmillan's Cabinet on the issue.

Then, in the closing hours of the conference, the Laborites extended a comforting hand to ban-the-bomb elements in Britain.

The party adopted a resolution calling for immediate suspension of nuclear weapons tests by all atomic powers. The resolution did not stress a proviso the West has always insisted upon—that an international inspection system must accompany any test ban.

Teen-Age Girls Warned About Diet Dangers

CHICAGO (UPI)—An official of the American Medical Association warned teen-age girls Friday not to try to copy the new Miss America's method of getting slim quick.

Philip L. White, secretary of the AMA's Council on Foods and Nutrition, was disturbed about the "public pronouncement" of Jacquelyn Mayer that she lost weight by skipping lunch and occasionally breakfast too.

There is no doubt this type of semi-starvation diet will take off weight, White said, but teen-agers could "end up so rundown and ripe for serious illness that they seldom do it a second time."

JUDGING AT NIGHT

Fair To Begin Run Here Monday

Junior livestock judging at the Ouachita Valley Fair will take place at night this year for the first time, fair manager John Birdsong has announced.

About 50,000 persons are expected at this year's fair which gets underway Monday and continues through next Saturday.

The fair itself will open its gates to the public at 5 p.m. Monday. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

"Judging will begin at 5 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday, so that more people will be able to attend," Birdsong stated.

The new time will enable most businessmen to view the judging of the animals and should also keep the youngsters entering animals from missing too much school.

Approximately 450 animals will be entered by 4-H Club members and Future Farmers of America from eight parishes.

"Exhibitioners will be here from Union, Morehouse, West Carroll, Richland, Franklin, Caldwell, Jackson and Ouachita," the fair manager pointed out.

He broke down the total entrants to about 200 hogs, 60 dairy animals, 60 beef animals and 80-100 sheep.

The fairgrounds will be open from 8 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. daily.

Dairy judging begins at 5 p.m. Tuesday. Breeding sheep and lamb judging will start at 6 p.m.

The sale of junior animals will be at 1 p.m. Friday. The quarter horse show will start about 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

Starting at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, judges will select the best booths, corn, sweet potatoes, baked goods, food preservation including canned goods, jellies, preserves, home demonstration club entries, farm products, flowers, ceramics and clothing.

Birdsong said that the stock barn and facilities have been enlarged and improved with a 45 by 200 foot addition.

"We're in good shape," he said. "We've got fresh paint on the buildings and new draperies."

Next Wednesday, all youngsters from the Baptist Children's Home, plus mentally retarded and cerebral palsy children will be guests of the fair.

Friday afternoon, starting at 1 p.m., and all day Saturday, reduced rates will apply to all youngsters age 12 and under.

A full - scale model of the X-15 experimental research airplane which has flown at speeds in excess of 4,000 mph and at an altitude of nearly 50 miles will be on display.

Midway attractions will include two new rides — the round - up and the turnpike — and nightly auto 'loop - the - loop' by Captain Cresso.

Yuletide Mailing For Overseas Suggested Early

The Post Office has urged that such items be posted between Nov. 1 and 20, though air mail parcels may be sent as late as Dec. 10, Roark said.

The postmaster further recommended strongly a check with his office prior to packaging of overseas items due to customs requirements and bans on mailing of certain classes of material.

Requirements for packaging also are more stringent.

"We suggest that gifts be packed in wood or metal boxes, or at least in strong double - faced cardboard," Roark said.

Addresses should be written on either in crayon or ink, including in every instance a return address. Officials suggest as well that both addresses be placed on a slip of paper within the wrapping.

"In this way, if the wrapper is torn loose, the package can still be sent right on," said the postmaster.

Sister Of Local Resident Dies; Services Today

BERNICE (Special) — Funeral services for Mrs. Eula O'Bannon, 72, sister of a West Monroe woman, will be held in the Bernice Baptist Church today at 10 a.m., with the Rev. R. B. Middleton officiating. Interment will follow in the Bernice Cemetery under the direction of Kilpatrick's Funeral Home of West Monroe.

Mrs. O'Bannon, sister of Mrs. Ross Ferguson of West Monroe, died Friday morning in the Ridgecrest Nursing Home, Monroe, where she had been a patient the past three months.

Other survivors include three sons, Sam O'Bannon, Dothan, Ala.; Jack H. O'Bannon, Alvin, Tex.; and Billy O'Bannon, Bernice; one other sister, Mrs. E. J. Gulley, Marion; and four grandchildren.

Pipeline Plans Are Announced

Construction by the Ashland Oil — Refining Company and Placid Oil Company of Shreveport of a 67 - mile crude oil pipeline from Searcy to Delhi is set to begin this weekend.

Potential capacity of the 12-inch diameter line will be 60,000 barrels a day, while initial throughput is expected to touch around 14,000 barrels a day.

Officials of the two companies, partners in a new corporation called Parish Pipe Line Company, estimate completion of the project by the end of the year. Contractor is O. R. Burden Construction Corporation of Tulsa, Okla.

Hog Marking, Penning Slated At Forest Fete

WINNFIELD (Special) — Wild Boar Marking and Wild Hog Penning competition at the annual Louisiana Forest Festival enters the final phases here tonight, to be highlighted by the crowning of the World Champion Hog Dog.

Competition in both categories got underway Thursday night. Leaders so far are Travis Taylor of Winnfield who marked "Old Blue" in four minutes, 35 seconds, and "Uncle Dan" Carter, also of Winnfield, who with his dog penned a wild sow and four shoats in two minutes, 55 seconds.

Contest chairman W. C. Cummings has offered a special prize tonight to anyone marking "Dynamite," called by Cummings, "the wildest boar in Winn Parish."

Another tough hog on tonight's program, officials predict, is the "Tannehill Terror," a boar James A. "Tough" Long of Winnfield was unable to mark in early competition Thursday.

Six entries are expected in both events.

The World Champion Hog Dog, taken from penning competition, will be selected on the bases of obedience, efficiency and breed characteristics. Only Catahoula Curs are eligible.

A highlight of Friday's program at the festival, according to observers, was a cross - tie cutting exhibition performed by 71 year old J. H. "Blacky" Jourdan of Winnfield. Cutting ties on a contract basis for the past 55 years, Jourdan hewed a 12-foot cross - tie from a log in 47 minutes.

Jourdan cuts from eight to 10 ties a day on the job.

JUDGING AT NIGHT

Fair To Begin Run Here Monday

Junior livestock judging at the Ouachita Valley Fair will take place at night this year for the first time, fair manager John Birdsong has announced.

About 50,000 persons are expected at this year's fair which gets underway Monday and continues through next Saturday.

The fair itself will open its gates to the public at 5 p.m. Monday. Admission will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

"Judging will begin at 5 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday, so that more people will be able to attend," Birdsong stated.

The new time will enable most businessmen to view the judging of the animals and should also keep the youngsters entering animals from missing too much school.

Approximately 450 animals will be entered by 4-H Club members and Future Farmers of America from eight parishes.

"Exhibitioners will be here from Union, Morehouse, West Carroll, Richland, Franklin, Caldwell, Jackson and Ouachita," the fair manager pointed out.

He broke down the total entrants to about 200 hogs, 60 dairy animals, 60 beef animals and 80-100 sheep.

The fairgrounds will be open from 8 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. daily.

Dairy judging begins at 5 p.m. Tuesday. Breeding sheep and lamb judging will start at 6 p.m.

Wednesday, hog judging gets underway at 5 p.m., with breeding beef and steers starting at the same time Thursday.

The sale of junior animals will be at 1 p.m. Friday. The quarter horse show will start about 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

Starting at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, judges will select the best booths, corn, sweet potatoes, baked goods, food preservation including canned goods, jellies, preserves, home demonstration club entries, farm products, flowers, ceramics and clothing.

Birdsong said that the stock barn and facilities have been enlarged and improved with a 45 by 200 foot addition.

"We're in good shape," he said. "We've got fresh paint on the buildings and new draperies."

Next Wednesday, all youngsters from the Baptist Children's Home, plus mentally retarded and cerebral palsy children will be guests of the fair.

Friday afternoon, starting at 1 p.m., and all day Saturday, reduced rates will apply to all youngsters age 12 and under.

A full - scale model of the X-15 experimental research airplane which has flown at speeds in excess of 4,000 mph and at an altitude of nearly 50 miles will be on display.

Midway attractions will include two new rides — the round - up and the turnpike — and nightly auto 'loop - the - loop' by Captain Cresso.

Yuletide Mailing For Overseas Suggested Early

The Post Office has urged that such items be posted between Nov. 1 and 20, though air mail parcels may be sent as late as Dec. 10, Roark said.

The postmaster further recommended strongly a check with his office prior to packaging of overseas items due to customs requirements and bans on mailing of certain classes of material.

Requirements for packaging also are more stringent.

"We suggest that gifts be packed in wood or metal boxes, or at least in strong double - faced cardboard," Roark said.

Addresses should be written on either in crayon or ink, including in every instance a return address. Officials suggest as well that both addresses be placed on a slip of paper within the wrapping.

"In this way, if the wrapper is torn loose, the package can still be sent right on," said the postmaster.

Sister Of Local Resident Dies; Services Today

BERNICE (Special) — Funeral services for Mrs. Eula O'Bannon, 72, sister of a West Monroe woman, will be held in the Bernice Baptist Church today at 10 a.m., with the Rev. R. B. Middleton officiating. Interment will follow in the Bernice Cemetery under the direction of Kilpatrick's Funeral Home of West Monroe.

Mrs. O'Bannon, sister of Mrs. Ross Ferguson of West Monroe, died Friday morning in the Ridgecrest Nursing Home, Monroe, where she had been a patient the past three months.

Other survivors include three sons, Sam O'Bannon, Dothan, Ala.; Jack H. O'Bannon, Alvin, Tex.; and Billy O'Bannon, Bernice; one other sister, Mrs. E. J. Gulley, Marion; and four grandchildren.

Pipeline Plans Are Announced

Construction by the Ashland Oil — Refining Company and Placid Oil Company of Shreveport of a 67 - mile crude oil pipeline from Searcy to Delhi is set to begin this weekend.

Potential capacity of the 12-inch diameter line will be 60,000 barrels a day, while initial throughput is expected to touch around 14,000 barrels a day.

Officials of the two companies, partners in a new corporation called Parish Pipe Line Company, estimate completion of the project by the end of the year. Contractor is O. R. Burden Construction Corporation of Tulsa, Okla.

Hog Marking, Penning Slated At Forest Fete

WINNFIELD (Special) — Wild Boar Marking and Wild Hog Penning competition at the annual Louisiana Forest Festival enters the final phases here tonight, to be highlighted by the crowning of the World Champion Hog Dog.

Competition in both categories got underway Thursday night. Leaders so far are Travis Taylor of Winnfield who marked "Old Blue" in four minutes, 35 seconds, and "Uncle Dan" Carter, also of Winnfield, who with his dog penned a wild sow and four shoats in two minutes, 55 seconds.

Contest chairman W. C. Cummings has offered a special prize tonight to anyone marking "Dynamite," called by Cummings, "the wildest boar in Winn Parish."

Another tough hog on tonight's program, officials predict, is the "Tannehill Terror," a boar James A. "Tough" Long of Winnfield was unable to mark in early competition Thursday.

Six entries are expected in both events.

The World Champion Hog Dog, taken from penning competition, will be selected on the bases of obedience, efficiency and breed characteristics. Only Catahoula Curs are eligible.

A highlight of Friday's program at the festival, according to observers, was a cross - tie cutting exhibition performed by 71 year old J. H. "Blacky" Jourdan of Winnfield. Cutting ties on a contract basis for the past 55 years, Jourdan hewed a 12-foot cross - tie from a log in 47 minutes.

Jourdan cuts from eight to 10 ties a day on the job.

ADMITS FATAL SHOOTING

Socialite Ordered Jailed In Slaying

BOSTON (AP) — Seemingly dazed, a small, blonde post-debutante stood in Municipal Court where a judge ordered her jailed Friday pending grand jury consideration of a charge that she murdered the man she had talked of marrying.

Suzanne Clift, 21, was quoted by police as saying she shot to death Piero Brentani, 27, Italian electronic engineer. But they said she offered no reason.

The nude body of the handsome, 6-foot Brentani was found Wednesday beneath a sheet on a bed in Suzanne's locked bedroom.

Police said they were told by the girl that she killed Brentani Monday and left the apartment Tuesday for an airplane flight to Brazil and return, accompanied only by her pet dachshund.

Miss Clift, a niece of movie actor Montgomery Clift, had met Brentani on a blind date two years ago. They had been friends since.

Recently, Brentani, holder of degrees from a Swiss university and Harvard, resigned his position with the announced intention of vacationing in Florence, Italy, and then taking a job in California.

He already had vacated his Cambridge rooms when the slaying occurred.

Brentani was born in Dresden, Germany. His parents are reported living in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The brief court hearing followed Miss Clift's return by train Thursday from New York, still carrying her dog.

Seemingly confused, she shuttled by cab from the railroad station to her home, and then, without entering, to a hotel where she turned the dog over to the cab driver. He went to police.

Her counsel suggested mental tests, but the judge told him these could be arranged after her Superior Court arraignment.

After the Municipal Court hearing she was lodged, without bail, in Suffolk County jail.

Police said they had discovered that the small pistol with which Brentani was slain had been taken by Miss Clift last summer while she was a house guest in Philadelphia where she went to attend a friend's wedding.

Police further said that earlier—May 29—Miss Clift had applied at Boston police headquarters for a permit to carry a pistol.

They said she was unable to support her statement that she belonged to a gun club and was denied the permit on grounds of immaturity. They said issuance of a permit would have entitled her to purchase a pistol.

Homes Parade Will Conclude This Weekend

The concluding phase of the Parade of Homes in the Twin Cities will take place today and Sunday.

Fourteen new homes in the parade, sponsored by the Northeast Louisiana Association of Homebuilders, will be open to the public during the hours of 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. on both days.

The show opened last weekend, and a large number of persons inspected the homes on the first two days, according to parade officials.

Plan books showing all of the houses in the show will be available to visitors. The houses constructed by 12 builders, feature a number of new designs and types of materials.

M. E. (Red) Gross is president of the Northeast Louisiana Association of Home Builders, and Wallace R. Reitzell is chairman of the Parade of Homes Committee.

Negro Coed Is Rejected By Ole Miss

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Registrar Robert B. Ellis revealed Friday that many Negroes have made inquiries and written letters about attending the University of Mississippi.

But, he added in an interview, there are no applications from Negroes pending at Ole Miss.

Ellis said the application of Alfanette Bracey, Negro coed from Jackson State College, was refused because it was incomplete.

He said Miss Bracey's application for admission to the 114-year-old university, desegregated this week by James H. Meredith, was not completed and a full transcript was not supplied university officials. A letter has been written Miss Bracey, he said, informing her of receipt of the application but there has since been no other correspondence.

"Her application, along with others from white students, was put on the inactive list and if she expects to go to school here she must make out a new application," Ellis said.

He revealed that one other application received from an Alabama man, whom he did not identify, for the summer session was turned down.

"This man," Ellis said, "had a college degree, a masters degree in modern foreign languages, taught French in college and studied at the Sorbonne in Paris. He wanted a doctors degree in language which we didn't give. The professor of fine languages here advised him that he (the Negro) already had much more than we could offer."

Ellis said there also had been many inquiries and letters from persons identifying themselves as Negro students who were interested in attending Ole Miss.

Both attended the same Sunday school and then later, the same church. They were married in 1892 and he now is 92 and she is 88. Both are in good health. Sell said of their marriage: "It has been a give and take proposition. We've had a very nice life. (AP Wirephoto)

British Oppose JFK Plans For Cuba Shipping Boycott

LONDON (AP)—Britain has her back up over President Kennedy's plans for an international shipping boycott on Cuba.

"It's unjustifiable in international law and unworkable in practice," one government authority gumbled Friday night. "The United States is being left in no doubt about our views."

One Kennedy order, expected within a fortnight, would close American ports to all the ships of any country if one of its vessels carried arms to Cuba.

"This would allow the Russians to plant weapons in crates marked 'margerine' carried by British charter ships," another government man said. "And if, as the Russians would hope, this was discovered the Americans then would be bound to bar the Queen Mary from entering New York."

The British were given an outline of the President's plans Tuesday. They and six other European nations which got the same warning were invited to comment on the action program. This the British are in the process of doing now.

Nearly all knowledgeable authorities here are suggesting that Washington should remember that freedom to trade, use the seas and to provide services is one of Britain's first articles of faith. Without it, these people insist, the nation would have to go out of business.

Thus a clash of British-American views is building up—not in attitudes toward Castro, whom the British dislike intensely, but as to the best way to prevent Cuba from becoming a center of Communist subversion in the Caribbean.

Officials say Britain certainly is checking to see if new curbs can legally be imposed to limit charters of British ships by the Soviet bloc. But, they add, the United States is being told also there simply is no legislation available or in prospect to ban normal civilian trade and traffic with Castro.

The British say Castro has committed no act of open hostility. Therefore, to organize an economic or shipping boycott against him would be to infringe upon freedom of the seas.

In addition, in London's view, turning the boycott screws on Castro will enhance his popular appeal. Britons argue he will be able to pose as a martyr and claim the Soviet bloc is helping Cubans while the West is harming them.

BOSTON (AP) — Seemingly dazed, a small, blonde post-debutante stood in Municipal Court where a judge ordered her jailed Friday pending grand jury consideration of a charge that she murdered the man she had talked of marrying.

Suzanne Clift, 21, was quoted by police as saying she shot to death Piero Brentani, 27, Italian electronic engineer. But they said she offered no reason.

The nude body of the handsome, 6-foot Brentani was found Wednesday beneath a sheet on a bed in Suzanne's locked bedroom.

Police said they were told by the girl that she killed Brentani Monday and left the apartment Tuesday for an airplane flight to Brazil and return, accompanied only by her pet dachshund.

The return of her social-register grandmother, Barbara Pierce Pearmain, from her summer home on Cape Cod led to the discovery of the slaying. Suzanne occupied quarters in her grandmother's Beacon Hill home.

Miss Clift, a niece of movie actor Montgomery Clift, had met Brentani on a blind date two years ago. They had been friends since.

Recently, Brentani, holder of degrees from a Swiss university and Harvard, resigned his position with the announced intention of vacationing in Florence, Italy, and then taking a job in California. He already had vacated his Cambridge rooms when the slaying occurred.

Brentani was born in Dresden, Germany. His parents are reported living in Sao Paulo, Brazil.

The brief court hearing followed Miss Clift's return by train Thursday from New York, still carrying her dog.

Seemingly confused, she shuttled by cab from the railroad station to her home, and then, without entering, to a hotel where she turned the dog over to the cab driver. He went to police.

Her counsel suggested mental tests, but the judge told him these could be arranged after her Superior Court arraignment.

After the Municipal Court hearing she was lodged, without bail, in Suffolk County jail.

Police said they had discovered that the small pistol with which Brentani was slain had been taken by Miss Clift last summer while she was a house guest in Philadelphia where she went to attend a friend's wedding.

Police further said that earlier—May 29—Miss Clift had applied at Boston police headquarters for a permit to carry a pistol.

They said she was unable to support her statement that she belonged to a gun club and was denied the permit on grounds of immaturity. They said issuance of a permit would have entitled her to purchase a pistol.

Homes Parade Will Conclude This Weekend

The concluding phase of the Parade of Homes in the Twin Cities will take place today and Sunday.

Fourteen new homes in the parade, sponsored by the Northeast Louisiana Association of Homebuilders, will be open to the public during the hours of 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. on both days.

The show opened last weekend, and a large number of persons inspected the homes on the first two days, according to parade officials.

Plan books showing all of the houses in the show will be available to visitors. The houses constructed by 12 builders, feature a number of new designs and types of materials.

M. E. (Red) Gross is president of the Northeast Louisiana Association of Home Builders, and Wallace R. Reitzell is chairman of the Parade of Homes Committee.

Negro Coed Is Rejected By Ole Miss

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Registrar Robert B. Ellis revealed Friday that many Negroes have made inquiries and written letters about attending the University of Mississippi.

But, he added in an interview, there are no applications from Negroes pending at Ole Miss.

Ellis said the application of Alfanette Bracey, Negro coed from Jackson State College, was refused because it was incomplete.

He said Miss Bracey's application for admission to the 114-year-old university, desegregated this week by James H. Meredith, was not completed and a full transcript was not supplied university officials. A letter has been written Miss Bracey, he said, informing her of receipt of the application but there has since been no other correspondence.

"Her application, along with others from white students, was put on the inactive list and if she expects to go to school here she must make out a new application," Ellis said.

He revealed that one other application received from an Alabama man, whom he did not identify, for the summer session was turned down.

"This man," Ellis said, "had a college degree, a masters degree in modern foreign languages, taught French in college and studied at the Sorbonne in Paris. He wanted a doctors degree in language which we didn't give. The professor of fine languages here advised him that he (the Negro) already had much more than we could offer."

Ellis said there also had been many inquiries and letters from persons identifying themselves as Negro students who were interested in attending Ole Miss.

Both attended the same Sunday school and then later, the same church. They were married in 1892 and he now is 92 and she is 88. Both are in good health. Sell said of their marriage: "It has been a give and take proposition. We've had a very nice life. (AP Wirephoto)

British Oppose JFK Plans For Cuba Shipping Boycott

LONDON (AP)—Britain has her back up over President Kennedy's plans for an international shipping boycott on Cuba.

"It's unjustifiable in international law and unworkable in practice," one government authority gumbled Friday night. "The United States is being left in no doubt about our views."

The President ordered a crackdown on ships of all nations carrying Soviet-bloc military and civilian supplies to Fidel Castro's regime.

One Kennedy order, expected within a fortnight, would close American ports to all the ships of any country if one of its vessels carried arms to Cuba.

"This would allow the Russians to plant weapons in crates marked 'margerine' carried by British charter ships," another government man said. "And if, as the Russians would hope, this was discovered the Americans then would be bound to bar the Queen Mary from entering New York."

The British were given an outline of the President's plans Tuesday. They and six other European nations which got the same warning were invited to comment on the action program. This the British are in the process of doing now.

Nearly all knowledgeable authorities here are suggesting that Washington should remember that freedom to trade, use the seas and to provide services is one of Britain's first articles of faith. Without it, these people insist, the nation would have to go out of business.

Thus a clash of British-American views is building up—not in attitudes toward Castro, whom the British dislike intensely, but as to the best way to prevent Cuba from becoming a center of Communist subversion in the Caribbean.

Officials say Britain certainly is checking to see if new curbs can legally be imposed to limit charters of British ships by the Soviet bloc. But, they add, the United States is being told also there simply is no legislation available or in prospect to ban normal civilian trade and traffic with Castro.

The British say Castro has committed no act of open hostility. Therefore, to organize an economic or shipping boycott against him would be to infringe upon freedom of the seas.

In addition, in London's view, turning the boycott screws on Castro will enhance his popular appeal. Britons argue he will be able to pose as a martyr and claim the Soviet bloc is helping Cubans while the West is harming them.

I'M LOCKED OUT! NOBODY HOME AND I HAVEN'T GOT MY KEY
MAYBE BLONDIE LEFT THE KEY IN THE MAILBOX FOR ME -- NOPE IT'S NOT THERE
I'VE LOOKED EVERY POSSIBLE PLACE SHE MIGHT HIDE A KEY, BUT NO LUCK
WELL, I GUESS I'LL JUST HAVE TO SIT HERE ON THE STOOP AND WAIT FOR HER TO GET HOME
WHAT'S GOING ON ?
I'VE BEEN HERE AN HOUR WAITING FOR BLONDIE -- SHE FORGOT TO LEAVE A KEY FOR ME
DID YOU LOOK UNDER THE DOOR MAT ?
NO BECAUSE I'VE TAUGHT HER NEVER TO HIDE A KEY UNDER THE DOOR MAT, BECAUSE THAT'S THE FIRST PLACE A BURGLAR WOULD LOOK
THERE'S YOUR KEY -- SHE HID IT UNDER THE MAT
WELL BELIEVE ME, SHE'S GOING TO HEAR PLENTY ABOUT THIS WHEN SHE GETS HOME
I'VE TOLD YOU A HUNDRED TIMES NEVER TO HIDE THE KEY UNDER THE DOOR MAT! WHY DID YOU DO IT ?
WELL, BURGLARS ARE SMART, TOO -- THEY KNOW PEOPLE NEVER HIDE KEYS UNDER DOOR MATS, BECAUSE THAT'S THE FIRST PLACE THEY LOOK
SO, I FIGURED NO BURGLAR WOULD BOTHER TO LOOK UNDER THE MAT

HEY! WHO PUT GRASS ON MY 'TATOES?
THAT'S PARSLEY, DENNIS!
I TAKE IT THAT I'M THE ONLY ONE WHO LIKES TO EAT BY CANDLELIGHT?
OH, I WOULDN'T SAY THAT, MOM!
YOU LIKE IT NOW?
NO. BUT I KNOW SOMEBODY WHO REALLY LIKES DARK DINNERS. WHERE NOBODY CAN SEE NOBODY!!
YOU DO. WHO?
OH, A FRIEND OF MINE!
HE SOUNDS ROMANTIC. OR IS IT A SHE?
HE'S A HE. AN' I DON'T THINK HE'S ROMANTIC. HE'S JUST CAREFUL!

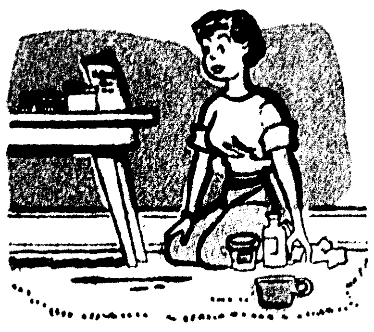
hints from Heloise

DEAR FOLKS:

Stop, look and listen!

So many of you have written to me wanting to know how to remove a certain stain from your carpets and rugs that I now have the answer to most of your problems.



The National Institute of Rug Cleaning and I have a great big surprise for all who read this column. Guess what? We have compiled a free booklet for you that is a dilly. It tells all the different ways to spot-clean your rugs and carpets when accidents happen, using common household products.

It also gives you hints on carpet care . . . tells you how to store rugs and discourage moths and carpet beetles.

Listen, Mothers, next Friday is Columbus Day. Most schools are out and the neighborhood children are in . . . your house. Are you sure you know what to do if the ice cream slides out of the dish onto the rug . . . or if the mustard misses the bun and the pop bottles spray all over? If you're not sure . . . be careful!

I have been through rug-cleaning plants and have seen permanent damage resulting from improper attempts by some housewives to remove spots from rugs . . . and some of these carpets can't even be dyed satisfactorily. Once the stain is permanently set there isn't much even a professional cleaner can do.

So don't put anything on your carpets if you don't know exactly what to use. Don't set a permanent spot in your rug when it can be prevented with the proper method. The secret is in knowing what the spot is . . . which method to use . . . and exactly how to use it.

We have compiled this booklet especially for you, because I could write columns and columns and still not hit your particular stain problem. But this little 12-page booklet covers all kinds of stains.

It's called HELOISE'S HINTS ON RUG AND CARPET CARE and is endorsed by the National Institute of Rug Cleaning.

If you want one of these FREE booklets, send a POST CARD with your name and address clearly printed to HELOISE'S RUG BOOKLET, c/o this paper.

Gals, send for it while it is available so that you will be prepared if an accident happens in your home. The booklet costs you nothing, but think how much your rug cost!

A rug isn't something we buy every day, so get on the ball and send a POST CARD today for our rug booklet . . . yours and mine. That's it!

DEAR HELOISE:

To reheat biscuits or rolls to the right temperature for the dinner table, put them in the top of a double broiler, cover with aluminum foil, and then place the lid on top. This will prevent the moisture which usually accumulates on the inside of the lid from dripping on the biscuits and making them soggy.

Dorth

DEAR HELOISE:

Why should women iron curtain panels? Don't they know that they can wash them and place them right back on the curtain rods while still wet? Don't gather. Just leave them spread straight and take a yardstick or another curtain rod from another window and place in the bottom hem!

The panels will dry far straighter than if they had been pressed on any ironing board.

Heloise, you can test this to prove that I am right. Starch can also be used with this method. No need to sprinkle, roll and iron, only to have them crooked on the window. Why waste all this time and energy? I've used my method for years.

27 Windows

HELP FOR HOMEMAKERS

DEAR HELOISE:

There are four in our family. We often eat TV dinners. Our problem was that the pan got so hot during cooking that it nearly ruined our dining room table top. I now keep four little pieces of corrugated cardboard — the exact size as the bottom of the TV dinner container — in my kitchen drawer.

When the dinners are ready for removal from the oven, I use the cardboard to lay the tray on as it comes from the oven. I take tray, cardboard and all to the dining room table. Saves burned hands and damaged table tops. And the cardboard doesn't show at all. These pieces of cardboard should be covered with foil. Looks real pretty.

DEAR HELOISE:

Girls who sew and make machine-made button holes might like to know that it is a good idea to take the garment to the kitchen and use a razor blade on a breadboard to cut the center of the button hole.

Scissors often make nasty, unwanted cuts.

Mrs. U. R.

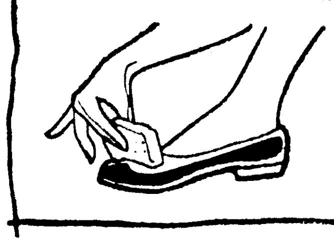
DEAR HELOISE:

The one thing that is really hard to wash is charred shish kebab skewers. I have found that if I push them through a soap-filled pad before the pad is wet, they come clean quick as a flash, with no trouble. Wash as usual.

Danny Kirville

SUEDE DUSTER



DEAR HELOISE:

M. C.

NEWSPAPER TRICK

DEAR HELOISE:

I have a helpful hint for harassed mothers that is part household and part psychology.

When children's "junk" drawers need cleaning to make room for more of the same . . . use this method:

I remove the drawer and dump the contents on an open newspaper. Then I call the child (or my husband?) whose drawer it is and say: "Now pick out the things you wish to keep and put them back in the drawer."

It is surprising how many items are left lying on the newspaper! I find this method works so much better than asking them to remove the things they do not want from the drawer.

Helen Stome

This feature is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint, problem or suggestion you'd like to share . . . write to Heloise today in care of this newspaper.
